LATEST DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE NOTES

(From Our Portland Correspondent)

The work of educating Eastern people as to the opportunities Oregon offers for the settler is not only being carried on from the various commercial clubs of the state, but very effective missionery work is made by the Great Northern exhibit car now touring the middle west. This car is really a complete land show on wheels, containing samples of products grown in the state and is accompanied by well informed men who explain the display and answer questions. Full 120,000 people of the Middle West will have viewed the car during its tour which ends at Peoria, Ills., April 4th.

Railroad men in keeping tab on work done by the car, find interest in Oregon homesteads is high throughout the territory covered. Few visiting the exhibit have used their homestead rights and many announce their intention of coming West and filing on Government land remaining unclaimed in this state. The car carries a large amount of literature descriptive of Oregon and this is distributed to inquirers.

The fourth annual convention of the Columbia & Snake Rivers Waterways Association will be held in Pendleton April 14-15. Commercial organizations of Oregon, Washington and Idaho will participate.

Encouraged by the success of its initial performance, the Pacific Northwest Land Products Show will hold a second and larger exposition of soil next Fall. An organization for the coming show has been formed and officers elected. The dates are November 1-8. Exhibits of all soil products, both fruits and vegetables, are wanted, and farmers throughout the Northwest states are urged to plant their crops this year with the idea in mind of placing their best samples on display in Portland and competing for the many prizes to be offered.

Farmers near St. Paul, Ore, have formed a cooperative creamery association, following the plan of the Tillamook dairy farmers which has been found so successful. Mount Angel has such an establishment already. There is a broad field for farmers and horticulturists in this state to make common cause with their neighbors in marketing their products and the results are bound to be mutually profitable.

A conference for the Conservation of Human Life, the first ever held in the Pacific Northwest, will be brought together at Reed College, Portland, May 9-11. Exhibits, lectures and moving pictures will call attention to dangers that threaten the public health and remedies will be pointed out. Boards of health, education and physicians, peace and eugenics societies will cooperate.

The Forty Year Test.

An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has grown in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than 40 years. It not only gives relief—it cures. For sale by all dealers.

Strayed—From Burns, 2 work horses, one a dark bay branded T 6 connected, the other a light bay, one hind foot and one front foot white, has brand but do not know what it is. Each will weigh about 1400 lbs. Will pay any expense incurred for their return to Burns or information leading to their recovery.—A. O. Skaterud, Burns, Oregon.

ing with means of going on the land and making the soil of the state produce additional wealth will be one of the functions of the future campaign.

An effort will be made to have the large landowners who now are disposing of their property in small tracts assist the purchasers in stocking their property. Reasonable farm loans will be sought for the immigrant farmer.

George F. Johnson, chairman of the promotion committee, reviewed the results of the last few years and declare that there is more need for further publicity than there has been in the past.

"I was impressed with the enthusiasm displayed by the men at the meeting," said Mr. Johnson after adjournment. "We had a most representative gathering—probably the most representative ever secured for such a purpose."

Walter F. Burrell also expressed eagerness to carry on the publicity throughout the period of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He voiced the opinion that Portland and Oregon must have adequate publicity at that time, as all the other Western States will be making efforts then to attract tourists and to secure permanent residents.

Tom Richardson pointed out the need for activity along the line of securing settlers for the vacant lands and of assisting farmers who locate on the land.

Others who spoke of and approved the general plan were B. S. Josselyn, president of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company; Guy W. Talbot, president of the Portland Gas & Coke Company; R. B. Miller, traffic manager of the O-W. R. & N. Company; C. S. Jackson, publisher of the Journal; J. H. Young, president of the North Bank Railroad; A. L. Mills, president of the First National Bank, and W. B. Ayer, president of the Eastern & Western Lumber Co.

To Experiment For Eggs On The Oregon Farms

Poultry breeding for egg yield is the object of experiment No. 201, of the Oregon Agricultural Experiment League. There probably is nothing which will do more to advance the poultry industry and increase the profits of production than systematic breeding of any kind.

Undoubtedly 25 or 50 per cent of the hens in most farm flocks do not lay enough eggs to pay for their keep. The trap-nest is the only thing, so far as known, that will demonstrate this and will tell which hens do the laying. If a farmer in each county joins the league, trap-nests a flock, and then save the best for breeding purposes, his neighbors would come to him for eggs for hatching, and for cockerels from the best layers in his flock and it would not be long before every farmer in the county had stock bred from good layers.

The league proposes to make three seperate experiments. In the first a three months' record of the eggs laid by each hen in the flock is kept. In the second a similar record for six months is kept, and in the third a whole years record. It is best, if possible, to start the experiments at the beginning of the laying year, and to use pullets. The work may begin when the flock begins laying. Nov. 1, is a good time to start a year's record, or it may start Oct. 1, or Dec. 1.

In the first three months the early fall and winter layers may be picked out. Those will be the kind to breed from rather than others which, though they may lay as many eggs in the year, do so in the season when eggs are cheaper.

A six months' record will show fairly well which are the more profitable hens. At the end of that time there could be a weeding out or killing off of the poorest layers. Some will do pretty well for six months, but will fall short in twelve months, so they may be removed from the flocks when the end of the years shows conclusively which were the poor producers.

The remaining fowls would be those which had made a good year's record. The best of these could be selected for the breeding flock, and the pullets hatched from their eggs trap-nested the year after. Those who wish to build trap-nests like those originated at the Oregon Agricultural College may obtain a bulletin, showing how they are made, together with blanks for keeping egg records, by writing to the extension division of the college.

way of Vale, as it would be much eaiser for him. The same would hold good in respect to the post master in that direction, but we could not be given adequate and quick service over this route, as it would make a difference of two days in the arrival of our mail. We are entitled to a daily service from Canyon and the business interests of Burns are going to see that we get it. One would not suppose that a territory as large as this could be so neglected in respect to mail service as this has been since the first of the year. The importance of getting our mail is hardly realized by those who have other advantages and have never experienced what we have had to put up with.

WHY NOT MAKE $200.00 A MONTH - - That's $50.00 a Week, almost $10.00 a Day

Selling Victor Safes and fire-proof boxes to merchants, doctors, lawyers, dentists and well-to-do farmers, all of whom realize the need of a safe, but do not know how easy it is to own one. Salesmen declare our proposition one of the best, clean-cut money-making opportunities ever received. Without previous experience YOU can duplicate the success of others. Our handsomely illustrated 200-page catalog will enable you to present the subject to customers in as interesting a manner as though you were piloting them through our factory. Men appointed as salesmen receive advice and instructions for selling safes, giving convincing talking points which it is impossible for a prospective customer to deny. Why don't YOU be the first to apply from your vicinity before someone else gets the territory? We can favor only one salesman out of each locality.

Our New Home. Capacity 20,000 Safes Annually.

The 26th anniversary of our company was celebrated by erecting the most modern safe factory in the world. Wide-awake men who received our special selling inducement, readered it necessary to double our output. We are spending many thousands of dollars enlarging our sales organization, but to learn all particulars, it will cost you only the price of a postal card.
