C. A. DeForest, a resident of Silver Creek but who has been working in the lumber camps over at Austin, has just come in from that point. He reports the snow very deep in that region, being 48 inches at Whitney, 40 inches above Austin and 26 at the latter place. Mr. DeForest states that David Eccles' son is now in charge of the vast interests of his late father and that he is a very progressive young man, up to date in business methods and has made some decidedly advantageous changes in things. He is reported to have said the Sumpter Valley would be in readiness to start work on the extension to Burns in the spring.

Carroll, an old settler of Catlow Valley, to purchase artificial legs with. Mr. Carroll recently met with a sad accident which deprived him of these limbs and now needs help. Are you with us? Get busy! Every cash purchase made here means just so much more in Mr. Carroll's pocket, and will be a cherished gift you will never miss.—N. BROWN & SONS.

Senator Stewart writes this office that the first bill to pass the senate was one preventing the deduction for grain sacks by purchasers and he succeeded in securing an amendment including wool sacks. This he explains will result in a saving of $65,000 to the wool men of the state basing the sales at twenty million pounds per year. The senator is well pleased with his committee assignments as most of the bills that in any wise affect Eastern Oregon must necessarily come to one of his committees. He has asked that his constituents in this district feel at liberty to write him at any time during the session in regard to any matters in which they are interested.

The masked ball given by the Tonawama Band last night was a success and largely attended. The affair was entirely in the hands of the band boys and the people of Burns had an opportunity to contribute in a substantial way toward the organization and they responded. The boys have been giving us some good music all during the season and have been making their own way, not asking any contributions from the business men but giving value received for every entertainment or concert. The prizes were awarded to Miss Ella Crowley as "Soubrette," and D. D. Van O'Linda as "Faust," the best costumed couple; Glen Clemens, representing "Schlitz," and Miss Ethel Haines as a "negro mame," were awarded the prizes for the most grotesque characters. The band played for the entire dance and delighted the large crowd with the music which was an additional attraction to the masquerade. There were several good characters represented, among them being some ladies who dressed as men, imitating some of the characters around town to good advantage and fooling all those present.

Commendable Charity.

The Times-Herald wishes to call attention to the ad of N. Brown & Sons in this issue and the splendid spirit shown in assisting an unfortunate man who needs aid. That firm is going to give five per cent of its cash business next month toward assisting William Carroll, who lost both feet recently to secure artificial feet and pay his doctor. Should the firm do $1000 worth of business during February $50 would thus go to Mr. Carroll. It is a spirit that should be followed by others.

In connection with this we might say in passing the Tonawama management has tendered the house at some time in the near future for a benefit of Mr. Carroll to be used for the same purpose. Just when this benefit will be given has not been decided by those having it in mind. Harry Smith has taken active charge of the proposed benefit and contemplates a dance. The date will be announced later.

S. W. Hamilton was over from Drewsey during the week.

Tonawama Pictures.

An exceptional selection of pictures have been secured for Tonawama tonight and tomorrow night. "Jack and Jingles," the story of a little newsboy and his dog, will be particularly pleasing for the children tonight as well as an industrial and educational reel, "Winter Logging in Main." A wonderfully interesting film is an air ship flying over New York and out over the water. This will not only interest the children but all who are present.

Tomorrow night a strong picture is entitled "Sheriff Jim's Last Shot," one of those active, strenuous Vitagraph films that show so many of the well known players that have become familiar to the patrons of the house. Two very funny comedies will also make a part of the program with two excellent dramas, making in all 5000 feet of film for the Sunday night patrons. All are good.

Three reels will be placed on the scene Wednesday night which will be very attractive. Some comedy that is advertised as being a sure cure for the blues as well as scenic and drama. Don't forget the mid-week performance as the management intends making this attractive and worth while—the usual policy of the house—the best to be had.

Prominent Law Firm Makes Business Change

McCullough & Eckhardt is the new firm of attorneys, who have taken over the practice of McCulloch, Solias & Duncan. Mr. Duncan will devote his attention to the abstract business, which he purchased a short time ago from C. C. Muller, at Vale. Mr. Solias has not decided on his future location. Mr. Eckhardt, the new member of the firm has been with them some time as assistant and is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the clients.

The offices have been newly fitted up and they now have the largest law library between Baker and Boise, over 1000 volumes. Mr. McCulloch is now prepared to devote his entire attention to the practice, his term as prosecuting attorney having expired.—Argus.

Casing For The Oil Wells

Frank Shumway, the Harney county freighter out of Vale, left this week with 2000 feet of 6-inch oil-well casing, loaded in six big wagons, for the oil fields of the Central Oregon Oil & Gas Company in Harney county. Reports indicate that the sustained effort of this company's energetic manager, J. C. Turney, are about to bear fruit.

In November, Shumway freighted in 1500 feet of 8-inch casing, and the present shipment indicates that there will soon be things doing in the eastern Oregon oil fields. Oil indications are strong, alike in Malheur and Harney counties, and it is only a question of drilling in the right places, say the oil men, before a producing well will be uncovered.—Vale Enterprise.

New Coyote Trap.

A new way for catching coyotes around sheep camps without the use of poisoned baits, on account of the danger to dogs, is by the use of steel traps and snares made out of five gallon tin cans distributed over the range.

The cans have a star shaped aperture cut in the top for a coyote to put his head through. The sharp points of the star are bent downward and a bait of bacon, eggs, chicken or dead horse placed in the bottom of the can. A coyote puts his head in the can and the sharp points of the star catch in his mane and the thick hair around his neck and he is unable to withdraw it. It is said that a coyote caught in this manner will walk backward in a circle with the can on his head and will not get far from the locality where the snare is placed.—Lakeview Experience.
