Teddy has broken loose again and holds first page in the newspapers. He is a full fledged insurgent and is ready for a scrap.

With barley going better than 30 and wheat 22 bushels to the acre on dry sagebrush land a season like this Harney county isn't so slow after all.

The recent forest fires have been disastrous to the Pinchot conservation plans. It is a pity that so much of the resources of this great country should be wiped out in flames.

It is hoped the business men of Burns will come forward with a pledge of a small sum each toward the entertainment program of the fair by Monday evening.

A SUCCESSFUL CHASE

Sheriff Richardson returned yesterday with two prisoners who are charged with horse stealing. The crime was committed some time ago and by active and alert methods our popular sheriff has been watching for a chance to catch the culprits and his efforts have been successful.

The chase took him into six states and caused him to travel a long distance. He was informed that Charley Hart was in Susanville, California and went there first to secure him. At that point he learned that Gene Wert, the other man wanted for the same crime, had gone to Idaho.

The sheriff followed his trail through that state, Nevada, Utah and finally to Helena, Montana where he found him. Wert was known as Franklin and was driving a traction engine for a thrasher. He at first denied he was the man wanted but that his name was not Wert, but as the sheriff had Hart with him who identified Wert beyond any question Mr. Richardson brought him. The return trip brought them through Spokane, Wash.

Sheriff Richardson has been very successful in capturing law breakers and has not put the county to any great expense in doing it. This time he brought the prisoners in without any assistance and covered a great distance without any trouble. Both men are now in jail and their trial will come up at the October term of court.

LARGE LAND DEAL

What is perhaps the largest deal in real estate in this section for a long time was consummated this morning when Montie B. Gwinn, secretary of the Malheur Livestock & Land company, completed the details of a transaction by which this company acquires 40,000 acres of land of the Eastern Oregon Land company, 14,000 acres being purchased outright for cash, and a ten-year lease taken on 26,000 acres.

The land is located in the Blue mountains, Malheur county, Oregon, adjoining the Malheur forest reserve, which is said to be the finest range for sheep in eastern Oregon. While it is classed as grazing territory, used almost exclusively for summer range, the land bought contains numerous springs and much valuable hay meadow, and adjoining the forest is ideal pasture in spring and fall, before and after the reserve season for grazing, thus lengthening the range season.

The company has extensive land holdings for winter grazing on the low lands of Malheur county, where hundreds of tons of hay are harvested every year, and the purchase of this vast territory gives it a summer range for many thousands of sheep and it makes its business permanent and secure relieving the company of uncertainty often confronting sheepmen as to range location.—Boise Capital News.

Dr. H. M. Horton came down from the mill Wednesday and reports the forest fire well under control at that time with little danger of another serious outbreak unless a high wind should come up in the right direction. The fire so far has done little damage to the standing timber of age, but has killed a large amount of the new growth of pines. The fire is very bad on land that has been logged as there is much brush and rubbish but in the green timber the flames have nothing but the grass and pine needles, therefore does not assume proportions as it does where much dead and dry brush is lying on the ground.
