The Times-Herald is just in receipt of a letter from Charles Ugdale who recently arrived in Ontario from Dayton, Ohio, in which he says: "We are told here that to go to the Burns country, as all and vegetables cannot be raised there," and asking us to advise him what to do.

The Oregon lawmakers now in session propose an amendment to the constitution making the pay of the legislatures $10 per day instead of $3. The Times-Herald man has no ambition to go to the legislature so when he approves of this move it will not be taken as trying to feather his own nest.

The local land office is suspending all land proofs that are now being made that do not come under the exceptions of the recent order made by the president, a copy of which was published in our last issue.

The Times-Herald is pleased to note the large number of fruit trees and shrubs that have been ordered for planting this season. People are now thoroughly convinced that all kinds of hardy fruits do well here, especially since seeing the exceptionally fine display at the county fair last season.

An original form of advertising comes from Russia, where the shopkeeper posted up the following announcement: "The reason why I have hitherto been able to sell goods so much cheaper than anybody else is that I am a bachelor and do not need to make a profit for the maintenance of a wife and children."

George L. Terrell of Smithfield, Utah, a delegate to the late Denver congress, who has had 40 years experience at dry farming, gave some interesting facts in an interview printed by the Denver Post. He said: "I plow 10 inches deep after breaking the land, and then I usually have six inches of sub-soil. I use horses and disc plows altogether."

At the meeting of the Literary Society yesterday afternoon the following persons were elected for the ensuing term of office. Leila Egli, president; Edd Stallard, vice president; Dolly Garrett, secretary; Ella Sweek, treasurer.

force. The audacity of such a bunch is appalling. The idea of these fellows taking issue with the "strenuous one" in his land policy! Aren't they elected to do "Teddy's" bidding without any regard to the wishes of their constituents? Come, come, boys!

cut 210 acres on ground that I started to farm 31 years ago and have been farming it every other year since that time. The crop I raised last year was far better than any year that I remember. I broke up a piece of alfalfa ground, sowed two bushels of spring wheat on about two acres, and harvested 60 bushels of the finest quality.

"I kept all of that seed and the millers offered me 10 cents a bushel more for it than the price of any wheat in the country. The Farmers' association at the meeting last year named it 'Farrell's Golden Wonder.' I got a teacup full of seed from the north of England and continued to raise it until I got two bushels, then planted the two acres with the result that I have given."

O. S. L. Buys Vale Line.

Speaking of the Oregon Short Line taking over the Malheur railroad the Payette Independent says: "The Oregon Short Line has taken over the Malheur railroad which runs from the main line to Vale, Ore., and the road will now be known as the Malheur branch of the Oregon Short Line."

Its terminus has been changed from Ontario to Payette. The Vale train has been coming from Ontario to Payette to take water, but Ontario was its starting point. Now, the train will leave Payette about 7 o'clock in the morning. Returning shortly after 3 in the afternoon, leaving again for Vale about 4 o'clock and will make the round trip.

All along it has been thought that the Vale road was but the beginning of a road that is to be built through southern Oregon to the coast. If this be true, the making of Payette the terminus is of importance to the town. As it is, it shows that a hard blow has been struck at Ontario by the building of the road.

The source of the trade upon which the town depended has been cut off. The vast country lying on the interior of Oregon, which looked to Ontario as its shipping point and its point of supply, now has a railroad 20 or more miles closer than the town on the banks of the Snake.

Already so it is reported, Ontario feels the effect of the invasion of a railroad into a domain from which she drew the life that stimulated her business. When the road is extended this will be felt still more. The town's hope lies in the covering with water the hundreds of acres of sagebrush land which surrounds it. And there is reason to believe that the day is not far distant when we will see the home of the jackrabbit across the Snake converted into many farms and orchards and made the dwelling place of thousands of people.

Tuesday morning when he appeared for sentence, Judge Davis gave him a term of three years in the penitentiary.

It will be remembered that Metcalf was indicted jointly with Wm. Pollard during the fall of 1904 for the larceny of 175 head of sheep, which were taken from Ward brothers, near Logan valley. Metcalf was first arrested, but he made an effort to saddle the stealing of the sheep on Wm. Pollard, for whom he claimed he was working. All went well until Pollard was arrested. Metcalf at once saw there was no show for him to evade punishment, especially if Pollard's story was accepted as the truth by the officers. He gave a cash bail and since has made himself scarce. When the case came up for hearing Pollard plead guilty and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. While at the state prison his conduct was excellent, and the credit marks received lessened his term more than one-fourth, and early last spring he was given his liberty.

Sheriff Ambrose left Tuesday night with Metcalf, whom he will deliver to the penitentiary authorities at Salem.—Blue Mountain Eagle.
