A COLONIAL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gault, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Welcome Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Welcome gave a most delightful military whist party at the Gault home Thursday evening. The rooms were decorated most handsomely with the National colors and each hostess wore colonial costumes with powdered hair. Each guest was provided with a cap upon entering, the gentlemen with George Washington hats and the ladies with caps of the colonial times. Place cards were in the shape of hatchets. There were eleven forts to defend and progression was made at the sound of the bugle.

The forts defended by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller, Miss Swain and Sam Mothershead and Mesdames I. Schwartz, G. A. Rembold, Messrs C. F. McKinney and M. Schwartz tied for highest honors. They cut the cards and the handsome prizes went to Mesdames Schwartz and Rembold, Messrs McKinney and Mothershead. The consolation prizes went to Mesdames Marsden and Love, Messrs Mace and I. Schwartz.

The refreshments were also colonial and most tastefully served, the National colors again prevailing. Each guest was given a George Washington hatchet with telescope handle in which was a flag fan. Following luncheon the company sang "Star Spangled Banner" before taking their departure for home.

C. T. Miller is up from his stock ranch.
