THE CELILO CANAL AT STAKE

GOVERNMENT WOULD PROVIDE ONLY FOR THE JETTY.

Neglect of Waterway Above The Dalles Will Bring Forth Strong Protests From Inland Empire.

Neglect of the proposed Celilo canal by the present session of Congress will arouse strong protest from the great region that is drained by the Columbia River and which long has looked forward to the time when that stream shall be an unobstructed highway for its commerce, says the Oregonian.

Chairman Burton, of the House committee on rivers and harbors, has said: "I am strongly disposed to think we shall have to omit any appropriation for The Dalles-Celilo canal," and when pressed by the Oregon delegation to recommend an appropriation for the canal, has suggested that the Pacific Northwest might secure money for that improvement by lessening its demand for funds for the mouth of the Columbia. In a dispatch from Washington published in this paper last Thursday, Mr. Burton was quoted as follows:

I am strongly disposed to think we shall have to omit any appropriation for The Dalles Celilo Canal. The total cost of the plan would be $3,800,000, and it is useless to begin with a partial appropriation.

Again, there are many other projects in Oregon notably the mouth of the Columbia, which will require large appropriations. Would it not be well to try for the time the portage railway that can be completed at comparatively little cost, and would develop in sufficient amount to make it desirable to canalize the river for 12 miles at and near The Dalles?

The Columbia needs improvement at two places—the mouth where a jetty is under construction to deepen the channel; at Celilo Falls, 200 miles inland, where a canal eight and one-half miles long will have to be built to connect the upper and lower parts of the river for navigation.

That the National Government owes to the Pacific Northwest the early completion, not of one of the projects, but of both, is the universal opinion of residents of the Columbia basin. Chairman Burton has viewed the Columbia River and perceived the possibilities of the region tributary to it. Should his committees fail to provide for the two projects, vigorous protests will be sent to Washington, citing that both improvements are essential to the growth of the Pacific Northwest, and that the National Government is in duty bound to carry them forward, especially the one at Celilo, since the State of Oregon has secured for the canal a right-of-way under a pledge from the National Government that the canal forthwith would be built as soon as possible.

WIKIAMSON TO BE INDICTED TOO.

Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud The Government of Lands.

For alleged complicity in fraudulent dealings in timber lands in the Blue Mountain Forest Reserve, United States Senator John H. Mitchell, Congressman Binger Hermann and J. N. Williamson, attorney and State Senator Franklin Pierce Mays and others will be indicted by the United States Grand Jury next week or the week following, if the plans of the Government are carried to a successful conclusion. After these indictments have been returned, Oregon will have but one representative in Congress—Senator Fulton—whose name will not have been connected with land frauds in this state. Government officials in Oregon or Washington, D. C., have not announced that these indictments would be returned, but it is an undisputable fact, and the news leaked out. This announcement coming as it does, after the exciting events of the past month, although expected, created fresh consternation.—Telegram

For Separate Judicial District.

A special from Baker City to the Oregonian, says: W. J. Lachner, ex-chairman of the Republican Committee of Baker County, circulated a petition among the members of the bar today asking Senator Bands to introduce and secure the passage of a bill making a separate judicial district of this county. The petition was signed by all the leading members of the bar regardless of party. Mr. Lachner will take the petition to Sumpter tomorrow, where it is understood that the attorneys, like those of this city, are practically unanimous for the bill.

The petition will ask that the bill be passed with an emergency clause, so as to become effective at once. The business of the court in this county is so congested on account of the inability of Judge Eakin to do all that is required of him, that immediate relief is necessary. Representative Smith will also be asked to assist in procuring the passage of this bill.

Victory White Bronze Monuments.

The local agent, M. L. Lewis, has just received notice from The Monumental Bronze Co., of Bridgeport, Conn., that White Bronze has been awarded two medals, viz: Class No 194, Art Work in Zinc and class No 220 Marble, Stone and Metal Monuments.

White Bronze was in direct competition with the great Marble and Granite Quarries of the world and won all the honors. Such success speaks volumes for White Bronze as the only Monuments without a competitor.

Art Use by Rustler.

The Baker City Herald has discovered a new method by which horse thieves destroy brands and successfully elude the law.

After an extensive review of methods, the Herald says:

This crook is something of a veterinarian, a knowledge gained by being in constant contact with equine life. He always has on hand a bunch of range horses of all colors, shades and conditions. These are cheap and inexpensive to maintain.

When he brings to his range ranch a haltered steed of good pedigree which in his perigrinations he has taken without leave or price, one of the herd in the hills is brought in and killed.

Then the stolen horse loses the patch of skin which bears its owner's brand, while from the dead animal is taken a patch and grafting is done with surgical precision worthy of a better cause.

According to the men who tell this story, in a remarkably short time this wound heals, a new brand is made and the thieving horseman has a marketable steed.

These he has sold in Baker City and adjoining towns for several years past with a boldness that has been remarkable. Like all such people, however, he has been growing careless and the men who make this statement say that they look for him to reach the end of his rope in the near future.

EVERY MAN CARRIES A GUN

EXTRAORDINARY STATE OF AFFAIRS IN THIS COUNTY.

Its Citizens Insist Upon Keeping up The Reputation of Central Oregon—The Reason for It.

The above headlines are somewhat startling, but nevertheless true. Some of The Times-Herald readers may object to the publication of such facts but this great religious has held that the truth must be told regardless of the consequence.

While some of our neighboring counties are indulging in the pastime of shooting sheep and destroying valuable property, Harney Co. must keep her reputation as being a frontier section.

Of course every loyal citizen has pride in his home county and when an opportunity presents itself to further its interests and help toward attracting attention to its resources, they go at it with a will—hence the guns.

Last week an organization was formed for the purpose of securing a display of Harney county's resources to be exhibited at the Lewis and Clark fair. Among the features of the display it is the intention to show a complete list of the game birds and animals of this section. The proposition has met with universal approval and many are now actively engaged in securing specimens to be mounted for this purpose. These shooters differ from sheep slaughterers in that they go in broad day light and will tell any one their business and purpose. They do not get paid for this work, but do it simply to help the men who have taken hold of the matter and propose making Harney county's display the finest at the fair. The Times-Herald is pleased to make the assertion that every man carries a gun for this purpose and hopes each of them may be able to send one or more specimens.
