The Chewaucan Press says there are mad coyotes in the vicinity of Alkali Lake in Lake county and sheep men are arming their men and keeping a close watch. We have been under the impression that this "mad coyote" business was a farce and more newspaper talk than anything else. However it might be well to look out for such things.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has resigned. His resignation was sent the president in January but President Taft would not act upon it until after Congress adjourned.

A Portland paper in an editorial comment says of it: "It was time for Mr. Ballinger to resign." Yes, but not for the reason that paper sets forth. He should have resigned, not because he was incapable or had done anything wrong, but because he was harassed by a bunch that would not see a practical policy followed in that department. When a pack of "chumps" take the notion they can make it too warm for any man and it is best for all concerned that he quit even though he is the right man in the right place.

Following up the suggestion of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railroad, Governor Norris, of Montana will ask the governors of Oregon, Idaho, Washington, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota to meet in Helena May 3 and 4 for the purpose of assisting in the formation of the Northwestern Development League having for its purpose co-operation of the states in the matter of securing died recently in Portland. The immediate cause of his death was cancer and followed soon after an operation. Mr. Beggs and Mr. Hyde erected the Odd Fellow building in this city and deceased made a large number of friends here. He was a native of Scotland and was never married. He had a sister living in New Jersey, the only known relative in this country. Mr. Beggs was a 32nd degree Mason and was buried by that order in Boise last week. He left all his property to the Masonic lodge.

CITY ELECTION.
 The annual city election was held Tuesday and the following officers were elected: Mayor G. W. Clevenger; Councilmen, Hon. Frank Davey and A. C. Welcome; recorder, P. T. Randall; treasurer, J. C. Welcome, Jr.; Marshal, R. L. Haines. All the officers were re-elected and there was but one ticket except on recorder and marshal. E. N. Jameson was a candidate for recorder and J. H. Shepard for marshal. A mass meeting was called Saturday evening to put up another ticket, Ben Brown being the choice for mayor and C. Cummins was nominated for councilman but neither would consent to allow their names to go on the ballot.

NEWS FROM VALLEY VIEW.
 The basket social given by the ladies of Valley View and Lawen, held at the Lawen school house, was a huge success. The baskets sold from 75c to $4.10. Each and every one enjoyed themselves. The building was crowded, standing room being at a premium. The receipts of the evening were $34.60.
 H. F. Huntley is not back from Vale yet.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards made a trip to Burns this week. Mr. Edwards has been sick with rheumatism and we are glad to see him around again.

Geo. Cobb finished hauling his hay yesterday.

There will be a meeting at the school house in Valley View next Tuesday, March 14 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of organizing a grange. Everyone interested in this movement are cordially invited.

THE MOON AND POTATOES.
 After exhaustive experiments in potato planting, the United States Department of Agriculture has to say that in season one time is as good as another to put potatoes in the ground.

Almost every one, even if he were not reared in the country, has heard of the idea about planting potatoes in the dark of the moon. The field workers of the department of agriculture have been investigating the matter and have found that 75 per cent of the farmers of this alleged enlightened country put in their crops and do a good many other things about the farm governed solely by the moon's phases. Many farmers tell you that if you plant potatoes in the dark of the moon they will run to tubers, and if in the light of the moon they will run to tops, and crops are planted accordingly.

There is usually a basis in fact for any superstition, and the moon superstition is so deeply rooted that a number of experts from the department of agriculture, while going up and down and across the land, have made it their business to study the question and see whether there might not be a germ of truth or, at least, some reason for the general belief that the moon's phases have an effect on animal and vegetable life. They have concluded after patient investigation that the moon myth is one of the comparatively few myths that date back to pure savagery and has absolutely not an atom of scientific foundation on which to stand. The agricultural experiment stations all over the country have been defying this superstition for years and raising just as good crops when the moon was one way as when it was the other. Therefore, once and for all, it is conclusively decided that there is nothing to the theory that potatoes should be planted in the dark of the moon.

All of this may not seem very serious investigation for a great government to undertake, but the work nevertheless has been interesting to the scientists, and if they have succeeded in weaning a few from the old superstitions about planting potatoes, they have been well paid for their work.—Scientific American.

REV. A. J. IRWIN RESIGNS.

The many warm friends of Rev. A. J. Irwin regret to learn that he has resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this place and accepted a call as Sunday School Missionary and Pastor Evangelist in the southwestern part of this state. This is a position of great responsibility and covers a territory of eight counties. It comes to him unsolicited and with such urgency that he felt it his duty to accept. Covering such a territory Mr. Irwin will be deprived of the close personal relation and friendships that have brought him so close to a wide circle of friends and church workers during his long residence here as pastor. He is particularly fitted for the work he has been called upon to assume and while he reluctantly consent to his transfer we certainly congratulate the church people in the new field.

Mr. Irwin has been pastor of the Presbyterian church of Burns for over eleven years and during that period he and his estimable wife have endeared themselves to not only the church but a wide circle of friends all over the entire county. It will be a hard matter to find a pastor to supply this church after he has gone.

He will leave here March 27 so as to be on the new field the first of April. Mrs. Irwin and the boys will not leave until June when they will go to Albany where they have a nice little farm.

A little girl wrote this composition on man. "Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear, but don't go to church. Perhaps if they wore bonnets they would. They are more logical than women, and also more zoological. Both men and women sprung from monkeys, but the woman sprung further than the men."—Ex.
