JULIAN BYRD - - - - - Manager

Very few of our farmers have sent in a report of their crops as yet. The Times-Herald regrets this indifference on their part as it is to their interest.

NEWELL-CHANDLER.

The marriage of Miss Laura Newell and E. J. Chandler was solemnized on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Wallowa. These young people need no introduction to our readers, having lived in Harney county many years.

Married at the home of W. K. Stubblefield in this city on Wednesday evening October 24, Rev. Samins officiating, Miss J. Laura Newell and Mr. Julius Chandler. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Charles C. Newell one of the first residents of Enterprise, but for many years an honored resident of Harney County Oregon, where he was three times elected School Superintendent and also for several years was Register of the U. S. Land Office.

The bride is a favorite grand daughter of our venerable and respected citizen, W. K. Stubblefield and it was at his earnest request that the parties came here to be married. Uncle Billy invited all his neighbors and every body else he could think of, who responded to the entire number of 100 or more of the principal citizens who were treated to a most royal banquet and were otherwise pleasantly entertained.

Big Band of Cattle.

Wm. Welch and Frank Matney of Isee will pass through town sometime this week with the largest band of cattle that has been driven out of this country in recent years. The band consists of 800 head of mixed beef cattle, consisting of three-year-old steers and up and cows. The boys are taking the cattle to Pendleton for delivery to Jas. Lonergan, the Seattle cattle buyer.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Job printing—The Times-Herald. Baled hay at the City Meat Market. Mrs. H. C. Brown came over from Drewsey last Saturday, bringing her 14 year old son Walton who is suffering from typhoid fever.

F. H. Watts, of the Watts Marble Works, at The Dalles, is in the city making a delivery of monuments.

I. W. Walters, J. S. Zeigler and W. C. Gillett, all of Chicago, came in Thursday from the south in company with E. B. Hill. These gentlemen are stock holders in the American Land & Live Stock Co., the concern that bought the Sisson land holdings and stock in this county.

land holdings and stock in this county. They were here to look over the property and consult with Manager Hill. The party left for home yesterday morning via Austin and Baker. The Times-Herald did not get an opportunity to talk with these gentlemen as to the future of their company or what the plans were.

AT ENGLISH PRISON GATES

Salvation Army Is There to Lead a Hand to Released Convicts—Great Aid to Nation.

All who are seriously interested in social questions ought from time to time to find themselves outside a prison gate in the early morning. There is no more pathetic spectacle in the study of human misery.

The floor slowly opens and men and women come out by twos and threes, a tragic moment to the on-looker, when husbands and wives and fathers and children meet again. Then the Salvation Army man begins his work, and distributes cards to them, inviting them to meetings, or telling them to count upon him as a friend, if they need help—for the difficulty which stares the prisoner in the face and looms so large is how to get work. There are thousands of honest men out of employment. Who is to find an opening for the man who has been in prison? The Salvation Army officer truly said that the law gives a man three months or six months in prison to expiate his offense, but when he comes out he finds that it is really a sentence for life, and many and many a man could tell the same hopeless tale, of his vain endeavors after employment, until he clasps the brotherly hand which was extended to him by one of these modern Franciscans.

There is a man in London today who holds the keys of one of the largest city warehouses. This man spent more than 11 years in prison. He was helped by the Salvation Army, and one day, after many months of weary search for work, he was engaged on a temporary job. He gave satisfaction and remained permanently, and is now in this position of great trust. Another man who was visited in prison, serving his second term of ten years, although he was only 43 years old, said that it was the first time that any message of any kind from the outside world had reached him. Directly his time was up he went to the Salvation Army, "and in his gratitude to us," said the officer, "he gave us the only thing he had, his prison mouse." The rule is that if a man in any of the convict prisons can catch a field mouse and induce it to stay in his cell without the help of a cage he may keep it. This man had tamed the little animal, to which he was devoted, and is now enjoying a peaceful old age in a Salvation Army home; but whenever the former owner comes to London he always visits it.

HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY SOCIETY.

The High School Literary Society met yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The minutes of last Friday's meeting were read and approved, the roll call found Alice Sweek absent.

CONSULTING ENGINEER COMING.

M. L. Lewis is in receipt of a letter from J. T. Whistler of the Government Reclamation Service, stating that Mr. Grunsky, consulting engineer to the Director of the Geological Survey and Reclamation Service would visit this section soon. He had previously arranged for transportation with Mr. Lewis and Geo. Smith of the Red Front barn has gone to Paisley to meet Mr. Grunsky.

The gentleman is coming to investigate the various proposed government irrigation schemes in this section and his reports go directly to the Department. He will visit Silver Creek and then proceed to this valley and look over the land in the upper part as far east as 10 miles east of Harney and leave by way of Silvie to see the reservoir site. Mr Whistler states the gentleman will want to talk to the people here who are interested in the various projects and secure all the information he can. Mr. Lewis states the engineer will be here about Nov. 10.

If you want to see this county develop get in and help. Don't sit and creak.
