THE SITUATION IN REALITY

"Among the thousands who seek homes in Oregon, it is inevitable that a certain proporation should fail, either through bad judgment in choosing a location, neglect of busines caution in buying land or unwillingness to work when they have bought it. The last cause is the most frequent, for such men on reading of large crops yielded by Oregon land, too frequently imagine that such land can be bought for a song and can be made to yield with little or no work. When these men do awaken to the truth that in Oregon as elsewhere, money cannot be made without work, they become "knockers" and write to the "folks back home" warning againt coming to Oregon."

The above paragraph is taken from an editorial in a recent issue of the Oregonian and is applicable to all portions of the state. We have them in Harney county and all along the line from whatever direction intending homeseekers may come to the big Harney Country. We have a class of men right in our midst who make it a business to "knock" and another class who "knock" and don't know it. The man who is always cautioning the newcomer to look out for certain drawbacks in land location and climatic conditions is conscientious but he doesn't always go far enough in explaining these conditions and frequently leaves a wrong impression. We don't claim to grow oranges in this country and the man looking for such a location will never come to the Northwest to find such a location. He doesn't expect to find southern California climate at an altitude of 4000 feet.

We should encourage every concern and enterprise working for the development of this country and assist all legitimate efforts in that direction. The business men of Burns and public spirited citizens in every part of the big Harney Country do this, yet it is not always appreciated or heeded by those whom it is desired to benefit. The "knocker" is given credit by some timid seeker after investments that would make a success if he had more courage and a keener observation.

Practically every acre of Harney Valley will be cultivated within a few years and practically every acre of the Valley will one day be covered by a system of irrigation. This is inevitable. Why, then, should the people hesitate to invest in moderately priced land when the conditions are an assurance in the immediate future?

Dry farming methods should also be studied as this country has a great future in this respect. The bench lands are adapted to dry farming and will produce winter wheat equal to any grown. Dry farm methods will also be used in assisting to conserve the moisture on the valley lands until such time as the lower lands will be covered by an adequate system of irrigation.

New people should give heed to the advice and experiences of the successful man who has tried honestly to farm in the Harney Country and whose practical experience has demonstrated what can be accomplised.

WATER AND SEWER.

The Times-Herald understands the mayor of our city contemplates submitting the proposition of water works and a sewer system to the voters in the near future and we would urge serious consideration by the property owners. Conservative estimates of the cost have been made and published, therefore voters are advised as to this. The expense is rather large to contemplate but considering the need for fire protection and necessity for the health of our people it is worth while. Those who have studied the matter feel that there will be practically no advancement in taxes as the amount now spent by individuals on private water systems would pay the interest on the bonds and running expenses of the two systems.

The Times-Herald asks free discussion of this matter among our people as with a thorough knowledge of the situation there is no doubt but it will be favored.

HEDGES-BEST.

At the home of the bride on Silver Creek on Wednesday, April 24, Miss Ethel Best became the bride of H. O. Hedges, Rev. Dr. Babbidge performing the ceremony in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. Miss Mamie Winters was bridesmaid and Frank Foster acted as best man. A sumptuous wedding dinner followed the ceremony and congratulations. The bride is a daughter of W. L. Best, one of the substantial pioneer stockmen of this county. Mr. Hedges is in the automobile business and has made many friends in this section since coming here. The young couple will make their home in this city where they are heartily welcomed by a large circle of friends.

STONER-SCHAPER.

Robt. S. Stoner and Miss Anna Schaper were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrison on last Wednesday morning, April 24, Rev. Dr. Babbidge of the Presbyterian church officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. Stoner has been associated with Frank Harrison in the barber business in this city for several years His bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schaper of the Diamond section where she has been making her home for some time. They left immediately after the ceremony by way of Bend for outside points going first to Portland where they will remain for an indefinite time, later going to Linn county where Mr. Stoner's mother lives. They will be absent all summer. We join many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

SKEINS-KIDWELL.

Rev. Dr. Babbidge performed the ceremony Monday at the Presbyterian manse that joined Walter F. Skiens and Miss Pearl Kidwell in wedlock. Both are popular young people of this county, Mr. Skeins being a resident of the Silver creek section. The Times-Herald joins friends in wishing them a happy wedded life.

LAMB LOSS NOT SO GREAT.

Mr. Jenkins Telephones in That Week's Report was Greatly Exaggerated.

The Times-Herald hastens to correct an error published in last issue respecting the heavy loss of lambs in the Steens Mountain section. It was reported that J. R. Jenkins had 'phoned his brother Tom on Wednesday of last week that he had lost 1200 lambs but Mr. Jenkins called The Times-Herald Tuesday afternoon over the 'phone from his Happy Valley home and said it was a mistake. The fact is Mr. Jenkins was not far enough along in the lambing period to have that number of lambs. He says the loss has been quite heavy compared to former years, yet it has not been to any such extent as reported.

Mr. Jenkins states it has been the worst lambing season he has experienced in twenty years on the ranges of Harney County but the weather had changed now for better and the season had not advanced sufficient to make the loss so heavy, as with good weather from now on a good per centage of the lambs can be saved.

Many will be pleased to find the former report exaggerated and The Times-Herald certainly does not want the article of last week to mislead in respect to the severity of the storms on the sheepmen.
