The democrats had to have some scrap too, so as not to let the republicans have all the fun.

The Times-Herald would suggest that the small boys be restrained from too much fireworks on the streets and vacant lots within the town limits on the 4th. We believe in them having a good time but we must guard against fire and accidents.

More acres have been seeded in Harney county this season than ever before and the farmer has been blessed with a good season. The activity of the railroad builders and the influx of more people will give him a market for his products and this is going to be the most prosperous country in the West. No one need complain. All will have work and be happy regardless of the political scraps or who is elected.

The Times-Herald has been told by a man who is close to the Hill interests to keep its ear to the ground as there will be important announcements within the next two or three weeks. This means there is likely to be an announcement of the extension from Bend east to Burns. Those who profess to know say the Hill line will come direct to this city and that for the present there will be no more connection on to the east. However, later this is in the plan to make the line thru this Valley a part of a great transcontinental line when proper connections are secured to the east of here.

HARNEY COUNTY BOY'S RECORD.

E. M. McManus, of Burns Mourned at O. A. C.—Was Chief Musician in Cadet Band.

Special to The Times-Herald from the O. A. C. says: E. M. McManus, who completed the pharmacy course at the Oregon Agricultural College this month, will be greatly missed at the institution in the fall. He was solo cornetist in the military band last year, and this year was made chief musician. He was a member of the Pharmaceutical Association and of the Kappa Sigma Nu fraternity, was chosen by the faculty for special honors at commencement because of his scholarship.

I will be in Burns July 2 to 5 inclusive and will pay a fair price for good sound blocky draft horses or mules—W. H. HARVEY.

A social dance was enjoyed by the young people at Tonawama last night, the music being furnished by the Tonawama orchestra.

The ladies in charge of the reading room in The Times-Herald building served punch and cakes to the dancing party last night free.

The big addition to the Lampshire garage is going up rapidly. When completed this will cover 50x100 floor space with a concrete floor.

Capt. W. R. Parker of the U. M. C. Co., left this morning for Bend. He was accompanied by Fred Johnson and they will extend their trip to some of the fishing places in the Cascades, going on down to Lakeview, Klamath and Alturas, being gone about 30 days.

L. Alva Lewis, U. S. Inspector of bird preserves, arrived here this week and will spend some time around the lakes making an inspection. He will be here for two or three weeks and go over to Warner. Mr. Lewis travels extensively all over the state and he stated that the crops of this section compare very favorably with any in the state.

The ladies of the civic league had many visitors last Saturday afternoon and evening at the formal opening of the reading rooms in The Times-Herald building. Refreshments were served to all visitors and those who came were pleased with the arrangement. The rooms are now open to the public each afternoon and evening except Wednesday and Sunday. Good reading matter has been provided and all are welcome.

No further news from the democratic convention had been received at 3 o'clock this afternoon when The Times-Herald went to press. The general impression is either Clark or Bryan will be the choice of the convention.

Several of the business houses on main street added a new coat to their fronts this week, which greatly improved the appearance of the buildings. If all received the same treatment, main street would be greatly improved.

The cattle market is slightly off at the Portland yards at this time but stockmen are not discouraged as the price is going to remain high. The raising of hogs in Harney county is going to be a big industry too in the future. Harney county will be first rank when we get transportation, as then we can finish our meat products here at home and get the stuff to market at any time.

Dr. Griffith gave an informal luncheon to a few of his intimate friends at the Cottage Inn last Friday afternoon. "Doc" had a liberal supply of mountain trout on hand as well as all the other delicacies of the season, and those who participated in the feast declared it to be a royal treat. After the spread was finished, the genial Doctor took his guests for a sight seeing tour in his auto and returned in the evening for the dance. All declare "Doc" a prince among entertainers, and a hospitable host. The invited guests were L. M. Johnson, P. A. Paulsen, Daniel McDade and L. C. Burton.

NO NOMINATION AS YET, CLARK LEADS

Latest From Baltimore is That Result is Problematic at 3 O'clock This Morning.

At 3:15 this morning there had been no nomination by the democratic convention at Baltimore adjourned at that time until 1 o'clock this afternoon. Clark was in the lead on the last ballot taken having 549. The other candidates stood: Wilson, 354; Underwood, 123; Marshall 31, Harmon, 29; Bryan, 1; Kern, 1.

A message from Baker to this office at 10:30 this morning says: "No nomination at 3 a. m. Adjourned until 1 p. m. Clark in the lead. Outcome problematical."

The Times-Herald at once made arrangements to have another message at 1 o'clock if anything had been received at Baker. The difference in the time across the continent should give us time to get the afternoon proceedings.

The first ballot taken on the nomination for president stood: Clark, 440; Wilson, 327; Underwood, 117; Harmon, 148; Gayner, 22; Marshall, 31; Bryan, 1. Gayner has been eliminated in the last ballot, but it is evident that Clark has not gotten the convention clinched by the message received this morning. It is likely the Wilson people will try to throw their strength to Bryan if they see they cannot get their man in. On the other hand Underwood and Harmon would likely give their strength to Clark in preference to Bryan, in such case Clark would have enough votes to secure the nomination.

From the latest papers received it seems the platform has to be written yet after the nominations are made, as Col. Bryan made the point that the nominee should have something to say about the platform rather than the platform first.

Parker defeated Bryan for the temporary chairmanship and it looked for a while like a decided fight with a repetition of the scenes at Chicago, but James was elected permanent chairman and from appearances there will be no rupture of any consequence. It would be unfortunate for the party should such come as it is conceded on all sides that the republicans can not win the election with the democrats united.

The New York delegation seems to be standing for Clark since Gayner is out of the race, but this may be only temporary, Indiana is staying with Marshall but should it change the delegates would either go to Wilson or Bryan.

A DECIDED BRYAN SENTIMENT.

The tone of the Western press and the public in general shows a very decided Bryan sentiment and has for several weeks. Many republicans are against Taft and will not vote for Roosevelt, therefore it looks like a democratic year. Phil Bates has just returned to Portland from a tour to the east and he gives the Telegram the following: "It surely looks like 'Bill' Bryan's year throughout the country, since the people learned that two nominations resulted from the Chicago convention," said Phil S. Bates this morning, upon his return from the East. "I met a large number of good Republicans who concede it is the psychological moment for the Nebraska statesman. With the Republican split, it seems a certainty that neither nominee can win, unless the Democrats should also strike a rock. That they will do this is not regarded likely by the mass of the people. Everywhere you find Republicans who plan to vote for a Democrat, and Bryan seems to be the choice. They reason about this way. 'Bryan is the real father of most of the things which are taken these days as progressive. He has talked them for years. When he first began his preaching, the country sat up in horror, and downed him as a radical too dangerous for consideration. Now the very Republicans are preaching his platforms in many respects, and they feel that they owe Bryan an apology. Wherever I met Republicans outside Washington, the drift was strongly toward Bryan.'"

Don't overlook the big ball game at the ball grounds, 2:30 sharp, tomorrow afternoon, when the city championship will be decided between the Regulars and Insurrectos. The Tonawama band will be in attendance to enliven the occasion and the game promises to be a good one.

Job printing—The Times-Herald

In order to meet the price of Flour hauled in from the R. R. the Burns Flour Milling Co have reduced flour to $7.00 bbl.

According to a Salem press dispatch an initiative petition has been filed with the secretary of the state asking that the proposition of a new court house be postponed until 1916 and that the taxes already collected be returned to the taxpayers.

"Burley's Ranch" a western comedy drama is being rehearsed by local players under the direction of Carl Welker. It will be put on at Tonawama July 3 as a benefit for the local Woodman Circle. It is well cast and promises to be one of the best bills ever produced in this city. Advance sale of seats will begin on Monday at the box office and it would be a good idea to secure reservations as there is going to be a big crowd. The balcony in the opera house has been completed and will be quite convenient for the large house that is expected to witness this production.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

JERSEY CATTLE AND ANGORA GOATS

John Back arrived yesterday with 41 head of young Jerseys and 10 Angora goats which he purchased in Polk county and shipped as far as Redmond. He brought the Jerseys in to sell but will keep his goats and experiment with them next year. If he finds they do well here he will buy a large flock of them next year. This experiment will be watched with interest as the goats are not only good foragers but their hair sells for big money. Should they prove a success there is a big market here for the goats. They may help to solve the clearing of the brush from many ranches.
