As a matter of self protection, people who contemplate buying alfalfa seed should call and see samples and comparisons at Geer & Cummins. They have for sale an exceptionally fine Harney valley grown seed and also samples seed grown elsewhere. The alfalfa seeds will not grow. Call for samples.

Beary come up from his home at Narrows Thursday. He has several days down there and a good day with the ducks—just the limit. His many friends have been waiting since his return. Beary has always been considered a peacemaker and always a good reputation, but he has been back with a hard looking face that is somewhat out of the ordinary. The only explanation given to friends is that he has been in a election.

A Gemberling and James arrived home from a hunting trip to the lakes. They report shooting and a fine time. Gemberling brought home eight swan, and ducks and geese. Jim caused considerable uneasiness one evening not returning to camp and thought possibly there was a snake or a chicken roost or something like it, but Jim was only looking for the stars to come out so could locate the camp, which was lost—Jim knew he was alright.

Drs. Marsden & Geary performed an operation on Mrs. Tom Allen last Thursday for appendicitis and at this writing the patient is doing well and shows every indication of a speedy recovery. The many friends of Mrs. Allen will be pleased to know she is improving and that the operation was successful.

The Times-Herald man was shown some samples of alfalfa seed at the Geer & Cummins hardware store yesterday that was quite a revelation in that it was found that Harney valley grown seed was much superior to that shipped in from the outside and claimed to be first class seed. The Harney valley was of a green color and every grain was just alike while the outside seed was all darker and some of the grains almost black. According to experiments made by the government these brown seeds will not produce or even start from the ground. This is something that local people should know as much land will be sown to alfalfa the coming season.
