GENIE REPORT.

After a three days' battle with his ancient enemy, neuralgia, General Edmund O'Brien, of the Harriman line, is back at his desk. He caught a severe cold the latter part of last week and was forced to take to his bed last Sunday, says the Telegram.

Mr. O'Brien writes vigorously that the O. R. & N. had offered $1,000,000 for the right of way for a projected railroad through southeastern Oregon which the Ecclesiasticals of Salt Lake and Ogden, are supposed to be interested in. Newspaper reports from Salt Lake had it a few days ago that the Ecclesiasticals had been quietly making surveys through a considerable portion of southeastern Oregon, Nevada and Utah for the purpose of building a line from Salt Lake and eventually up into the state of Oregon. It was reported that rights of way between road and all-roads have secured water operations that the Harriman people are endeavoring to control this prospective route of operations that they have $1,000,000 had been offered for the lines rights.

"This is the first I ever heard of," said Mr. O'Brien today. "While the road is run and who is behind it so far as I know, there is nothing in the report."
