W. L. HARRIS - - - - - Manager

There is an increasing demand in this section for grain of all kinds and The Times-Herald would remind our farmers that there is no danger of an over production for the present, at least.

Mr. Hill says he will not build into Central Oregon. Col. Holabird said the other day that he had spread the maps and data on the grass at Pelican lodge last summer and talked for hours to Mr. Harriman about this country and the latter doesn't seem in any hurry either.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell is booked to be one of the speakers at the Development Congress here July 1 and 2. He will speak on Land Monopoly. Col. E. M. Heigho, of the P. I. N. railroad at Weiser and Ex-Secretary of State Will P. Gibson of Boise are also on the program.

J. J. Hill, the big railroad builder said at a banquet in Portland the other day that Central Oregon should have a railroad and if private capital wouldn't build it it might be advisable to do it ourselves. He is not adverse to the plan of state owned railroads under such conditions.

A meeting of the Burns Commercial Club is called for next Tuesday evening at which time will be made for the Development League program. Our citizens should all take an active interest in this matter regardless of whether they are members of the club or not. There will be several prominent speakers here to participate and we hope for good results.

AN EASY WAY.

I have a new plan for the young men of Harney county who desire to marry and are without the necessary funds, so I must impart the glad good news.

There is a young couple in a small town in Harney county and they want to marry, and they haven't 'got the price.' You know it takes 'spot' cash to get married—well, a very dear friend thought of a lovely plan to help them along. So when a man comes to town—it really doesn't matter whether he is much acquainted with him or not—he tells them of this poor couple's trouble and lays the case before him in a very creditable manner and asks financial aid, of course, the fellow wants to know how much will do, and he thinks ten dollars will do, with what other assistance he can get, for he must have enough 'spot' cash for license and etc.

Now this fellow is certainly a 'plum good one' and if you Harney county boys want any help just call on him, and he will help you out so you will need not pitch hay for a month or so, this is easier.

W. W. BROWN WINS SUIT.

The supreme court has recently handed down a decision in the case of W. W. Brown vs. W. Z. Moss involving the ownership of some horses. The case was tried in Lake county and decided in the circuit court in favor of Moss but the supreme court has reversed the lower court and remanded it for trial.

This case is of more or less interest to stock men as it deals with the legality of brands which are of record. It seems the circuit court ruled out certifications of record of Mr. Brown's brand in adjoining counties and that the brand was not legal in Lake county on account of its similarity to the brand of Moss which had been made of record. The supreme court holds that Brown's brand was properly recorded and a certified copy should have been admitted as evidence. The decision says in part:

The brand of plaintiff, as recorded by him, was not the same as that alleged to have been previously recorded by defendant, nor was it similar thereto within the meaning of the statute. The law provides that when a brand has been recorded in any county no other person, company, or corporation, can record the same brand or a brand similar thereto, except with the written consent of the owner of the brand so recorded §4202 B. & C. Comp. The defendant's brand for horses, as claimed to have been recorded by him, consists of a loop resembling a horseshoe in shape, with the points either up or down, on either or both jaws. Also a similar loop or horseshoe with points up and a Greek cross immediately to the right of it on either hip. Plaintiff's brand, as first recorded, was for horses alone, and consists of a 'Horseshoe, with bar under, on one or both jaws, and a horseshoe on one or both jaws.' In August, 1903, he recorded his brand again, including therein one for sheep, as well as horses. In the certificate of adoption he states, that this brand for horses is a Horseshoe Bar on either or both jaws, thus indicating that it might be a horseshoe with or without the bar. The property in controversy in this action is alleged by plaintiff in his complaint, to have been branded with the Horseshoe Bar brand, and it was to prove ownership of the animals so branded that the certified copy of the record of his brand was offered in evidence. In this regard there is no conflict between the brand of plaintiff and defendant. The defendant's brand for horses resembles a horseshoe, with points either up or down, while that of plaintiff is a horseshoe with open end down and a bar immediately under it. They are, therefore, in this respect, at least, not the same, and a conflict in some other particular would be immaterial and not render the entire brand, as recorded, ineffective, as prima facie evidence of ownership of animals branded with the Horseshoe Bar brand."

A NUMBER OF RACE HORSES HERE

Several head of running horses and one trotter arrived here this week for the July race meet and it is understood several mares will come in later.

Among those now quartered at the fair grounds are: Baker Bros, with Miss Novajo, Carrie Thatcher and Confederate, all runners; R. B. Baber has Evermore and Patsy Brown, runners, and Ellis A. a green trotting stallion who has never been marked. The Officer Bros. are in charge of Ebel Thatcher, Belle Griffon, Lady Barnato, Tom Cain, a two-year-old, Jerusha, Maine, Master Wade Hampton and Seventy. T. J. Armstrong has John H., Brandy, Primrose and Trump. R. Moore has a two-year-old colt named Ambergran. Tom Stephens is also working some local colts.

Not many harness horses are being worked for the July meet but there will be a string for fair week. It seems there will be a sufficient number to fill the harness races in July, however. Among those being jogged at this time are: Chas. Johnson's Jimmie, Dr. Denman's Twelfth-night and J. W. Biggs' The Remitor. It is possible Frank Cole may do something with his handsome young stallion Harold Welcome and M. F. Williams has a very promising colt. Some harness horses are expected here from Payette, Idaho, too.

A FENCE

The trial of William Hanley, the Harney County stockman, for the illegal fencing of government land is an outrage—with lots of descriptive adjective before it. The evidence showed that Hanley purchased the land with the improvements on it. There had been some government land included under the same fences, but there was nothing to show that Hanley knew it included government land.

It was shown that this fence was down in several places and did not keep stock in or out. It was shown that Hanley had never fenced a foot of government land himself, or caused it to be done. The conditions are the same as when he bought the land. Strain at a gnat and swallow a camel.—Lakeview Herald.

VALUABLE SQUIRREL POISON.

The following valuable method of exterminating the pesky squirrel is sent in by J. S. W. Smith who resides on Fall creek: "I noticed in the last issue of the Eagle that the squirrels were becoming a pest in different places in the county and if you will permit me space in your valuable paper I will submit a fatal dose which I think will prove effective and exterminate the pest which has been so ruinous to growing crops.

"Take about a gallon and a half of oats and put them in a can and cover with water. Put them on a slow fire to boil and pour in one twenty-five cent bottle of strychnine. Boil it all together until the oats swell and burst, and stir them while cooking. When done take them off and pour in about a quart of sugar and stir it good. Allow it to stand over night and the next day scatter it so that the squirrels can get it. They will eat oats when they will not take any other bait. I know that if this is followed the extermination of the pest will result."—Blue Mt. Eagle.
