The large timber wolf spoken of last week is no more. A reward of $117, together with the bounty and market price of the pelt sent three young men on his trail. The men, Oscar and Irvin Crain and Tommy O'Kelley covered his trail with traps, and yesterday his wolfship was nipped. He was a large brute and broke the chain of the trap which held him prisoner, and dragged the trap for a long distance through the snow, which left a plain trail for the hunters to follow. The wolf was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, weighing about 120 pounds.—Prineville Review.
