PLANTING ORCHARDS.

A large number of fruit and ornamental trees, as well as berry bushes, have been ordered and planted by Harney county residents during the last two seasons. Indications now are that this year will see an enormous increase in the acreage devoted to fruit culture and with proper selection of stock, a little care as to selection of location and planting, together with looking after trees after they have started, giving them some advantage to thrive, Harney county will have fruit to feed the pigs unless Mr. Harriman hurries that road along and gives us a chance to get it to market. The great variety of fruit shown at the county fair last fall has encouraged local people to take more interest in the fruit industry. The flavor and coloring, or anything else that goes to make good fruit, Harney county will not take a back seat for any country.

“CROAKERS” PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

“Either a flood or a drought” was the common expression of the “croakers” for the past two weeks, but the big rain of last Wednesday put them out of business. New people were advised not to locate in the season was going to be very dry and crops a failure. People who had lived here for twenty years were all liars when they said they had never known a complete failure of crops in the Harney country. And, of course, this was the only place in the whole universe that was suffering from lack of rain—note the clipping elsewhere in regard to the drought being responsible for a great loss of lambs in what is called the great wheat belt of the northwest. The sheepmen of this county have complained of shortage of water on the range. To be sure the range grass was much in need of moisture, but it has been greatly improved by the rains and stock will now have an abundance of feed. The recent rains have brightened prospects for an excellent yield of grain. It will require more moisture to insure a big crop, but it has never failed to come in May and June—it will be an exceptional year, indeed, if rain fails to fall during that period. Many new people are encouraged and all who were hesitating have made haste to file on land. The Times-Herald is pleased to find such an enthusiastic lot of people coming as it means more to follow upon their advice to friends elsewhere.

BOOM IN SHEEP.

Big muttons are about the scarcest article in stock yard circles now. Such is the security that salesmen have been allowed to name prices provided they acted within reason. Such sheep as were hard to sell at $4.50 or less last December have recently soared above the 6-cent line. Export trade has been checked by virtue of inability to secure mutton for that outlet and many who put on lambs last fall are now indulging in sheep. It is gratifying that an other-wise demoralized trade exhibits one luminous spot. Last season everybody went to sheep and the crop did not remunerate growers for making it; this season big muttons were let severely alone and only that kind has made a dollar. It is true early sheep lost money, the financial flurry was responsible for that but the late end of the crop has yielded gratifying results.—Livestock World.

DROUGHT IS KILLING LAMBS

EWES CANNOT FURNISH MILK TO KEEP THEM ALIVE

Some Flocks Depleted as Much as Sixty Per Cent—Owners Hurrying Them on To The Forest Reserve.

A special from Pendleton to the Oregonian says: Losses totaling thousands of dollars are being suffered weekly by the sheepmen of Eastern Oregon on account of the extended drought which this section of the state is experiencing, according to prominent woolgrowers, who are in the city to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the State Woolgrowers Association and the advisory board of the eastern division of the Blue Mountain forest.

START SHEEP TO RAILROAD.

About 800 head of fine beef cattle were started to the railroad for shipment this week. F. L. Mace started a bunch of some 200 head on Tuesday and Wm. Hanley started 601 head on Wednesday. The stock is in excellent condition and with good range will reach the railroad in fine shape and be an advertisement for Harney county wild

PLAN WAR ON THE COVOTES

TRAINED HUNTERS NOW AT WORK ON THE RANGE.

Woolgrowers’ Association Will Take up Work and Ask Help From the National Association—Best Method.

The offering of bounties for the scalps of predatory animals has so often failed to accomplish that good hoped for that the bounty plan has lost favor in many localities. The Woolgrowers’ Association of Oregon has just gone on record at its recent meeting at The Dalles as favoring the abandonment of the bounty system and substituting the system of killing the animals by private effort and employment of professional hunters. The association will take up the work, and ask assistance from the National Association.

WOULD A CREAMERY PAY?

The Times-Herald has harped upon the subject of a creamery for some time, but it has been stated that there isn’t sufficient business to justify, or rather that the milk was not here in sufficient quantities within a certain radius to supply a creamery. The writer doesn’t pretend to know anything about the butter business, but he does know that at certain times of the year it is simply impossible to get fresh butter—and this is one of the times. There are several ranches in this vicinity who make good butter, but not sufficient to supply the local demand. In fact there are but a few weeks—if at all—any time of the year that good fresh butter is plentiful in the local market.

If a creamery wouldn’t pay we would advise several dozen more farmers to milk a few cows and furnish the local market with butter. In a financial way it would be a helluva better business than running a newspaper all “holer” and if the manager of this great religious weekly had the capital he’d go into the dairy.

LOOKING FOR BIG INVESTMENTS.

Messrs. W. Marsh and Geo. Sampson of Seattle, Wash, arrived in this city Wednesday for the purpose of looking over the Harney country with a view of locating permanently. Mr. Marsh was accompanied by his family as far as Baker City where they remained awaiting his investigation of conditions here. Should he find the country up to expectations he will have the family come in and that will also mean the coming of from 25 to 50 other families as Mr. Marsh has been delegated to make a report to a large number of friends and his favorable commendations will bring them.

The gentleman is also looking for possible investment of large capital in the way of big irrigation schemes, land investments, etc., and should he find anything that would appeal to these capitalists may interest them. He expects to look over the country thoroughly before deciding definitely. He will spend at least a month visiting the various parts of the county.
