

THREE MAY BE INDICTED

WILLIAMSON AND HERMANN INVOLVED.

Jury Will Investigate Alleged Conspiracy—Williamson Said to be Connected With F. P. Mays.

Secure the indictment of Representative Williamson for alleged conspiracy to defraud the Government of the United States of a portion of its public lands is as much the purpose and intention of the grand jury now engaged in conducting investigations of the Federal grand jury as it is their endeavor to indictments returned against Representative Mitchell and Representative Hermann, says the Oregonian.

The greatest danger of loss is when droves of cattle or horses are being driven through the country. Any stray animal is quite apt to be mustered into the ranks of the herd and driven with the rest to some point, where he is disposed of. The owner or owners of these animals may not miss them for some time, and by then he has no means of proving who took his stock. This condition has existed for years.

The genuine, old-fashioned cattle rustler, who rounded up droves of considerable size and drove them by stages to remote shipping points, who had accomplices all along the way is now considered pretty much of a myth in Grant county. When he is hunted up at any rate, he is nowhere to be found, and the real culprits are rarely brought to justice. A case in point is the recent raid by a posse headed by a Grant county deputy sheriff, which started out to round up the rustlers of northern Grant county, but soon disbanded.

It is said by the prosecution that he has operated in the west of Oregon and that the vicinity of Prineville, his home, has also been the seat of his operations, and there are those now living in both sections of the state who will yet come under the notice of the grand jury.

The work of the grand jury is not done by half even in point of time. A week has now passed and one indictment has been returned, but that one will be the forerunner of others which are yet to come, and it will be well into the month of January before the 23 men who have been selected to sit out the mass of evidence secured by the Government will have finished their labors and gone to their homes.

Tonight Senator Mitchell and Mr. Hermann will reach Portland, the destination of their transcontinental journey. They come with the expectation of being able to explain away their alleged connection with the frauds in public lands, which are apparently reaching such proportions that they are the subject of cabinet discussion in Washington. They say that they are innocent, that the prosecution of the Government is prosecution, and that time will right their wrongs and show that they have been, and now are, the objects of conspiracy instead of being the originators or participants in one.

But it is now definitely stated that the prosecution expects to prove entirely to the contrary the declarations made by the two Congressmen of the State of Oregon. The talk has not been idle rumor, it is said, and it will be cold facts before another two weeks have passed over the waiting people. And not only these but other things as big, or nearly so, will come.

A later dispatch from Portland says: The federal grand jury adjourned at noon today and there were no further indictments. This morning Congressman Hermann appeared, but was told he would be given a hearing Tuesday when the jury reconvenes. Senator Mitchell is in the city, but did not appear.

THE REAL SITUATION IN GRANT.

The strange and unique condition of things that really exist in the Long Creek district regarding stock rustling is told by a man who recently returned from that section, who looked closely into the situation while there and who for obvious reasons does not wish his identity disclosed. This man explains the general ignorance concerning the situation by the reticence of residents and the fact that so many are involved that it is almost impossible to bring a culprit to justice, says a dispatch from Sumpter.

According to his story, stock stealing has been put on a species of "legitimate" basis in portions of northern Grant. Mavericks are almost considered the lawful prey of any who run across them, at least no great effort is made to prove them otherwise when once the new owner has put his branding iron on them. Men know in some cases that their neighbors are engaged in this wild form of stock rustling and think they are entitled to recoup their losses by the same means by which these losses occur. Seldom is the law invoked, and the situation about narrowed down to self-protection and taking from the others all you can get.

WORLD'S MEDALS AND PRIZES.

The following list of medals and prizes captured by Oregon at the World's Fair at St. Louis, is pretty good answer to the question "What's the matter with Oregon?" No other proof than this can be needed to show that "Oregon's all right."

Agriculture—(Includes one gold medal for dairy.)—1 grand prize, 43 gold medals, 56 silver medals, 22 bronze medals.

Horticulture—Two grand prizes, 7 gold medals, 84 silver medals, 34 bronze medals.

Fish and game—Four gold medals, 8 silver medals, 1 bronze medal.

Mining—Two gold medals, 1 silver medal, 10 bronze medals (Petition pending for grand prize) Education, groups one and two—One gold medal, 3 silver medals, 2 bronze medals.

Livestock—Eighty-six head of sheep, sent by the Baldwin Sheep and Land Co., won 31 premiums, divided as follows: Rambouillet, 18; Delane, 7; Spanish, 6. They exhibited the largest and heaviest shearing Spanish ram ever seen in this or any other country, but were refused a prize, as the judges called him a freak. Value of the exhibit about $12,000.

Charles E. Ladd received on a herd of 12 Shorthorns, 2 first prizes, 1 second prize, 1 third prize, 2 fourth prizes, 2 fifth prizes.

William Riddle, of Holk county, was awarded second prize ($100) on five head of Kent sheep, and two first and four fourth on four Angora goats.

Totals outside of stock—Grand prizes, 3; gold medals, 67; silver medals, 150; bronze medals, 71.

Beware of Counterfeits

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by Burns' Druggists.

Senator Fulton Urges Passage of The Water Laws in Oregon.

A Washington dispatch to the Oregonian says: Senator Fulton had a conference today with F. H. Newell, chief of the reclamation service, to ascertain the result of the examinations that have been conducted in Oregon with a view to fixing the location of the Government irrigation project. He urged the department to push the work on Klamath River, where preliminary examinations have shown there are excellent opportunities for irrigation, provided the questions of water rights can be straightened out.

Senator Fulton believes the Oregon Legislature, at its next session, should pass new laws governing the ownership of waters, which will settle for all time the disputes which involve the many streams in Eastern and Southern Oregon most essential for irrigation, especially Klamath River. Senator Fulton found that work on the Klamath River is largely dependent upon the enactment of proper water laws in Oregon, add that the Malheur project is tied up until the owners of the wagon road lands living under that project can be induced to consent to co-operate with the settlers, bearing a proportional share of the cost of the project.

The surveys in Harney County are being pressed, but are far from complete.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was all upset and that I could keep nothing down and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Georgia Dumbler
