It seems strange that our readers do not take particular notice of the advertisements which would give them valuable information regarding purchases and save them money.

In the public land face another scene is now being enacted which has created nine new high salaried offices for the people to bear in addition to losing the public domain as rapidly as corporations can secure titles to it, says the East Oregonian.

Withdrawn for Irrigation Purposes

Government engineers have found another irrigation project in Eastern Oregon that seems to offer attractive features. At their request, about 200,000 acres of land on the Owyhee River in Malheur County have been temporarily withdrawn, pending a detailed examination to determine definitely whether this land can be irrigated by the government at a reasonable cost.

GARRETT-CALDWELL NUPTIALS.

One of the most beautiful home weddings of the season took place last Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Caldwell when their daughter, Dora and Mr. J. T. Garrett were married in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends.

John Caldwell, brother of the bride, played the wedding march and the contracting parties took their place under an arch of evergreens attended by Chester Smith and wife as best man and bride's maid.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests were seated to an elegant dinner.

The happy couple are among our most popular young people and start life under very favorable circumstances and with the best wishes of a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett went at once to their new home which "T" had already prepared for his bride. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith, silver berry dish; Dr. and Mrs. Burrow, parlor rocker; Mr. and Mrs. Simon Lewis, clock; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson, Silver fruit stand; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King, silver knives and forks; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barrows, China cracker bowl, cake plate and six pie plates; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Cheney, wash bowl and pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Miller, parlor table; Schwartz & Budelman, large rug; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Caldwell, silver tea and table spoons and cow; Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson, set cups saucers and plates; Johnnie Caldwell, silver tea set; Tule circle, cut glass dish; Mrs. Cardwell, carving set; Mr. Brenton, silver pickle fork; Mrs. Jameson, silver pie knife; D. Jameson, set plates and vegetable dishes; Boots Smith, silver oyster ladle; Mr. and Mrs. H. Reed, silver butter knife and sugar spoon; Knoles Reed, set sauce dishes; Grover Jameson, set glasses; Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Biggs, set table linen; Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Hopkins, large tea cloth, Mexican drawn work; Miss Clayte and Ruby Burrow, large embroidery center piece; Chas. Veogly, soup tureen and ladle; Bertha and Greta Brenton, silk piano scarf; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Williams, cow and calf; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vulgamore, bed spread; Corda Cecil Sofa pillow, Grandma Caldwell, center piece and bed comforter; China Tom silk crepe shawl; Tom Chinaman, silk shawl; Grandma Haskell, basket ripe tomatoes; N. Brown & Sons, large rug; Mrs. Jane McClintock, house plant; Mr. Clevering, mirror, Julius Mayer and wife, of Portland, barrel of dishes.

Will Cummins and family have returned from their outing in the Cascade mountains. They report a fine trip.

M. N. Fegly is over from his home on the Owyhee on business. He reports Mrs. Fegly and Carl enjoying good health.

arrived home yesterday from Anderson Valley. Mr. Hyde just completed the stone work of a large reservoir for Ames Mahon.

Hank Felton and Miss Veda Lyons arrived here today from Klamath Falls. They had been touring with the Meade & Harvey Dramatic Co. and left the troupe at the above place.

The Windsor, under the management of C. B. Smith & Co., is one of the most popular resorts in the interior. Finest of liquors and cigars, billiards and card tables and expert mixologists.

Drs. Marsden & Geary yesterday removed a tumor from Bart Cronin's right cheek which had been bothering him for some time. Mr. Cronin feels no bad effects from the operation and is doing well.

Rev. J. W. Sage and wife arrived here last Sunday in company with his brother, E. B. Reed. Rev. Sage is conducting a series of meetings at the Baptist church in this city and expects to continue next week. His home is in Baker county.

Married—Sunday, August 14, at the Dickenson saw mill, Mr. Bert Hibbard and Miss Leonis Dickenson, Rev. Louis Huff performing the ceremony. The contracting parties have many friends who wish them a life of happiness. The bride is the eldest daughter of Ah Dickenson.

Jack Dennis and family expect to leave a week from next Monday for Centralia, Washington where they go to make their home. Jack is sorry to leave Burns where he and his estimable wife have many friends, but the move is made with the hopes of benefiting the latter's health. May they prosper is the wish of the writer.

HARNEY VALLEY IMPROVEMENT CO.

A representative of this great religious weekly interviewed Mr. Hanley the other day in regard to the work of reclamation undertaken by the Harney Valley Improvement Company. Although the Oregonian had this company among the list of those who had contracts approved both by the State and Interior Department, Mr. Hanley stated that he had not heard directly from his associates in Portland that the contract had been approved, and therefore he could not state definitely when he would begin operations. In fact he was inclined to be reticent in regard to discussing the matter for publication, stating that it was not the proper time to go into detail. Mr. Hanley expressed confidence in the ability of his people to reclaim the big tract of land if given the contract. He also says that the Harney Valley Improvement Company would do much toward the development of this section when once started on the work.

PROF. RAKESTRAW HERE.

Supt. Charles D. Rakestraw, of the Indian Industrial School at Fort Bidwell, is expected here this evening and the Indians have gathered from all parts of the country in anticipation of this visit and a big "pow wow" will be held tomorrow at the home of Dr. Marsden, wife chief, to discuss school matter. It seems the matter of educating the Indian children is not taken kindly by the entire tribe and Prof. Rakestraw's visit is for the purpose of conferring with them through the triumvir, viz: Chief Marsden, Peter Teman and Capt. Louie, with the hope that more of the young children may be induced to enter the school.

The meeting will be very interesting and we hope will result in convincing the skeptical red skins of the benefits to be derived from the children attending this institution.

Chas. Newell and family have returned from a visit to the Deschutes and other sections. They say they saw considerable country while absent but found no place that suited them as well as Harney valley.

B. P. Bennett and his estimable wife have returned from Maine, where they went some three years ago to take up their residence in their old home. Mr. Bennett called at this office yesterday and informs us they intend to remain here permanently, as he had very poor health back there on the coast. Mr. Bennett is suffering from stomach trouble and finds this dry climate beneficial. They will look around for a suitable home to purchase. We are glad to welcome this old couple to our midst again.
