 C. E. Berry is enjoying a visit from C. E. Schringohst, Earl Schringohst and R. W. Venn, all of Seattle. These gentlemen like the country so well that they have filed on land. Mr. C. E. Schringohst is a brother to Mrs. Berry.
 C. B. McConnell and Messrs. Cooper & Dodge, the civil engineers, are at present domiciled in the north room of The Times-Herald building until the handsome suite of offices are painted, decorated and arranged for their occupancy.
 Scott King left Thursday for Bend. He spent the summer here with his brother, Will Y., and assisted in erecting several buildings. Scott helped move the big machinery of this office and install it in its new home the first of this week. He has not decided whether he will remain in Bend for any definite time.
 M. B. Sisson, a brother to Mrs. William B. Miller, arrived here from Baker the first of this week and is a guest at the Miller home. Mr. Sisson is an old time resident of Eastern Oregon and is quite well known. He has decided to remain permanently in this county having accepted a position with the P. L. S. Co. and will have charge of the Mann Lake ranch.
 H. Rohu arrived here this week to look after the interests of the Collins Auto Co., who have established a regular passenger auto service between Burns and Bend. Mr. Rohu states his company are prepared to handle all the passenger traffic from this city to the Deschutes railroads. They are operating two machines at present but will add to the equipment as business justifies. He has headquarters at the French Hotel.
 C. N. Greene, familiarly known as "Farmer" Greene, the old time traveling man, is in the city. Mr. Greene always travels with his own four-horse team and recently figured in a bad run-away near Prairie City on a grade, being thrown from his wagon and falling some 15 feet below on rocks. He was bruised about the head and otherwise shaken up. No bones were broken and while it was serious he feels he was lucky.

WHAT A WOMAN WANTS
 among other important things is a checking account. In managing household expenditures a check book acts as a perpetual reminder of the difference in the income and the outgo. You can tell at a glance just what your financial resources are—how and where you have spent your money. Every check given acts as a receipt. It is an incentive in itself to save.
Women are cordially invited to have their checking account here.
