Meetings of the Council every second and fourth Wednesday.

The National Irrigation Congress, during its recent session, was not to be beguiled by the blandishments of the landgrabber.

Abandoning metaphor and coming to plain statement of fact, the National Irrigation Congress refused to entertain a resolution favoring the acquisition by the single individual of more than 160 acres of irrigable land.

A wonderful invention. It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance.

To have passed this resolution would have been an abandonment of wisdom, a surrender to designing greed, the encouragement of an evil from which the people of this country have suffered too much.

small tract—enough to make the tiller of the soil independent, comfortably prosperous, moderately rich, if you will.

A La Grande editor, tired of life and its vicissitudes, indited a pathetic letter to his wife the other day, telling her she could find his body on the bank of the beautiful Grande Ronde river, where they were wont to wander during the days gone by.

Having sold the furniture business, C. A. Byrd will now turn his attention to painting and paper hanging and solicits a share of your patronage.

Engaged people should remember, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters.
