Sporting Editor at Church.

The religious editor of the Chickasha (I. T.) Express took a vacation and as he had no one to leave in his place he asked the sporting editor—the one who reported the ball games a few weeks ago—to attend church and report the sermon. Here is what he wrote, unblemished by the editorial blue pencil: "The weather was perfect and the grandstand and bleachers were packed. The Rev. Dr. ——— was in the box for the Christians, and he certainly had everything in the book. When he tackled the New Jerusalem he used the slow ball artistically, but when he warmed up on hades he had speed to burn and whipped them over like a shot. He had swell control, and never lost sight of the plate for a minute, especially after it had been passed around. The choir did a good deal of rooting for the players' bench, and occasionly a voice from the bleachers yelled 'Amen!' Although it was an extra inning game he never let up for a minute and had the visitors properly hooked up throughout, putting some of them to sleep. If he can only keep the pace, the big league for him next season,"

The new clergyman was invited to dine with the family the other Sunday, and 8-year old Willie, of course, made himself conspicious during his stay. He seemed to be deeply impressed with the minister, and never let his eyes stray from him. He manifested as much interest as his elders in what he said, but regarded the minister with a somewhat sorrowful expression, which was altogether uncalled for, as he was of a jovial disposition and greatly amused his hearers. As the minister was about to leave, Willie meekly approached him and sadly said:

Why—why—how does it feel to be poor?"

"What do you mean, Willie?" laughingly asked the minister, turning to the parents with an amused smile.

"Why, I heard papa say to mamma that you was a mighty poor preacher," was Willie's startling declaration.—Lippincott's.

Teacher was explaining the meaning of the word recuperate. "Now Willie," she said, "if your father worked hard all day, he would be tired and all worn out, wouldn't he?"

"Yes'm."

"Then when night comes, and his work is over for the day, what does he do?"

"That's what ma wants to know."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There is nothing that more conclusively demonstrates the enterprise of a town than a display of advertising—in the home paper—the local merchants, says the Lakeview Examiner, and that's right.

The report that Russia is rushing balloons to Port Arthur leads an exchange to remark that this seems to be the only means of escape.

An ovation has been given Vice- Admiral Skrydloff on his safe return. Ovations of this character and for this cause are becoming rare in Russia, says the Telegram.

It is stated that Kentucky colonels are not numerous at the World's fair at St Louis, the cause being that it costs $5 for four drinks. They are staying at home.

When a man marries a second time, the neighbors hang around to see if his first wife's children call his second wife "mother."

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach and contributes nurishment, strength and health to every organ of the body.
