It would appear that another chapter is to be opened in the puzzling public land adjustments that obtain in this state.

The latest development, as disclosed by a letter written by the Governor to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, discloses either a broken promise on the Federal Government or such change of policy within less than appear as will prove extremely discouraging to hundreds of people who have purchased state indemnity land in good faith and now find themselves without title.

The history of public land acquisition in Oregon, whether from the state of the Federal Government, is a record of complications not easily understood, and absurdly not to be explained in a couple of paragraphs.

It should be possible to bring this sort of maladministration to an end. It is a task to which the Congressional delegation from this state would do well to address itself with determination.

"Craw crawl," which sounds like a Central African term of endearment, is the name of a new disease brought on by kissing.

now, Lizzie; I've forgotten my boracic acid." "Oh, Jack don't hurry. Just by accident I happen to have a bottle in my pocket."

Oregon Needs to Make Good Roads.

James W. Abbott, of the good roads division of the United States Department of agriculture, is at the Imperial says the Telegram.

He says that the interest is increasing in this state in the good roads movement, and points to several Oregon men who are now working out the good roads problems for this state.

Mr. Abbott finds that this state is making commendable progress in the matter of roadbuilding. Down in Jackson County at present they are making a lot of fine roads of crushed rock and in many other parts of the state they are active.

Mr. Abbott will go to Walla Walla, Wash., November 1, where will be a good roads convention, called by Samuel Hill, president of the Washington Good Roads Association.

PORTLAND RAILROAD EXTEND

OFFICIALS DECLARE ROAD WILL BE LENGTHENED.

May Cross Cascades into Eastern Oregon Next Year—Exact Route is Not Yet Selected.

That the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company will extend its Estacada line on up the Clackamas River, across the Cascades and into Eastern Oregon next year is probable, though the management of the company denies that definite plans have yet been made.

Rumors in circulation to the effect that the company is planning to run a line up the Santiam River by the way of the old military road route, crossing the Cascades near the Three Sisters and going on to Prineville, have been denied by the management when an effort was made to verify them.

F. S. Morris, one of the managers of the company, was asked if there was any truth in the statement that a party was trying to make a route through the Cascades and he replied that his company was not doing any thing of the kind at present, but he believed that lumbering companies had surveyors in the field.

"We do not deny, however," replied Mr. Morris, "that we will extend our lines in the near future. We have laid heavy rails on our Estacada line with intention of caring for heavy traffic on it when we could extend our line, which we intend doing next Summer."

"Mountain rangers and others have come to us with the information that a good pass can be found across the mountains by following up the Clackamas River, and I will not say that we may extend our line along that route next Summer."

"The situation at present is simply this: We will do nothing this Winter, but next Summer we will send men out to locate extensions to our road. We shall surely extend the road, but whether it will be across the Cascades or not I am not now prepared to say."

"Our object in making extensions is to develop Portland. Several have called on us with the proposition of our allowing them terminal privileges. They wanted to extend lines in competition with these now running out of the city, but we do not favor such a thing. It is not for competition that we are working; it is for the development of new country that will aid Portland in building up."

Mr. Morris also stated that lumbermen are anxious to get a road to the Cascades in the vicinity of the South Fork of the Santiam River, that the logs could be brought out. He did not give his opinion regarding what might be accomplished by them.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I had Theford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. It cured my son after he had spent $100 with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Theford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Theford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Theford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Theford's Black-Draught for liver complaints and found it to be the best."—W. L. JAMES, Bishop, Ill.

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Will Arrange Space at Fair.

Colonel Dosch, director of exhibits, has sent a notice to merchants and manufacturers to the effect that he will begin allotting space to exhibitors on November 1 and it will be wise for those who intend to make display to hurry up. Application blanks may be had at the general offices.

It is not generally understood, apparently, that where no product is offered for sale there is no cost attached to the exhibit, although "live" displays, such as machinery in operation, will be given some preference over others.

The cost, in any event, is nominal. There will be no lighting charges as the main exhibit buildings will be closed at night, according to the present plan. Cars will be switched and run into the grounds for $5 a car and rules governing the charges for power, steam, water connections and gas, will soon be published and will be moderate.—Journal.

Can You Eat?

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Criesman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health."
