JULIAN HYDE

The people of Burns and Harney county should see that Mr. Ashley and his bunch of Baker boosters who will be here next week are given every opportunity to secure whatever data they require in the line of work they are engaged. Harney county will be benefitted by this visit and it is up to us to make good so far as our part is concerned.

It appears that W. C. Parrish, the engineer in charge of the hydro-electric irrigation project along Malheur Lake, has a live bunch of people interested in his venture and that it will go with a vim. A party of some 15 will be here soon headed by Manager Ashley of the Baker Commercial Club. The party will receive a hearty welcome by the citizens of Burns and assisted in whatever way possible.

W. R. Gekeler of La Grande, organizer of the state Grange, arrived here this week and has gone to the Valley View neighborhood where local people had already organized a Grange. After putting them in good running shape Mr. Gekeler expects to visit other portions of the county and install organizations. The Times-Herald is pleased to see the Grange get started among the farmers of this county as it will be of mutual benefit to all.

It has never looked reasonable that the Harriman railroad system would sleep on its rights after securing valuable concessions in Malheur canyon that are very essential and important to hold within the time limit. That the recent court actions started in Malheur county mean immediate active work is therefore considered sure. With only a short time in which to complete the line through the canyon under favorable conditions we may expect the work to progress as rapidly as possible.

John F. Stevens has resigned as president of the Hill railroad lines in the northwest to take effect May 1. Portland papers seem to infer this move means secession of active construction work by the Hill lines in Oregon for a time, but since Mr. Stevens has opened the way and the construction work from the Deschutes section being comparatively easy, it does not necessarily follow that Mr. Hill will cease just because Mr. Stevens resigns. Hill people may not do any more extending this year but that line will cover the interior in a short time.

The spring term of circuit court has not been a very heavy one. Some of the cases were continued for the term and only two jury trials have been heard. Judge Biggs has discharged all but four of the jurors and expects to adjourn the term next Monday evening. A new grand jury was drawn for the term and has been in session all week. The following are serving: Henry Reinarts, foreman; F. O. Jackson, O. A. Shingledacker, Chas. Beckhouse, A. W. Hurlburt, James Smith.

NEWS FROM VALEY VIEW.
 George Raycraft will put the store front in at Harriman. Geo. is a first class carpenter.
 Valley View school started Monday, April 3, with Miss Helene Swain at the helm, teaching the "young ideas" how to "shoot." Miss Swain has three months to teach at this place. Mr. George Raycraft built a nice, new desk for Miss Swain's use.
 J. M. Hoffeditz had his brand registered at Burns which is $\frac{1}{2}$; we see he has his mule colt branded with $\frac{1}{2}$ and we are wondering what he is going to do with the other half (of the mule.)
 G. M. Cobb is home from Crane creek where he has been trapping.
 H. F. Huntley and George Bryning are busy clearing brush, plowing and building rabbit fence.
 C. E. LeMay made a blackboard for the school house.
 Mrs. C. D. Howard and two children, Mabel and Leonard, visited her daughter, Mrs. Oswalt, last week.
 The Loyal Neighbors society met at the home of Mrs. C. E. LeMay last Thursday afternoon; luncheon was served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Raycraft on the 14th.
 Mr. Gekeler, State Grange organizer, will arrive in Lawen on Friday on his way to Valley View; on Saturday he will install the officers of the newly organized Grange; he will also devote some time toward the establishing of Granges throughout the valley.
JACK RABBIT.
SCHOOL CHILDREN ENTERTAIN.
 The entertainment given by the public school children last Saturday evening for the benefit of the picture fund brought forth most favorable and pleasing comment from all those who attended. Each number was well received and showed excellent and painstaking training by the teachers having it in charge. The little ones acquitted themselves with credit and Burns feels proud of her children.
 The attendance was large and over $100 was cleared to apply on pictures to adorn the walls of the new school building when erected.
 The Baptist Ladies Aid will continue window sales each Saturday until further notice.

AN EXCEPTIONAL TREAT IN STORE.
Distinguished Dramatic Reader and Singer at Photo-Play House April 17.

Edward Abner Thompson, the distinguished reader and dramatist of Boston, a brother of Mrs. M. V. Dodge of this city, is coming to Burns on a visit to the latter and has been prevailed upon to appear at the Photo-Play house of Mr. Fellows on Monday evening, April 17. Every seat in the house has been reserved and from information at hand the people of Burns are to have an exceptional treat on that evening.

Mr. Thompson comes direct from an engagement in the Salt Lake theatre and has some of the very best programs ever given the privileges of Lyceum and Chautauqua audiences, covering such range as may suit the taste of all. He has unusual recommendations from people of high character which appeal to all who read them. Mr. Fellows is particularly anxious that the people of Burns realize the high class work of Mr. Thompson. While his repertoire covers a wide range he will confine the evening to a lighter vein of song and story—Mr. Thompson being an exceptional bass soloist—and perhaps the melodrama of Hiawatha. The latter with a musical background of ancient Indian melodies with Mr. Fellows at the piano.

The Portland Oregonian says of Mr. Thompson: "A man who, robbed of his sight, yet lives in a world he seems actually to see, else how could he so vividly portray nature's rights and colors in his rendering."
 Prof. Fred Westly Orr of the Pacific University of this state says: "Mr. Thompson's rich voice and magnetic presence never fails to hold attention. There is dignity and truth in all his work."
 The seating capacity of the Photo-Play house is limited and it is important that reservations be made early by all who appreciate this high class entertainment. Mr. Fellows will be at the ticket office each afternoon from 1 until 3 o'clock beginning Monday to accommodate those desiring reservations. This should have immediate attention by those who would enjoy this real treat. Tickets are also on sale at Reed's Drug Store.

A NEW BOOSTER CLUB.
 We have it from an authoritative source that the Silver creek bunch are live ones and are using their best efforts and talents toward the boosting of Harney county in general. So imbued with this spirit have they become that a booster club has been formed but The Times-Herald has not been appraised of the full membership or the entire set of officers other than that Ike Foster is secretary and treasurer. There has been very little in the exchequer so far as only Foster has contributed twice and Bob Williams once by mistake.
 The method of raising funds for this booster work is original but the writer fears will not be successful in that community. The bylaws do not provide for monthly dues or regular assessments but when a member tells the truth he is fined $5. Foster has paid two fines and Bob Williams made a mistake and told the truth once. It being apparent it was unintentional he was let off with only half fine. Wood Best and Carrol Cecil have neither contributed a cent so far which is a reflection on their public spirit, so their fellow members think.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.
 The local public school board is having the proper petitions and other necessary preliminaries to the calling of a special election to vote bonds for the proposed new school building. The matter will have particular attention in order that the election may be legal and no further delay from technicalities.
 There has been much comment upon the matter of a new location of the school building. It is pointed out by some that the present location is most central. This is a matter that will likely be given attention at the annual election in June and probably be left to the voters to settle.

COLLEGE TO FIGHT ORCHARD PESTS
 A big campaign against the pests which destroy orchards in Oregon is to be started shortly by six experts from the State Agricultural College, in accordance with the legislative bill providing funds for such work. Under the direction of Dean A. B.

Cordley of the college of agriculture, Prof. C. I. Lewis of the horticulture department, and Prof. H. S. Jackson of the entomology department, the college will establish division headquarters in the principal fruit centers of the state—Portland, Salem, Eugene, Roseburg and perhaps Milton—and from there the investigations will extend over the entire state.
 This is not the first work of the sort done by the college, though it is the first state wide campaign against all kinds of pests. Many thousands of dollars have been saved the orchardmen of Oregon by the timely advice of the professors. The 35-acre apple orchard of Eisman Brothers near Grants Pass was so badly diseased with anthracnose in 1910 that they were about to dig it up. Every tree was diseased with the fungus, and nearly half of the tops were dead or dying. The vitality of the orchard was so low that it did not produce enough apples to pay expenses. Though the owners worked hard cutting dead wood and dead spots, the fungus continued to gain on them. They tried a Bordeaux mixture spray suggested by Dean Cordley in the fall before the leaves were off, with immediate and pronounced benefit. Continued fall sprayings resulted in a production of 10,000 boxes of as fine, clean, healthy, four-tier apples, four years after, as could be produced anywhere in the United States. They sold 7,000 boxes of four-tier yellow Newtons and Spitzenburgs at $1.50 a box, and 3,000 boxes of Ben Davis and Winesaps, giving a gross receipt of $15,250 from the orchard he had been ready to dig out.

William Hellwell of Yoncalla, Douglas county, had a similar experience with fall spraying for anthracnose, commonly known as "canker," "dead spot," or "black spots."
 The protection of the rapidly increasing fruit districts of the state from such pests as are already attacking trees here, and from the introduction of new ones through imported stock is the problem with which the college experts will wrestle. The details of the campaign have not all been completed, but will be ready for announcement shortly.
