JULIAN BYRD — Manager

Teddy got a small addition to the forest reserves out here before the Fulton amendment was made a law anyway. Only about 9,000,000 acres though.

Few people seem to realize the rapidity of the settlement of this section. New people are coming in every day and very few if any leave before locating on public land or buying property.

The United States senate sits too fast a pace for Spooner and he has therefore resigned. The manager of this great religious has nursed political ambitions but alas! Spooner has sent them all aglimmering!

Wm. Farre has been reappointed and confirmed as register of the land office at this place. This is a fitting recognition of his efficient services of the past and is particularly gratifying to the patrons of the office. The reappointment was unsolicited by Mr. Farre.

The directors of the Harney County Fair Association have in contemplation the erection of a large and commodious pavilion. The building will be of sufficient size not only for the purpose of the fair, but also to accommodate the public as a hall for general purposes. It would be well put up and suitably arranged for dancing, theatricals and other public gatherings. The Association may issue special stock for this purpose and The Times-Herald believes it would meet with universal approval by the people of this city as such a building is badly needed.

The Times-Herald has been more than once taken to task for its "strenuous" promotion of this country and its efforts to bring in new people and attract capital to our exceptional resources. It has come to us indirectly recently that we have misrepresented the Harney country. In our enthusiasm may appear to the "drone" and pessimist that we overdo it, but we are ready to back up any assertion yet made. The man who can see no future for such a promising section as Harney county certainly has something wrong with his digestion and we would recommend a change of climate.

In the shade of the old apple tree, I've waited so long, love, for thee, that the voice I heard, grows faint with each word, till it's barely a whisper to me. There is no more buzz left in the tree, the blossoms are withered, ah, me!—the tree that once grew, where I waited for you, has changed to an old chestnut tree, where you hear the blazed buzz of the bee, with a big carving knife, that I swiped from my wife, I'm waiting and watching—by gosh! Of daggers I have two or three, an ax and a cutlass, you see, and I'll stick all these things, in the next guy who sings, "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."—Ex.

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS

The following proceedings have been transacted by the county court up to noon today:

Report of J. T. Barnes, road master of district No. 1 showed that he had received the sum of $334.64 from his predecessors and that he had expended $18, receipts of which were filed, leaving a balance in his hands of $316.64.

Petition of G. Griffin and others for county road was considered and the board of road viewers were instructed to proceed to survey view and lay out said road.

Board of road viewers instructed to survey, view and lay out a county road petitioned for by F. G. Jackson and 23 others.

The matter of the petition of J. R. Gould and others was continued for the term.

Petition of D. W. Cox for a way of necessity was continued for the term.

It appearing that Road Dist. No. 1 would need the sum of $200 to be expended during the next two months, that amount was ordered paid over to Road Master Willard W. Drinkwater, Justice Jasper Davis officiating.

Miss Vickers was a popular young lady of Harney, having lived here all her life. She was attired in beautiful dress of white embroidered net. Mr. Drinkwater was brought up in Harney county and is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Drinkwater of Burns among the pioneers of this county. Mr. Drinkwater is at present engaged in blacksmithing in Burns.

Many friends were present and after congratulations all were invited to the dining room to partake of a fine supper, which was offered with the usual good cheer of the home so noted for its hospitality.

The best wishes of hosts of friends go with Mr. and Mrs. Drinkwater to their new home in Burns.

One Who Was There.

The happy young couple are now at home in this city occupying a portion of the Col. Geer residence. They were the recipients of many presents the following being a list:

Grandpa Howser, water set; Grandma Howser, set dinner plates; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Vickers, rocking chair; Lennie Vickers, silver tea spoon; Jessie Vickers, large lamp; Edna Vickers, mush bowls; Robt. Drinkwater, cow; Mrs. Robt. Drinkwater, full dinner set; Miss Ula Drinkwater, set silver knives and forks; Robbie Drinkwater, silver tea spoons; T. G. Howser, set plates; Mrs. Rose Howser, table linen; Lola and Darrell Howser, set sauce dishes; S. R. Howser, tureen, butter dish and gravy boat; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Loggan, water set and tray; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bonyard, glass vase dishes; Roy Bonyard, mantle clock; Mrs. Maud Bonyard, set glassware; James Bonyard, large fruit dish; Mrs. Katie Bonyard, bed spread; Mrs. K. J. James, set sad irons; Luther Tudor, set large vases; James and Grandma Varian, China set; Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Varian, vases; Miss Lena Kriskie, china cake plate; Miss Eliza Loggan, two linen throws; Miss Ethel Russel, syrup pitcher; Miss Pearl Ward, lace window curtains; Miss Viola Richardson, china syrup pitcher; Miss Florence Richardson, silver card receiver; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shown, glass butterdish; Mrs. M. E. Bower, table linen; Norval Bussell, two linen towels; Clarence Drinkwater, silver table spoons and rug; Mrs. A. K. Richardson, two large pictures; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Clemens, linen toweling.

A WARNING.

I would like to warn my friends and the general public against a man named Stein who is now going around buying hides. He came to me with a proposition to form a partnership and control the hide business of this section, but I refused. He further said I was paying too much for hides and that by working together we could reduce the price. Since I would not enter into collusion with him he is now out in the country telling my customers that I am not paying them enough for hides and trying by this method to injure my business. To further add color to this assertion he also tells people that he has bought all the hides I have, thus trying to prove by inference, at least, that he was paying more for hides than I am.

I do not object to him buying hides or the people selling to him, but do not desire he should do so at the expense of my reputation. He has not bought any hides from me and I am still in the business and further expect to continue to buy hides, paying the highest price the market will justify,

G. W. CLEVENGER.
