FAIR WEEK EXTRA. NO. 4.

BURNS, OREGON, THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 5, 1911

PRICE FIVE CENTS

AROUND THE PAVILION

Two Exceptionally Fine District Exhibits--Art Department

DANDY INDIVIDUAL DISPLAYS

The Drewsey exhibit (at the right of the entrance door at the pavilion) is a dandy. They raise everything over there to tickle the palate of the most pronounced vegetarian, and to bring forth best results from the horses, cattle, hogs, hens and hominy. Their giant squashes and pumpkins are of finest variety and under skillful handling are capable of making many of the old fashioned pies such as mother used to make.

They have every kind of vegetable imaginable, such as onions, tomatoes of several varieties, corn, carrots, potatoes.

garden truck. Some attempt has been made in the fruit line and the melons and other fruit exhibited speak for the success of the venture. However, this section seems especially adapted for grain. The grains shown are of good quality and abundant yield.

The grass exhibit of James H. Anderson is a marvelous one; his alfalfa, bromos, rye, wheat and native grasses are worthy of the greatest consideration.

Walk down the west side of the pavilion annex and see the dry farming exhibit of field peas, wheat, rye, barley, alfalfa, alsac, red top and many other things of one hungry. One man has 14 kinds of plums, 3 kinds of pears, 27 varieties of apples, with an additional line of can berries of all kinds and description.

A sofa cushion of roses, with the word "Portland" worked in colored embroidery is just beautiful.

The batenberg centerpiece shows that it has come from the hands of a master needleworker, as all of the drawn work.

The jabots, colors and bags of Irish crochet, not only equals but surpasses many pieces of the imported work.

There is also a very pretty center piece of the goblin stitch variety, it is the first piece of this kind of work ever exhibited in Harney county and is a worthy sample to pattern after.

The drawnwork tea cloths speak well for the women that have made these pieces of table linen art.

There is also stitch pillow top that is of very fine quality.

A Hardanger embroidered doily made by one of our girls only 11 years of age, is of exceptional quality for the age.

The oil paintings of Mrs. Vivian Gray show remarkable talent in this line. The marine view is fine, and the old homestead can not but help to take a person back to the youthful days while under father's roof.

The oil painting by one of our young ladies only 16 years of age, calls attention to the fact that time may develop that Harney county has furnished to the world one of its foremost artists.

THIS AFTERNOON.

The amusement features this afternoon have been very good at the fair grounds. The foot race had to be run over as the first was a tie, Will Forren winning. In the tug-of-war between the married and single men was not on the square—that's a cinch. Rev. Babbidge was on the end for the married men and the manager of this great religious weekly, who is a heavy, who is a heavy weight (?) was hold of the preacher. We had 'em when some one bribed "Chino" to pull the heavy (?) off. That settled it.

The harness race was tame John G. taking two straight heats. The three-eighths running race was a hummer with a big field to face the starter. It was a horse race from start to finish Flute winning by a small margin.

The exhibitions of Bill Jones and Harry Whitman in horsemanship is a feature that please. Harry rode a bucking horse that went through the fence and knocked a tent down over at the lower end of the grounds.

Whitman sustained some injuries when riding a wild bull this afternoon the animal catching his foot between its body and the fence. It was not serious and he will be ready for work tomorrow.

The Roman race by Mr. Jones was a fine exhibition and very pleasing.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

The riding exhibitions of Whitman and Jones tomorrow will be features. The race program will be: Half mile dash free for all, no entrance fee, purse $40.

Three-eighths dash for saddle horses, purse $25.

Three-eighths dash for ponies ridden by boys, purse $15.

Phil Smith will drive John G. a half mile exhibition.

The stock parade scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will not be up to former parades in point of numbers but will surpass in quality. Some of the finest stock to be seen anywhere will be in the parade.

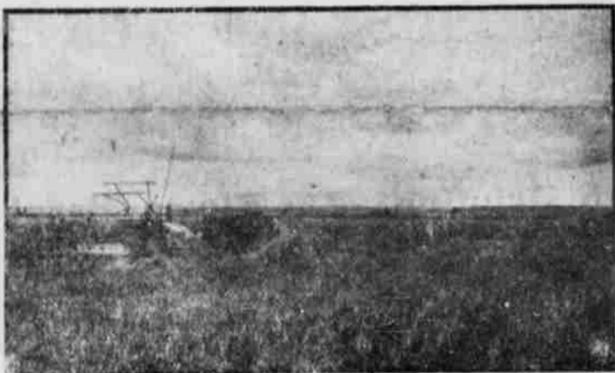

The management is informed that there are several young ladies who desire to ride in a race. One will be featured for Saturday afternoon for a purse of $20

W. W. Brown, who is commonly known as Bill Brown, the big Hampton Butte rancher, is establishing a big general store at his ranch. The Metolius Warehouse Company has already received two or three carloads of merchandise for him. He has two teams at work now bringing in wool and returning with goods for the store. The boys report that Bill has about 70 men employed on the ranch at the present time, 15 of whom devote their entire time to breaking wild horses to ride and drive. His sales of horses last year totaled 500 head, all of which were shipped to California, as Bill makes it an inviolable rule to sell none of his horses in this state. —Metolius Oregonian.

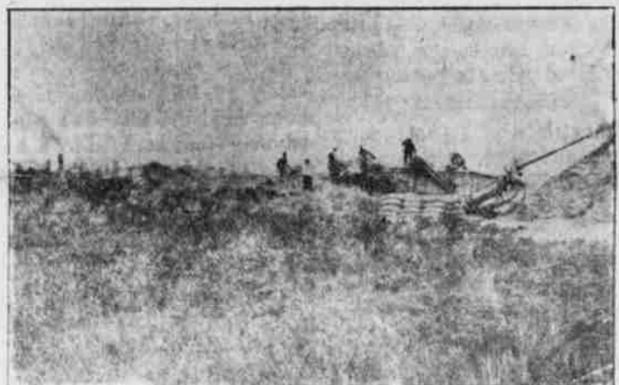

SALE OF LADIES DRESSES, SKIRTS AND WAISTS AT THE BUSY CORNER STORE.

R. L. Hass is up from Narrows taking in the sights.

The famous Bridges Concert Co. will be in Burns next week at the Presbytering church.

Another View in Chas. Wilson's Grain Field Near Burns.

A Threshing Scene in the Big Harney Country.

The fruits are of the first order, with many kinds of choice varieties. The watermelons, musk melons, pears, plums, etc. are capable of making one's mouth water, but if these should not satisfy you they could hand you a lemon (garden lemon) raised on their own grounds. If there was to be a high board fence placed around the Drewsey country they would not starve by any means.

Sunset exhibit, while not so large as the one from Drewsey, is of par excellence in quality. This is a newly settled section but they raise many varieties of like nature. Turn them to the east side and see the same kinds of grasses and grains under water. Let what you see soak thoroughly through your noddle, and we will venture to guess that there will not be an ounce of pessimistic blood left in your veins.

On the north side of the main pavilion there is a dry farming exhibit equal to any found anywhere. Can you beat alfalfa 5ft 4, oats 5ft 7, bromos 6ft 4, winter wheat 4ft and raised without a drop of water to boot.

The big fruit table near the stuffed birds and animals makes to be divided as the other purses —first and second money.

W. Lair Thompson, Frank Light, Mr. Rice and Mr. Brittain of the Lakeview delegation stated for Bend yesterday but broke the auto and had to return. They will await extras and in the meantime take in the fair and visit different neighborhoods.

Say, the weather man has "it in for us." Why couldn't we have had this weather the first of the week and allowed the "Empire Builder" to visit us?

Always ready for job printing.

CLOTHING SALE AT THE BUSY CORNER STORE.

On the 25th day of August, 1911, Mr. E. C. Eggleston, our local representative of the Oregon Life Insurance Co., insured the life of William Benjamin Cochran, at Monument, Ore; Mr. Cochran did not take the examination until Sept. 10; on Sept. 14th the examination papers were received at the Portland office; the policy was issued and mailed to Mr. Cochran, Sept. 16; the insured lost his life by drowning in the John Day river. Mr Eggleston will go to Grant Co. next week to pay the death claim.
