Judge White Assumes His Duties.

Hon. Sam White yesterday took the oath of office as the first judge of the Eighth Judicial District of Oregon under the emergency law just passed by the recent legislature.

It is the general opinion among business men and attorneys of the city and county that the good results of the separation of Baker County into a separate judicial district will be felt immediately by the people of this city particularly and by the county at large.

Legal business will be expedited and much litigation on the books disposed of promptly, as court will be in session most of the time, and many can be adjudicated in chambers and it is thought that many other differences and legal complications which at present go on the docket will be kept off and the county will always be at hand.

Water Case Decided by Judge Bellinger.

In the matter of the petition of the Pacific Livestock company of Harney county, to have W. D. Hanley retained from using more than a given amount of water of the Silves river, Judge Bellinger this morning decided that Hanley had violated only a portion of the decree rendered some time ago.

The court decreed several months ago that Hanley should be permitted to retain the dams he then had and the irrigating ditch system. A new dam erected by him was a violation of the order, but this had been abated. A new channel for the river, which Hanley had cut across a neck of land was also held to be a violation, and he was ordered to permit the water to run its original course.

The foregoing was clipped from a recent issue of the Portland Journal. While it does not make a very clear statement of the decision, it may be inferred that Mr. Hanley has gained a victory over the P. L. S. Co. However, we know nothing of the particulars of the case.

STAGE SCHEDULE TO BE CHANGED.

Two Days' Service Between Burns and Prineville During the Fair.

With the approach of opening day at the Lewis and Clark fair in Portland, the managers of the various stage lines centering in this city are making arrangements to inaugurate new schedules which will prove of great advantage and convenience to residents at outside points who, when making the trip to the railroad, will desire to do so in the shortest space of time possible and over the best route offered.

The first new schedule to be inaugurated, and one which will attract the residents of the Burns vicinity, is a two days' service between the latter points and Prineville. The new schedule reduces the present one an even 24 hours and will become effective on May 1, continuing three times a week until the roads take on their regular autumn hue about the first of November.

Manager Cornett of the Burns-Prineville line took the matter up with postal inspector Valle at Shaniko a few days ago and has received the government's sanction. The schedule will be changed to the following order:

EAST BOUND

Leave Prineville Monday, Wednesday and Friday 5 a. m. Arrive at Grindstone 8 p. m. Arrive in Burns 7 p. m. day following.

WEST BOUND

Leaves Burns Monday, Wednesday and Friday 5 a. m. Arrive at Grindstone 8 p. m. Arrive at Prineville 7 p. m.

The arrangement made in the above schedule will give the Burns residents an opportunity to get to Portland in much less time than by going out over the various routes leading to the north and east from that city. The roads this way are in much better condition, the trip will be much easier with the lay overs at the right places. Arriving in this city from the east at 7 o'clock in the evening will give passengers an opportunity to enjoy a whole night's rest before continuing the stage trip, occupying twelve hours from here to the railroad—Prineville Journal.

Fegty-Ivers Marriage.

Carl Fegty and Miss Minnie Ivers were united in holy bonds of matrimony at Watson on Feb. 19, Rev. B. L. Milligan officiating, in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride was attired in white silk, with orange blossoms, while the groom was dressed in conventional black.

Both young people are well known throughout this section, and we all extend them happiness, contentment and prosperity.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Fegty, and no better boy lives than Carl, and the bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ivers.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding repast was served and in the evening the happy couple left for their new home amid showers of rice and blessings.—Ontario Argus Averaged $45 a Head.

On Wednesday 10 carloads of cattle were shipped from this point by the following: Blackaby & Emison, 50 head, E. B. Buttler, 100; J. W. Jesse, 50. They consisted of fat steers and were consigned to the Carlsteto Packing Co. of Tacoma. The price paid was $3.50 per hundred delivered at the yards here. Taking into consideration the condition of the cattle market at the present time, the price paid is more than the average.

The sale was made by Mr. Blackaby during his recent visit to Portland.—Ontario Argus

MITCHELL SAYS IT IS SCOTT

ACCUSES OREGONIAN EDITOR OF INSPIRING PROSECUTION

Hermann's indictment at Washington for Destroying Records Probable, Mitchell's and Williamson's possible.

The Portland Journal's Washington Bureau gives out the following: Attorney Henny and Secret Service Agent Burns have been in conference with attorney-General Moody over the reported intention of having indictments found in the District of Columbia against Mitchell, Hermann and Williamson.

While the adoption of this course of procedure is a possibility in the cases of Mitchell and Williamson, it is a strong probability in the case of Hermann, against whom the charge of destroying public records may be brought. When about to retire from the position of commissioner of the general land office, Hermann, it is alleged, burned a large number of letter books containing what he claims were private matters, but which the government claims contained official letters.

Mitchell asserts that this last movement against him is inspired by Editor Harvey W. Scott of the Portland Oregonian, who is in the city.

The Journal comments: Harvey W. Scott went east last Friday ostensibly to attend a meeting of the Associated Press directors in Chicago, but his real destination appears to have been Washington, where most of the principal actors in the land fraud are now gathered.

Why Senator Mitchell should consider that the editor is responsible for the latest troubles that are gathered about the heads of Oregon's indicted representatives at Washington is but a matter of conjecture, but it is apparent that the old vendetta which has been waged between Mitchell and Scott for more than a quarter of a century has again been revived.

The truce which was effected a year ago is at an end and a state of war again exists.

If Harvey Scott went to Washington to take a hand in the proceedings against Senator Mitchell he must have gone of his own volition, for there is reason to believe that he was not summoned by Henny or by the president. Personal ambition may have promoted his going, for the dream of political preferment is still cherished by the editor of the Oregonian, and the long sought opportunity may seem to him to be at hand.

Unless new evidence has been discovered against Senator Mitchell the only known ground upon which he would be indicted at Washington is the transaction with S. A. D. Puter, when the latter is alleged to have paid the senator $2,000 in order to secure his help in expediting fraudulent homestead claims.

Scott's ambition to be a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet received a hard blow when the president declared his determination to reappoint Hitchcock as secretary of interior. Through the columns of the Oregonian Scott had been persistently assailing Hitchcock's policy and demanding that he retire from the cabinet.

But the president paid no heed to the editor's interested suggestions and the hoped-for vacancy will not occur. There is, however, an opportunity for Harvey Scott to do something to advance his own fortunes, even though a cabinet job may be beyond his reach. It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good, and the wind that brings shipwreck to Mitchell and Hermann and Williamson may carry Harvey Scott into the haven of political power. Here is his chance to assume control of Oregon's political fortunes, and if Senator Mitchell still stands in his way, why so much the worse for Mitchell.
