SCHENK BROS. Burns, Ore.

illegal fencing of government lands, received a reversal of the order and judgment.

Mr. Hanley is the manager of the William Hanley company which owns the lands formerly the property of the French-Glen Co.

Twenty years or more ago Peter French, one of the former owners of the land, fenced in Blitzen Valley, incidentally at the same time fencing public land. During the land fraud investigation, government inspectors visited the ranch and inspected the fences.

Mr. Hanley took legal advice and became of the opinion that the fences erected by Mr. French were illegal. He issued orders that the gates be thrown open and no repairs be made when breaks occurred.

He also notified the authorities that he did not want the company to suffer for an offense committed before it acquired the land and that he would remove the fences if ordered to do so by the Interior Department.

He was, however, indicted, tried and convicted, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. Mr. Hanley left Portland last night before he could be seen.

"Taffying the Boss."

The manager of this paper very seldom "toots his own horn," but when he receives, without solicitation, such expressions of commendation as the following he feels justified in keeping on the harness and by closer application working for the interest of this community and this the coming country of Oregon, and an occasional "pat on the back" accompanied with the substantial "two plunks" to help on the cause is ever in order and acceptable.

MR. JULIAN BYRD.

Dear Sir:—Find inclosed "two plunks," subscription to Times-Herald. In forty years of newspaper reading in several different states I have never taken a cleaner or more impartial paper, while some of your opinions are apparently too optimistic, still time may show your judgment correct. I recognize the fact that you are advertising the resources, etc., of this country virtually free gratis, and every man in Harney county should

IRRIGATION WORK TO BEGIN EARLY.

Contract Let for First Unit of the Silver Creek Project to Commence in Spring.

C. B. McConnell returned Tuesday evening from Boise where he and his associates have been conferring with eastern parties and contractors relative to the Silver Creek irrigation project. He reports that the general plans have been approved and agreed upon, leaving a few of the details until such time as all parties interested can be upon the ground soon after the breakup this spring, and after which time full announcement will be made of the price and terms of water contracts, methods of handling the unappropriated government lands, etc.

The Slick Brothers Construction Company, Limited, of Boise, have the contract for the construction work on the first unit of the system and will bring in an outfit as early in the spring as work can be prosecuted.

This system comprises storage reservoirs with capacity for more than one hundred thousand acre-feet of water, and contemplates the reclamation of about thirty thousand acres of land.

Beginning of construction work on Silver Creek means much to Burns and the Harney Basin, as at present it is a part of our trading territory and the irrigation of that valley will be one of the most important steps and the best educator looking towards the comprehensive system which must ultimately be installed for the reclamation of the great Harney Basin.

Financial conditions in the East appear to be improving and bonding houses in New York and Chicago are now soliciting western stocks and bonds for their spring market. Large enterprises in interior Oregon are all practically tied up with the transportation question, and a definite announcement of the policy of railroad building would insure plenty of money for the proper development of this section of the state.

Mr. McConnell reports that all towns which he visited were exceedingly quiet. This was apparent in Boise and especially was

THE ORIGINAL BOOSTER.

The Times-Herald doesn't very often exert itself in order to call public attention to its worth and virtues, but there come times when it feels it would not be serving the best interest for which it has pioneered and stood, viz., the building of the Harney country, not to do so.

Two years ago The Times-Herald called attention to the visit of President Kerr, of the O. A. C., to Washington and his suggestion to the Department of their co-operating in experimental farm work. It made the assertion at that time that Harney county should have such a station. Its first expression was received indifferently but in a later issue it brought the subject more forcibly to the attention of its readers by asserting "that Harney county can have an experiment farm if the people would work for it." Archie McGowan called what was considered The Times-Herald's bluff by asking "How?" The manager replied, "Organize." A meeting was called and resulted in the organization of the Burns Commercial Club. Two years ago an effort was made to secure the dry farm experiment station and we failed through no fault of the Harney county people.

pioneer days of Harney county and has constantly hammered in season and out of season. That is why it enjoys the confidence and support of the "old time" people of this section and the respect of the new ones. Its subscription list is the largest in the county and is making a very substantial growth each week.

Its feeble efforts are appreciated and its shortcomings are overlooked by those who have come in touch with it during the past twenty-three years.

The Times-Herald enjoys the distinction of being the "original booster" and will just keep on "boosting."

A Portland paper says that railroads of Oregon have decided not to do a stroke of new work until the present session of the legislature shall have ended. Several millions of dollars which practically have been authorized for construction of extensions and new lines of both Hill and Harriman interests will not be touched or drawn upon until the fate of a number of bills now pending has been definitely determined.

According to one prominent railroad official there are enough "cinch" bills, "jokers," "riders," and measures involving taxation of a predatory or even confiscatory nature in the hopper at Salem that would make it absolute folly for the large industrial and railroad corporations to go ahead with extensive projects with such weapons hanging over their heads.

It seems the railroad people are a suspicious bunch, but thank goodness they won't have to wait long as the session of legislature will soon be over.

RABBIT DRIVE NEAR HARNEY.

The Times-Herald has been requested to announce a rabbit drive in the vicinity of Wm. Krizske's home three miles west of Harney on next Saturday and Sunday Feb. 18 and 19.

It is hoped the people of that section will turn out and help in these drives. The wings and corral will be in readiness and arranged by those living in the immediate vicinity.

STILL MORE RABBIT DRIVES.

Fred Denstedt was in Tuesday and desired it announced that there will be another rabbit drive in his neighborhood tomorrow morning. The corral and wings will be near his place east of the Korten place. Several teams will come to take out people from town who wish to take part in the drive. With experience these drives are more successful as those participating understand it better and no doubt more rabbits will be caught.

Chas. Davis writes us that two very successful drives were made last week beyond Harney at Laden point. On Thursday they caught 507 rabbits and on Monday of this week the same ground was covered and 371 were caught.

With the Sunset people organized for rabbit drives and other communities joining in the work much good may be accomplished in exterminating these pests during the winter.

HANLEY WINS CASE.

A San Francisco press dispatch under date of Feb. 6 says that by a decision of the Appellate Court, William Hanley, convicted in the Oregon court, and fined $500 for

We Get Our Dry Farm.

President Davey of the Burns Commercial Club received a telegram from Senator McCulloch of Baker county, last evening, announcing that the Harney Valley Dry Farm Experiment Station bill had passed the Senate. It had passed the House early in the week. It is now up to Governor West for his signature and will receive his hearty endorsement without question.

This is the best news received in this section for many a day and means more for Interior Oregon than is generally realized.

It is a matter for congratulation and should be properly celebrated by a Big Open House Meeting of the Burns Commercial Club.

Will Decorate New School Building.

With the certainty of a new public school building, those who are interested in the youth of Burns look forward with enthusiasm to its speedy accomplishment. They are keenly aware that improved conditions in the grades means a higher standard in the high school and therefore greater business ability in those who are graduated from that institution. No one thing undertaken by the people of Burns can have such far reaching results as the maintenance of a good public school. There are between two and three hundred children in the school today who are laying the foundations of a future citizenship, either negative in character or positive for good or evil. Their influence will count in a few years.

The condition of the present buildings is pernicious in its silent influence. Clean and orderly thinking is impossible for the child who daily sees upon the walls and desks the records of past lawlessness. The erection of a new building, with its fresh walls and new furniture will wipe this out.

But those who know children

WORK NEARLY DONE.

Completion during the present year of a large irrigation project in Harney county was announced last night by William Hanley, head of the company that is putting through the project. Between 70,000 and 80,000 acres of land will be put in readiness for cultivation when the canal is finished, says the Oregonian.

The project is in the Blitzen Valley and the principal work, that of connecting fifteen miles of canal, is now reported by Mr. Hanley as nearing completion. But three miles of work remain unfinished and this should be disposed of by fall, Mr. Hanley says: The canal is ten feet deep with a width of thirty feet.

Plans for colonization are to be made as soon as definite assurance is given of a railroad through the country included in the project. "We feel certain the transportation will be provided in due course of time," said Mr. Hanley. "The land will make homes for many thousands of people as soon as there is a railroad or definite assurance of the construction of a railroad."

The canal has been in construction for eight years. It will serve the purpose of draining swamp lands and irrigating arid sections.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Burns Commercial Club was held at the court house last Tuesday evening. There were but few people out and nothing of much consequence came before the meeting other than the report of a committee on some proposed pamphlets. The committee recommended the issuing of 25,000 pamphlets or folders of from 12 to 24 pages. A committee to prepare the subject matter for such a pamphlet was appointed and as soon as it is found the number of pages is required it is likely bids will be asked for the printing.

There should be a better attendance at the meetings and more interest taken in the club by the business men of Burns. The few who do take an active interest should be encouraged and made to feel that the real business interests of Burns are behind them. There is no excuse for the indifference shown unless it is the desire that the organization quit altogether.

A letter from W. F. King of Prineville was read showing that the people of that town were making preparations to build a first class wagon road from there to this place as an inducement to get the freight shipments of this territory that way when the Deschutes line is completed. If it can be shown that route is best and will be cheaper the Prineville people may rest assured of its being used.

this true of Baker City and Vale. The latter being far short of that rattle and boom of about one year ago. The only new business there this winter are the two saloons to take the place of the numerous "near beer" joints of the past. The citizens welcomed the new liquor man with open arms and a banquet. The largest saloon is in the old stone building formerly "The First Bank of Vale," and the name has proven so appropriate that the sign has not been changed.
