DEEP INTEREST IN

2000 Animals Will be assured that there are 2500 and 3000 exhibited on the Portland Country Club Association at its meeting at the Show Sept. 1-10. To gain the widespread interest in the matter, it is said that there will be deer from California and Washington and all the great surplus of cattle, sheep, and horses throughout the west are intensely interested in the coming meeting. In attendance in the past are ten of California's famous stables. In these stables are many of the best extensive real estate here if they do so, and as scrapers are put down on the investment of any other it is not unlikely that they may buy here.

BIG SALE OF CATTLE.

One of the largest cattle sales made in this section in several years was closed at Ontario Monday when 3,500 head of cattle changed owners. For the week while out hunting for deer we found where something had killed a four-year-old buck deer and had dragged it up a steep hill for 200 yards. On examining the ground we found that the deer had been killed by a cougar and we made up our minds to get Mr. Cougar.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

(Portland Correspondent)
When the Oregon Development League recently asked the co-operation of the state in making a comprehensive exhibit of the products of the Pacific Northwest, heaviest assurances of help came from every quarter, but before definite arrangements could be completed the Trustees of the Commercial Club Building were offered a five years rental of $21,000 for the exhibit room and felt compelled to accept this in justice to the stockholders. But the officers of the League say that their plan will yet materialize.

VALLEY RAILWAY

valley Railway commenced one of the most important pieces of work by that company in the cutting down of the level of the road bridge separating the river about a Summer. It is to reduce the elevation of the hundred feet, and are at work and now in full swing to reach this bridge to pull to the grade one of the company will, and has been a series of tracks and leveled, where the train will be the time they are liable from wild down the. A large crowd of the work will be summer.—Grant

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Manufacturers in all parts of the United States seem to be taking a new interest in the investigation of conditions here in the Northwest, and especially in the true of the factory which represents a moderate investment. From every city of any size on the Coast delegates have come to Portland to attend the session of Pacific Coast Ad Men's Association. It is being held in the Convention Hall of the Commercial Club Building, and the Association will enjoy a unique dinner at the Club to-night—their banquets are probably the most unusual and interesting given by any convention—they have been compared to similar affairs of the famous Grid-Iron Club of Washington—and since the Portland Ad. Men claim to have the largest Advertising Club in America, they are making special effort as hosts.

WHAT BAD WEATHER COSTS.

Of course everyone is interested in the weather, but few think how much effect it has on trade. In this connection the Dresher Anzeiger sums up, apparently from English sources, some figures concerning the cost of bad weather to those engaged in the different branches of trade. When it rains, nearly all tradesmen complain of bad business, except the cigar dealers; the latter, however, rub their hands with delight. The desire to make a bad day more endurable by a good cigar increases the takings of the cigar dealer by 15 per cent. The public-house keepers in the city have no cause

KILLED MONSTER COUGARS

KEPT WATCH FOR TWO NIGHTS IN A DRIZZLING RAIN.

Deputy Game Warden Writes How He and Companion Killed Two Cougars— Cats Had Killed a Deer.

The East Oregonian received the following interesting letter from "Fat" Turner, deputy game warden, who is now hunting in the south part of the county, and who with Henry Lazinka killed two monster cougars in Camas Prairie this week. Mr. Turner says:
The East Oregonian received the following interesting letter from "Fat" Turner, deputy game warden, who is now hunting in the south part of the county, and who with Henry Lazinka killed two monster cougars in Camas Prairie this week. Mr. Turner says:
Mel Shurtum and wife and myself and wife have been stopping at Henry Lazinka's place in Camas Prairie for several days and have some exciting times. This week while out hunting for bear we found where something had killed a four-year-old buck deer and had dragged it up a steep hill for 200 yards. On examining the ground we found that the deer had been killed by a cougar and we made up our minds to get Mr. Cougar.
Henry Lazinka and myself went out one evening at 5 o'clock to watch and kept watch all night in a drizzling rain, changing off with each other every two hours during the night. However, the cougars did not come back and we stayed all next day and the next night until about 3 o'clock in the morning when they appeared cautiously creeping toward the deer's carcass.
I tell you they looked big and savage with their eyes shining in the moonlight and it was a sight a man will not often see in a lifetime. We each selected a cougar and counted three and fired and killed both animals at the first shot.
It was a long watch of about 36 hours in drizzling rain and snow, but we made up our minds to get them and so we were rewarded well for our trouble.
These cougars had killed several ponies and many calves in Camas Prairie and measured 6 1/2 feet from tip to tip. They weighed about 115 pounds each.
Shurtum acted as camp tender for us while we watched, carrying grub to us in the brush.

LAND CONTESTS WITHOUT SCRIPLES.

New land contests are coming up every day, says a Lakeview news dispatch. The business of contesting is being carried to extremes, for persons who proved up on claims several years ago, but through the slowness of the force in the General Land Office have not received their patents, are being forced into contests. These contests are usually brought against persons who have left the country, and the object is to force them to sell their rights for a small sum or else return here and fight the contest at a big expense. It appears that the most unscrupulous methods are being used in securing patents, and in many instances the cases are brought against women who endured many hardships in holding down the claims for a long time and then making commutation proof. A peculiar incident came up a few days ago, when a big, affable man brought a contest against a widow who has three children to support and who made commutation proof about two years ago, but for some reason or other has not been sent her patent. The evidence in the case has been submitted, but a decision has not been rendered.

WHO WAS HE?

A Lakeview press dispatch says: A man, apparently a German, who had been on a protracted drunk, came to town a few days ago and shortly afterwards was found dead in the city jail, where he went of his own accord. His identity cannot be learned. All that is known is that he at one time worked at the butcher business in Burns, Ore.

OX DRIVER HOME IS AGAIN

BELIEVES PURPOSE OF TRIP WILL BE A SUCCESS.

Ezra Meeker Returns From Transcontinental Tour With Old-Time Prairie Schooner and Team of Faithful Oxen.

Having addressed more than 100,000 school children, met the president in the White House and numerous other notables, and believing that the purpose of his trip along the old Oregon trail—to have congress build a concrete road across the continent—will eventually be a success, Ezra Meeker, the pioneer, arrived in Portland this morning after having traveled more than 4,500 miles by ox team during the last year and a half.
Mr. Meeker will remain in Portland for two weeks and will take part in the Pioneers' day celebration June 10. The ox team and wagon and camp outfit are on their way to Portland, having been shipped from St. Joseph, Missouri, by train last week. While here Mr. Meeker will camp out on some lot in the city. This afternoon Mr. Meeker will consult Jacom Kamm, another old-timer, to see if he can have the privilege of putting up his tent on one of Mr. Kamm's lots near the business district.
Mr. Meeker says his trip has been a success in every way. The people everywhere, he says, were particularly glad to see him and welcomed him with open arms. In New York city, where Mr. Meeker remained two months the aldermen passed a special ordinance allowing his ox team to appear on the streets of America's metropolis.
Since he left the coast in January, 1906, Mr. Meeker has lived in the open most of the time, and visited most of the principal cities of the country. As a result, he is still "77 years young," as he puts it himself.
While away one of the oxen died but the other still remains in service. The mate was taken from the stockyards at Omaha and has since traveled more than 3,000 miles, dragging the prairie schooner and driver all those miles.
For the present Mr. Meeker is staying at the Perkins. The ox team will arrive within a few days and will appear on the streets of Portland. At The Dalles they will be unloaded from the freight car and driven to Portland by Mr. Meeker himself, who will go there to meet them.—Journal.

NO WOOL MOVING.

The staff correspondent of the Boise Statesman sends the following from Vale under recent date: There is absolutely no wool moving here now. There is about 800,000 pounds stored in the warehouse here and more coming in almost daily. Growers refuse to sell at the low price offered which in some cases is as low as 8 or 9 cents a pound.
Mr. Thomas Venable, a rancher of Diamond, Ore., said today that the prices being offered were about half of what he sold for last year but that he did not look for a much better market before fall. This seems to be the general opinion of the majority of sheepmen interviewed.
The spring crop of lambs will run from 110 to 115 per cent. Some are even so optimistic as to say the increase will be 150 per cent, but this is somewhat overdrawn.
