Mrs. J. J. Henz returned this week from a two months' visit at Riverside, California. She is at the home of her son, Will Weber, in this city at present. Mrs. Henz brought home many beautiful views that certainly appeal to one here during this cold weather. Orange farms and roses look good just now. Mrs. Henz also brought home ripe oranges which she had picked from the trees.

The management at Tonawama has decided to change to more popular prices. It is the desire to meet the approval of the public and have the greatest number of patrons possible. The amusements put on at Tonawama are good and high class, therefore it is not consistent to make the house a vaudeville-priced place. It has been decided to have three prices in the future, the reserved chairs selling at 65 and 50 cents, general admission 35 cents. These prices in effect next Friday night in the production of "A Cheerful Liar."

C. H. Leonard who has been deputy under Prosecuting Attorney McCulloch for several years, is a candidate for that office to succeed Mr. McCulloch. The latter has held the office for two terms and will not ask re-nomination. Mr. Leonard is in line for the place and should receive the hearty support of his party. He is entitled to it and his familiarity with the duties gives him an advantage. Mr. Leonard is one of the thorough men now practicing in this district who has a reputation of doing things right when he goes into a case.

SIMON LEWIS, Treasurer of Harney County.

Oregon Life Maintains Its Wonderful Supremacy

On the first day of January, 1912, Oregon Life had $5,217,000 insurance in force—every dollar of it was Oregon business; no other company did so much business in Oregon last year; Harney county furnished her share in 1911. But we are not satisfied and intend to double the production in 1912. If you are morally, physically, mentally and financially able to carry insurance we want your business.
