At his request the body was brought to Wild Horse for burial, so that he might rest with other members of the family already placed there.

Short services were held at the home of his son, S. Alberson, whence the procession wended its way to the cemetery. The services were conducted by J. B. Balcomb, who delivered the funeral address.

The deceased was born in Missouri Dec 8, 1842. He crossed the plains with his parents and settled in the Grand Ronde Valley in Oregon. Later they moved to the Willimette Valley. where he met and married Miss Amanda Jane Darland. Some 20 years afterwards they moved to Harney Valey, where he became the county's first assessor. Upon moving to the Alvord Valley, he built Miranda Station where he made his home for nearly five Morgan Cast has been putting years.
