A. H. Curry, mail contractor from Harriman to Andrews, was in the city during the week attending to some business. Mr. Curry reports crop prospects fine in that section and everything prosperous. He says the roads need more attention in that district, a few culverts being necessary to put the roads in shape for all times of year. At present considerable repair work has to be done every spring that could be avoided if culverts were put in to carry off the flood water caused by the melting snow in spring.

The harness matinee and band concert last Sunday afternoon was enjoyed by a nice crowd of people. The Tonawama band made a good impression with some lively music and the horses performed quite satisfactorily. The first race was between three green ones and they made the mile in less than 3 minutes. The second race was between Bill Hanley and Sidney Wilkes. They traveled only half mile heats but made good time. The band was somewhat handicapped in not having some of the players out. Some of the boys could not be out and the vacancy was regretted by the leader but they gave some good music nevertheless and will be an attraction in future at all their public performances.
