Other resolutions favored the perfection of the present system of water titles, enactment of legislation to protect the settler against fraud and urging the investigation, by the legislature, of the Kansas law which permits an official scrutiny of the assets and resources of people who file articles of incorporation.

The work of the Oregon Development League in concentrating its efforts to place people on Harney County. the land, as opposed to city development, was commended.

The irrigation of the large territory tributary to the John Day river was also favored.

The officers elected were: President, William Hanley, of Burns; C. C. Chapman, of the Oregon Development League, Wm. J. Mariner, of Blalock and M. J. Lee, of Canby, vice presidents; T. J. Hinkle, of Hermiston, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the Central Oregon Development League will be held at Lakeview August 20-22. This date was fixed by a conference of representatives of the Lakeview Commercial Club, the Oregon Development League and the Central Oregon Development League. Plans are being formed to take four hundred business men from Portland and other parts of the state to Bend by rail and thence to Lakeview by automobile, returning via Medford. Plans are being made to make the Lakeview meeting memorable

ASSISTING HORSE BREEDERS.

Professor E. L. Potter, of the animal husbandry department of the Oregon Agricultural College, in his capacity as secretary of the State Stallion Registration Board, has issued to all owners of stallions or jacks in the state a letter in which he offers to keep on file in the office of the board a list of all such animals of as are for sale, provided that they are properly registered.

The purpose of the board in establishing this list of registered animals for sale is to encourage still further the raising of wellbred horses. From time to time in the past there have been inquiries as to a place of purchase by men interested in breeding good animals. Already the board has a list of considerable size from which prospective purchasers may choose. The service to both buyer and seller is entirely without fee.
