RAILROAD CONTRACT LET.

The Times-Herald is not permitted to give its source of information but it is stated on good authority that the contract for 29 miles of Harriman railroad west of Vale has been let and official announcement will be made in a short time. It is understood actual construction work will began about August 1st.

This is certainly good news and will bring work and good cheer to the many waiting people of this interior country who have waited long and patiently for some relief. With many thousand acres capable of producing crops, irrigation projects to cover thousands of acres awaiting closer connection with transportation in order to place them upon paying basas it means a transportation and that the Big Harney County is soon to come into its own.

Up to this time stock has been practically all that brings in outside money. Conditions have made this business rather unprofitable of late years and many old stock men have disposed of their herds. They have great bodies of land which with a market for products in reach will bring in adequate revenue and thus bring the owners a return even though their stock is gone.

Mrs. J. T. Barnes is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. N. Stallard on Otis Creek.

Miss Enid Cawlfield has gone over to Otis creek to visit her sister, Mrs. Ed. Stallard.

P. G. Smith is getting ready to start another big bunch of cattle to the road for shipment.

Last week's frost seems to reached all over the northwest but not much damage has resulted.

Frank Welcome and family are preparing to leave for a vacation trip in the mountains to spend the hot period.

After nearly three years' work the first two miles of the Celilo canal have been completed by the contracting firm having the contract. This includes the upper end of the canal and Celilo Lock. It is expected that by another three years the canal will be open to navigation.

IMPROVEMENTS CONTINUE.

The work of remodling the big Hissner building is progressing most satisfactorily. It will not be so extensive as at first contemplated owing to restrictions placed by the city council in exacting certain requirements in the building. Mr. Hissner has countermanded his lumber order at the mills and will only remodel the first floor for the present.

The excavation work for the big two story brick Times-Herald building is about completed and the brick work will soon begin. A deep well has been sunk on the premises this week by Smith & Swain and the surface water cased off. It is intended to run the pump by power and furnish an ample water system for the entire building eventually.

J. R. Gould will soon begin to remodel his dwelling on the lots adjoining the Baptist church. He has also had a new well drilled this week.

C. C. Lundy is having a nice cottage built on his three acre tract recently platted near the river in East Burns.

C. M. Sallisbury has let the contract for a dwelling on his resident tract recently purchased from Mr. Lundy in the same section.

W. Y. King and his brother have another attractive little cottage, under roof for Fred Racine in the same block with the residence recently completed for him.

It is hoped to have plans for the new $30,000 public school building in readiness for bids in a short time.

INCREASE POWER PLANT.

J. R. Wheeler of the Burns Electric Light & Power Co. has returned from Portland whese he purchased two more 250 horse power turbines and other machinery necessary to increase the generating capacity of the plant.

It is intended to errect an additional plant at the Sweek dam and also install steam power, thus being able to look after their patrons at all times and furnish lights regardless of mishaps.

We understand it is the intention of the company to make extensive improvements at once and later give a day service in order to furnish power to those who desire it. This is a move in the right direction and one that will meet the approval of all who patronize the concern.

MATINEE SUNDAY.

J. E. Johnson has his promising string of harness horses in good shape now and has promised a Sunday afternoon matinee on July 23 at the fair grounds with good exhibitions.

There will be two harness races in the afternoon and one saddle horse race. This is a move to stimulate interest in the fair week performances and local people should go out. The harness events will be the best ever seen on the local track as Mr. Johnson has colts that go in faster time than has ever been made in races.

The vaqueros are asked to come in with their saddle horses as a purse will be hung for them to compete for.

A BETTER ROAD TO SILVIES

The Times-Herald has been informed by parties who have investigated the route that a better road can be had between Burns and Silvies Valley at a very reasonable cost that will avoid the abrupt climb over the mountain at Cold Springs. The new route would go to the west of the present road and come up from Silvies on an easy grade from the Metschan place and through a natural pass down near the river to Burns.

This route would be more direct and be a convenience to the big travel in that direction. It should be further investigated and if found feasible the proper application should be made to the court to have it viewed out and established.

The trout market took a tumble this week when Dr. J. W. Ashford and son Phil and V. G. Cozad and son Rodney left for Upper Canyon creek for a few days fishing. Pending their return trout have been quoted in local markets for one dollar a ton. They took enough canned salmon, herring, sardines, smoked strugeon to last for a five days trip. —Blue Mt. Eagle.
