 J. R. Jenkins, the Steens mountain sheepman, came in the first of this week on business. Mr. Jenkins has been suffering from rheumatism but is improving some. We advised him to take a rest but he says he hasn't time. His energy has counted in his success and he wishes to remain active in his duties.
 There is disappointment expressed over the announcement that Dr. W. S. Holt will not be able to reach here to participate in the installation ceremonies at Presbyterian church tomorrow. Dr. Holt had been in Nevada and returned to Portland by way of San Francisco. A delayed train caused him to miss connections in Portland in time to reach here. A telegram makes this announcement to Rev Dr. Babbidge.
 The auto trucks are expected at any time from Bend with freight. A press dispatch of the first of the week says: The auto truck companies have arrived and will take out their first loads this week to Burns, Bill Hanley, the millionaire ranchman of Harney County, has a large shipment of freight that will go out on the first truck. A line will also be operated from Bend to Silver Lake and other Lake County towns.
 Mr. Fellows informs the Times-Herald that he and Mr. Wheeler formally took over the Horton light plant last Monday and hope to have it in operation by the 15th of this month. Patrons have been patiently waiting for service again and it is hoped the system on Emigrant may be completed and in readiness before low water next summer will prevent securing power at the grist mill. The people want and should have continuous service.
 Joe Hunter and a bunch of other Bend boys were here the first of the week en route to the lakes for some shooting. Local people who accompanied them say the Bend boys enjoyed it but the shooting has not been equal to the usual sport this fall. The migratory birds did not come in so great numbers or have not yet arrived. The Times-Herald man has it "in for the Bend bunch" for they never let him even see them, let alone invite him to go shooting. He'll have his gun ready for different game if they ever try such a trick again.

 Remember the annual Thanksgiving ball by the Mothers' Club in the new hall in The Times-Herald building on Friday, Dec 1. Help the play ground fund.
 The Mothers' Club bazaar will be held Dec. 8 and 9 this year in the big north store room of The Times-Herald building provided it is not occupied by a permanent tenant on those dates. The ladies will have six booths this year and are ambitious to make exceptional sales as they have purchased a strip of land adjoining the play grounds that must be paid for.
 The Mothers' Club will give the usual annual ball on Friday night, Dec. 1. This is the Thanksgiving ball but the club always gives it Friday instead of Thursday. The ladies will give their ball in the new hall in The Times-Herald building which will be completed by that time. It is possible the opera chairs will not reach here by that date but other wise the hall will be ready for the big party. The ladies will use one of the stage dressing rooms for a kitchen and will serve supper on the big stage, the scenery being taken out of the way. The proceeds from this dance and supper go to the children's play grounds.
 Enough said. See EGGLESTON, The Oregon Life man.
