Better than $30,000 to the good speaks well for Harney County. Nothing can give us a better impression among prospective settlers than this financial condition.

The suggestion that the Push club get in line and assist in making the 4th of July celebration a success is a good one. It is too much work for a few to assume the responsibility.

It has been suggested to The Times-Herald that our city authorities look into sanitary conditions in Burns. There is more or less filth throughout the town and now is the proper time to nip possible typhoid germs.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Locher's hall was filled to overflowing last evening by friends of the graduating class of the Harney county high school to witness the graduating exercises. The stage was handsomely decorated with flowers and potted plants with the class motto: "We Must Sail not Drift or Lie at Anchor" was displayed in the class colors, purple and orange across the front of the stage.

The program was opened by the band Curtis Smith followed with the Salutatory. He reviewed the history of the Harney county high school and his remarks were very appropriate. The male quartet rendered three numbers during the evening which were well received.

Miss Ada Neal's essay, "The Advantages of an Education," was a well prepared paper and showed much thought; Mrs. Gault sang two solos and as usual captivated all present. She responded to an encore with a catchy selection that pleased her hearers.

Miss Agnes Cawfield's recitation "The Building of the Ship," was one of the meritorious numbers. Agnes recites well and her friends certainly appreciate her talent. A double quartet by Madames Farre, Leonard, Finn and King and Messrs Byrd, Welcome, Brown and Marsden follow. This was well received. The essay "Burns," by Miss Alice Sweek was in the nature of a biography of the Scotch poet for whom this town was named.

The duet "O, That We now Might Wander," by Mrs. Farre and Julian Byrd was rendered in their usual manner. "Dr. Whitman's Expedition" by Miss Floy Thompson showed careful preparation and was well delivered.

thought as well as valuable advice. The valedictory was delivered by Miss Emma Muller in a very creditable manner. She is one of the brightest scholars of the class and her selection for this place was no mistake. Mrs. G. A. Rembold accompanied.

The members of the graduating class were Emma Muller, Ada Neal, Floy Thompson, Alice Sweek, Helene Swain, Myra King, Byrd King, Clifford Reed, Curtis Smith and Mason Smith.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Some two hundred guests were most delightfully entertained at the Presbyterian church last Saturday evening by the music pupils of Mrs. G. A. Rembold in their first recital. While we have always congratulated Burns upon her musical talent, we were truly surprised at the rapid advancement of our young people under their able instructor.

Every number on the program was well received and each participant showed excellent touch and perfect finger movement. It would be a hard matter to give particular individual praise in any of the piano selections for without exception they were all good. Taking into consideration the youthfulness of the class and it being their first appearance in public, it was most successful and we venture the assertion that no other town the size of Burns could do better.

The vocal numbers were well selected and heartily applauded. Mrs. Gault rendered several solos in her usual happy manner, which were simply superb. To those who heard her for the first time it was a delightful surprise. The quartets by Mrs. Gault, Mrs. Farre, Mrs. Rembold and Mrs. Leonard were particularly well rendered. One cannot help but appreciate such excellence among our home people and many seemingly fail to realize that we have such talent. Mrs. Gault is a finished vocalist with a voice of particular sweetness, great range and over which she exercises perfect control. She responds so willingly to the demands of her friends in assisting with musical programs that she has become a prime favorite among them all. Mrs. Rembold's unsurpassed work is just beginning to show through the performance of her pupils and is therefore more appreciated than in the past.

The Times Herald regrets its inability to publish the program. The pupils participating were: George Marsden, Lenore Sizemore, Viola and Florence Richardson, Walton Brown, Janette Gowen, Talley Johnson, Bessie Swain, Helen Purrington, Mervin Horton, Mrs. Racine.
