The Times-Herald presents a rather congested appearance this issue, in an advertising way owing to the omission of the inside page.

Things will grow here in spite of what the knockers say to the contrary. Geo. Stancliff has made just $84 from 2 1/2 acres of alfalfa this season...

The Times-Herald urges the business men of this city to be present at the meeting next Wednesday evening called by President Geer of the Board of Trade.

According to newspaper report Judge R. S. Bean, now on the Oregon supreme court bench, is slated for appointment to the federal judgeship for the district of Oregon.

Railroads in Oregon are to be as thick as cannon in "The Charge of the Light Brigade"—to the right of them, to the left of them in front of them, but none where we are "at".

Hon. C. W. Parrish, accompanied by his sons Sam and Charles and daughter, Mrs. Emma Gowan and children, arrived here yesterday afternoon.

The band of cattle, fat steers, sold by J. D. Combs to Wm. Hanley, of Burns, will be delivered in Baker City the last of this month.

LAW GOVERNING SCHOOL TUITION.

The 1905 school law has made a change in the sections referring to tuition and now pupils of school age may enter any public school of the state without paying tuition.

The law now provides for the expense to come out of the funds of the district sending the pupils.

"The district school board may at its discretion, contract with the district school board of any other district for the admission of pupils in any school in such other district.

At a meeting of the school board held Wednesday evening this matter was taken up and the district clerk was ordered to secure such blanks and have them in readiness soon as possible.

Last Sunday a party arrived in this city equipped with all necessary camping paraphernalia and remained here a day or two.

Several small shipments of cattle are now about ready to leave here, cars having been ordered for them, but owing to the inspection charges, they are being delayed in hopes that some arrangement can be made whereby the shipper will not be compelled to pay the charges.

THE PLACE THEY WERE LOOKING FOR

Will Bring About Twenty-five Families Here to Locate Next Spring.

C. B. Henley of Garfield Wash., and his son-in-law, C. E. McCormick of Santa Cruz, Colo., were visitors to this office last Wednesday.

Mr. Henley is looking out for a location for some 25 families and says he has certainly found the spot he has been looking for and during his stay at this office wrote letters to several of the people who are interested.

"This is the finest valley I have seen since starting out last October," said Mr. Henley, "and it is going to develop very rapidly. You have an agricultural section and need people—you will get them. We are going to spend the winter over at Baker City, but you may expect us in the spring with a good class of citizens who come to make homes."

Mr. Henley was given considerable information regarding the country and Mr. McCormick accompanied The Times-Herald man to a few of the gardens in this city. Upon returning to the office with some string beans and ripe tomatoes Mr. Henley said: "That's enough! I don't care to see anything more. Where those vegetables grow the country will produce anything."

Mr. Henley ordered The Times-Herald sent to several addresses and although he does not expect to be here during the winter he will keep in close touch with the section and be ready to come in if occasion demands.

SHIPPERS COMPLAIN OF LAW.

Cattle shippers are kicking about the law passed at the last session of the legislature, requiring them to pay $3 for an inspection of brands before a shipment can be made.

Several small shipments of cattle are now about ready to leave here, cars having been ordered for them, but owing to the inspection charges, they are being delayed in hopes that some arrangement can be made whereby the shipper will not be compelled to pay the charges.

The law was passed with a view to checking cattle stealing and while the intention of the law is good, shippers say its enforcement is a farce in a great many instances, as it is impossible for an inspector to secure all the brands on cattle in the way in which cattle are inspected.

They say if cattle were run through a chute, or inspected separately that there would be some possibility of securing an accurate inspection, but where an inspector walks through a corral and takes down the brands in sight, in a moving herd of cattle, that it becomes an expensive and valueless farce.

It is said by many of the prominent shippers that so far there has not been a thorough inspection in the state since the law was passed and that until arrangements are made at stock yards for the careful and systematic inspection of every animal shipped there is little use to impose the charges upon them.—Baker Democrat.

Public Aroused.

The public is aroused a know of the curative merits of that great medical tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked, I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors, drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at City Drug store; price 50c.
