The Times-Herald.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1911.

JULIAN BYRD - - - - - Manager

The Times-Herald extends greeting to our many visitors and will continue to publish daily during the entire week. The daily issue was not started because of any particular demand for it upon the part of local business men, but its advertising columns testify to their appreciation of it. The manager is working at a disadvantage, not being able to secure necessary help, but The Times-Herald will be in almost every home in Burns each evening during the week.

Burns Commercial Club and business men are doing themselves proud by decorating our town in a beautiful and appropriate way the bunting and tastefully trimmed windows of our business houses are worthy of closest attention and praise. The banners of Commercial Club strung across main street bearing appropriate mottos show not only a booster spirit but an open heart and a glad hand for strangers that are within our gates.

Say! Mr. Jupiter Pluvius don't you think you have made a little mistake, by handing us this bunch of cold weather? Don't you know that the Central Oregon boosters are here? Quit being a knocker and give us the usual calm sunshiny weather as in years past; be a booster or we will petition the city council for another weather man.

Of course irrigation will be a good thing and we need it, but we can grow things without it, see the dry farming exhibits at the fair—they are worth looking at. Can you beat them anywhere? If we work our farms according to latest methods of dry farming we could raise anything from a dull calm to a heavy wind.

Harney county is not against the world, but for the world; many homeseekers can find lands within our borders, where they can raise hardy fruits, fine grains, grasses, and vegetables. Our horses, cattle and sheep will stand muster anywhere, our babies are more numerous, most healthy, and better looking than anywhere else in the universe.

Forget your dyspepsia this week and boost the boosters.

PERSISTENT BEND SPIRIT.

Although all the other machines were stalled on Buck mountain and other places along the line the Bend bunch came right through and were the only delegates to arrive from that direction last night. Dr. Coe, A. O. Hunter, S. E. Sawhill and another booster arrived in a car about 3 o'clock this morning. You can't beat Bend for persistence. They are there with the goods any place you put them.

Mrs. Millar has a fine lot of fall and winter millinery on display which the ladies should call and see at once.
