HALLEY'S COMET.

nese annals do not mention this comet, but they mention comets in the years 1222 and 1224, neither of which, Mr. Hind thought, closely resembled Halley's comet.

The comparison of all these old observations is rendered more difficult by the fact that other conspicuous comets appeared about the same time as Halley's. That experience is in a way repeating itself, for during the present year two notable comets besides Halley's have appeared. The brilliant calculations recently made by Messrs. Cowell and Crommelin, of Greenwich, have shown that Mr. Hind was wrong about the particularly bright comet of 1202, which was unquestionably Halley's comet. Moreover, Messrs. Cowell and Crommelin have carried back the history of Halley's comet to B. C. 240.

Every chronicler recorded a wonderful comet in 1066, the year of the Norman conquest of England. The representation of it in the Bayeux tapestry is familiar. The Chinese annals mention two comets in 837, and if it be assumed that there really were two comets that year and that the copyists have not confused two accounts of the same comet, it is likely enough that one of them was Halley's. In 451 a comet was obseved about the time of the battle in which Attila was defeated by Aetius. In the years 295 and 218 comets are mentioned in the annals. The latter was the comet that was seen in Europe shortly before the death of the Emperor Opilius Macrinus and was described by Dion Cassius as a very fearful star. Mr. Hind suggested that the so-called sword shaped sign which was seen over Jerusalem in A. D. 65, when Titus began the war which ended in the destruction of the city, may have been Halley's comet. In the year B. C. 11 there was undoubtedly a remarkable comet which, according to Dion Cassius, seemed to be suspended above Rome before the death of Agrippa. As the Chinese annals also mention it, Mr. Hind believed that this too was Halley's comet.

Not all Mr. Hind's "ascription," as art critics say, are reconcilable with Messrs. Cowell and Crommelin's latest calculations, but enough is established on all hands to prove that Halley's comet has been appearing ever since the history of the skies has been written.—Spectator.

COLONIST RATES to OREGON and the Great Northwest

The management of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co. takes great pleasure in announcing that the low rate from Eastern cities, which have done so much in past seasons to stimulate travel to and settlement in Oregon, will prevail again this Spring DAILY from March 1 to April 15, inclusive.

PEOPLE OF OREGON

The railroads have done their part; now it's up to you. The colonist rate is the greatest of all home-builders. Do all you can to let Eastern people know about it, and encourage them to come here, where land is cheap and home-building easy and attractive.

Fares can be Prepayed at home if desired Any agent of the road named is authorizto receive the required deposit and telegraph ticket to any point in the East.

Remember the Rates—From Chicago $33; from St. Louis, $32; from Omaho and Kansas City, $25. This reduction is proportionate from all other cities.

NEW CLUBBING PROPOSITION

We have arranged to offer in connection with this paper, the new monthly farm magazine just started at Lincoln, Nebraska, by Prof. H. W. Campbell and devoted to the subject of how to farm in the dry country and how to get best results from soil tillage under normal conditions. This Paper is Campbell's Scientific Farmer and we offer it clubbed with The Times-Terald both for $2.50 per year cash. Prof. Campbells' new paper is a monthly, chock full of good things, the only paper of its kind in the world, and it embodies the results of the editor's many years of painstaking investigation of the soil tillage proposition.

Don't Risk even a penny—until health returns. And I mean just exactly that.
I am the one physician who says to the sick: "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!"
And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city, hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.
Then why pay the cash, and of your risk, when other unwarranted and unproven medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach, each nerve or the Heart fails, Dr. Shoop's Restorative helps, no pay, medicine to the sick.
Tell me also which book you need.
The books below will surely point up new and helpful ideas to many. Those who are not well. Call me by letter. Entirely free to consult. Please write me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.
Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up serious ailments. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription personal advice plan. My best effort is at your service.
