Irrigationists Must Get Busy.

The time has come when the State of Oregon will cease to irrigate its desert lands with hot air instead of water. Loose methods of the past, with money squandered in lawsuits and other wasteful ways, are to cease and the companies From all Points in the Northwest directing the various reclamation projects must deliver the goods or quit. Business methods must be injected into their projects, and to see that the settlers are properly protected, the Des-ert Land Board have taken the magnificent beach that is not initative and has canceled the Paisley project of the Portland Irrigation Company. This forfeiture was declared after an all any more than if you remained day meeting of the Board at at home.
