HARNEY COUNTY TO TAKE PART

Commercial Club and Fair Association Active in Gathering Products for Harney County Fair and Poster Ship out to Advertise us on Eastern Tour.

The following from the Portland Journal is timely and has a particular interest to the people of Harney county. The Fair Association and the Burns Commercial Club are using every effort to represent Harney county well represented in the scheme to advertise our products by exhibiting our products at land shows and on railroads.

The farmer first has a chance to compete for premiums at the state fair, then such exhibits as suitable may be packed and shipped out to form a part of the display for advertising purposes outlined by the Journal clipping. It says:

The plan to exhibit the produce of Oregon and nine other western states in a solid train during the continent for months and visiting Omaha, Paul and New York land shows en route, has definitely centralized, according to an arrangement made by C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Oregon Development League.

The total cash cost of the tour to be $40,000, and of this amount $30,000 has been raised, largely due to the efforts of ex-member J. H. Brady of Idaho, twenty-five thousand dollars will be given by the railroads, in addition to carrying the train free of their lines, $5,000 by the Pacific-Pacific exposition company, and this leaves $10,000 to be raised by 10 states, or $1,000 per state.

"Our business men will give $1,000 necessary, I am sure," said Mr. Chapman.

"I do not know when Oregon has had an opportunity to so easily and effectively advertise its products and resources of a state. For some time I was skeptical as to whether a plan of such magnitude could be arranged between states, but now I am sure it will be a complete success."

A letter to the commercial club from J. W. Graham of the Great Northern, states that there will be no entry charges, while on the other hand the prizes in cups and money of such value as to be among the keenest of competition.

The J. J. Hill $1000 cup will be offered for the best wheat exhibit. The prize cup for the best corn is $500, which is taken as evidence of the recent efforts not to advertise apples so as to be the products of diversification. For each of the best exhibits of corn, potatoes, carrots, beets and oats there is $100 cup or cash to that amount. The best barley exhibit will be $1500.

SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENTS

The Times-Herald Building, New Public Fire Proof Garage—Others.

While there has been no particular building boom in Burns this year contractors have been kept busy making improvements as were made of a substantial nature and more are contemplated.

With the completion of The Times-Herald building and the opening of the new public fire proof garage, two of the most substantial and modern structures in the state will be found in the city. Bids will be considered December 23 for the school building. The brick for the same is now being made and is the intention to have the foundation and base built in this fall in order to have the building completed for the school year.

Mr. Fellows recently secured a franchise for electric lights from the city and recently was joined by Mr. Wheeler as a partner and they bought the power site on Emigrant creek from the Milling Co. These gentlemen have also purchased the light business of Horton Bros. and associates which gives them considerable equipment including the poles, wire, etc., already in position and ready for operation.

They hope to be ready to furnish lights from the present plant—securing power at the flour mill—about the middle of next month.

The Times-Herald would urge this be sooner. It is of particular importance that Burns should have electric lights during the Development League meeting, court and fair week. We are going to have large delegations of business men from outside points here during that week and Burns certainly should not be in darkness. The business men should use their influence to get lights for that week.

Messrs. Fellows and Wheeler expect to have the new power plant in operation early next spring. The work on the dam, buildings and installation of machinery will go forward as rapidly as possible during the intervening time. The poles for the transmission line will be cut and placed along the line this winter and as soon as weather conditions will permit in the spring these will be set and the line put up.

They expect to furnish a 24-hour service and have a capacity of 400-horse power at the lowest stage of the water with far greater power most of the year. Substantial improvements are still being prosecuted at the P. L. S. Co. residence and office property. The fine stone garage with corrugated iron roof and cement floor and the masons are now constructing a cellar of the same materials. A deep well with an inexhaustible flow of water has been drilled on the premises and an engine installed to furnish the power to put the water in the tank for irrigation and house purposes.

J. R. Gould has made extensive improvements on his residence property and many others have also made such improvements. Fred Racine has completed two new cottages which have tenants and the Fair Association has just completed an addition to the pavilion.

Blocks of cement walks are being laid and the city has done a vast amount of street work. This work will continue as long as weather conditions will permit.

James Lampshire, who just returned from Portland, will at once begin the erection of a corrugated iron garage 50x60 feet on the lot recently purchased on the corner one block east of The Times-Herald building. It is the intention to make this building fire proof with cement floor. Mr. Lampshire has ordered all the necessary machinery for general repair work including a Lodge & Shipley lathe, sliding head drill press, air compressor, forge, etc. He will also install a late improved air cooling gasoline engine to run the machinery.

Mr. Lampshire will have an experienced machinist here next week and as soon as the building is completed he expects to carry all supplies necessary for a complete garage and has the agency for the New Way air cooled gasoline engine, feed mills, pumps, and other machinery.

The Times-Herald has been appraised of other substantial improvements yet to be undertaken during the season and present indications are that next season will see more activity. It is understood the property owners in the Times-Herald building block contemplate a solid brick and stone front for the whole block for next season and another large brick on the corner across the street from The Times-Herald building is being considered for the coming year.

NEW ELECTRIC PLANT FOR BURNS.

Start Construction Work on Emigrant—Fellows & Wheeler Buy Mortons.

J. D. Fellows returned Wednesday from Emigrant creek where he accompanied J. R. Wheeler and Engineer Faulkner of the Eastern Oregon Engineering Co. He reports a large crew of men at work on the construction of the dam to furnish power for electric lights.

Mr. Fellows recently secured a franchise for electric lights from the city and recently was joined by Mr. Wheeler as a partner and they bought the power site on Emigrant creek from the Milling Co. These gentlemen have also purchased the light business

FREIGHT BY AUTO TRUCK

Start From Bend November 1 When Railroad Completed There

PROMOTERS FIND ROADS GOOD

Practical for at Least Ten Months in Year With a Rate That Meets Approval of Burns Business Men —Saving of Time, Less Invested, Cheaper Goods.

BROKE RECORDS AND BONES.

Burns was visited last Sunday by C. C. Harrison and Frank C. Riggs of Portland. The former has decided to place auto trucks on the route between this city and Bend just as soon as the railroad reaches that place November 1.

Mr. Riggs is state agent for the Packard Car and the two made the trip in by the way of Bend in order to ascertain the character of the country, the condition of the road and find what encouragement could be found for the enterprise.

Mr. Harrison has had considerable experience with auto trucks and is confident of the success of the venture, especially after traversing the route and meeting with unexpected encouragement from the business men of Burns. He secured contracts for all the freight two 3-ton capacity trucks can handle up to next March. He believes his machines can keep on the road at least ten months in the year and will add more machines if the business demands it. The rate will not exceed 2 cents per pound on ordinary freight and with a shorter railroad haul it will mean a great saving to shippers, a quicker method of delivery and less invested in goods to carry the trade over a long period in winter.

There is a slight raise in the track at that point that also helped in the plan of giving those in the grand stand the worth of their money. Mr. Johnson drove Bill Hanley on the full mile finishing in 2:18.

This was the second time in the same race that the track record had been lowered. The second heat of the race was won by John G. in 2:24. Bill Hanley is faster than the little horse but he has to keep right at it to win from him. One mistake in the mile always costs him the race when competing with John G.

Harry caught his fallen horse and assisted in getting him loose from the cart before anyone knew he was hurt. He came up town and was fixed up later but seemed more concerned about his horse than himself.

The saddle horse race was half mile with three entries and created much fun. Willie Smith finished first on "Dutch" but his younger brother Frank was given the race by the judges on account of the first horse interfering with him.

Mr. Riggs is one of the good roads boosters of the state and also takes an active interest in the Development League work of the state. He will be among the Portland delegation to attend the League meeting here during fair week. Mr. Riggs states he found the Harney county end of the road in much better shape than the Bend end. Aside from a few miles of road in Lake county it would take very little work to make it one of the best auto routes in the state.

Mr. Riggs is to furnish Packard trucks for Mr. Harrison's venture and says his machines are capable of doing the work. They are not an experiment as they have been put to practical use over worse roads, therefore he has no misgiving as to the success of the venture.

It meets with enthusiastic approval here and all that Mr. Harrison needs to make it go is to deliver the goods. Our merchants will furnish the tonnage.

Always ready for job work.
