OUR FIXED POLICY

The established policy of this bank is to carry a large cash reserve, be satisfied with reasonable earnings upon our investment and to sacrifice profits for the safety of depositors. We extend to our patrons every courtesy and every consideration consistant with safe banking and prudent business methods. Promises made by banking institutions further than this mean a forfeiture of the complete control which the management of every bank must at all times retain to insure absolute safety to the depositors. We shall steadfastly refuse to enter into any competition for business which means the slightest deviation from this policy which has stood the test of time and which has made conservative institutions strong at all times, thus enabling them to render to their elients invaluable assistance during those times of financial stringency which sooner or later visit the country. Banking institutions which endure permanently must carefully consider the future; consequently we are building up a large surplus, now equal to sixty per cent of our capital 10 stock, or three times the maximum amount required by the National Banking laws. Lud. 18. We do an old fashioned banking business. The matter contained in our advertisements will be facts, easily substantiated as such, and not idle phrases, meaningless to the intelligent, but intended to deceive. Our loans will be made with the sole view of caring for the conservative. legitimate needs of our patrons. It is not the province of a bank to capitalize any interest, therefore we shall refrain from doing so. We have no special interests to serve, hence can be depended upon to properly care for and protect the interests of our customers both large and small.

UNDER THIS POLICY

we invite the banking business of all those who desire to carry bank accounts. It matters not what your occupation may be or how limited your means, this bank will welcome an account from you, cheerfully extending to all, regardless the size of your account the same courteous and satisfactory service. This message applies to women and men alike.
