Mrs. L. Woldenberg died at San Francisco last week. She was a sister of Joe Morris of this city and the family made their home here for a number of years where they have many friends. She was formerly a member of the local Eastern Star Chapter and also held membership in the local Women of Woodcraft Circle. Many friends in this city express sorrow and extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Circuit Judge Biggs arrived from Ontario last Thursday and has been holding court since yesterday. Only motions and arguments are being considered prepared to getting cases in readiness for the regular term which convenes next Monday. There was no holdover grand jury from last term as had been the custom of late years, therefore the criminal matters will have to await the empaneling of a new jury.

While coming down from his ranch Tuesday in company with Simon Lewis, J. C. Foley had two fingers torn off by his horse, which he was leading behind the rig, pulling back and catching the fingers in the coils of the halter rope. Dr. Geary found it necessary to remove the little finger about half way from the hand and the third at the last joint. It was his right hand that was injured and Foley isn't shaking hands with any of his friends since the accident. He says it has not pained him very much.

J. A. Eberle, who is quite well known here, having purchased land here a few years ago, arrived from Portland this week and will remain for an indefinite time. He has some new people on his place near the Embree bridge who will farm it for a term of years and as soon as the weather will permit he expects to put men at work clearing the sage brush from a tract he owns out near the Experiment Station. This will also be cultivated. Mrs. Eberle and little daughter will join him as soon as the roads get good and they can make the trip in with comfort.

Favorable Action

Toward City Water

At two meetings of the city fathers this week the matter of water and sewer was given particular attention. The proposition of Mr. Green was turned down both plans and specifications as well as tentative contract, as it lacked detail and was not at all satisfactory. The plans submitted for mains did not cover the city adequately, leaving out Morrison's addition and also the north part of town.

The council adopted the plans of laying the mains submitted by the Eastern Oregon Engineering Co. which covers the town more completely and at less expense, that is a saving of about 1000 feet of pipe. The plans of Mr. Green will be filed and used as a basis of working out other details, however, as it was necessary under the former contract to pay for these whether they were acceptable or not.

The estimate made by the local firm of engineers is considerably cheaper than those of Mr. Green, the local people making an estimate of $41,000 for water and $34,000 for sewer. The city authorities hope to call an election in the immediate future to amend the charter authorizing bonding for such purposes. An election was held before for this purpose but it seems it was not legal and must be submitted to a vote again. As soon as this is done a bond election will likely be called, it being the desire of the council to at least submit the proposition of water this season at any rate, as they feel this can be financed and the system installed this year.

James Turner Found Dead

A telephone message from Jas. Mahon's ranch at Anderson Valley last night conveyed the information that James Turner had been found dead in one of Mr. Mahon's sheep camps yesterday evening. Coroner Clevenger and Dr. Harrison left for the place this morning to investigate and hold an inquest.

Deceased was a cripple and had been with the Kellogg stage lines for the past several years, having driven on various lines and also worked around the office here in Burns. He was a very peculiar character but had many friends. He went out on the stage Wednesday morning arriving at the Mahon ranch about 2 o'clock that afternoon and yesterday morning was taken to one of the sheep camps about four miles from the ranch where he had been engaged to cook during the lambing season. Yesterday evening a man came to the camp where Turner had been alone, and found him dead. He reported to Mr. Mahon and the latter went up there this morning but could find no indication of violence or marks on the body and has concluded his death was from natural causes. However an inquest will determine more fully.

Mrs. Mahon states over the phone this morning that the weather out there is very disagreeable it snowing at that time and very unfavorable to the lambing which has begun.

Change in Tonawama Pictures

The usual picture program will be shown at Tonawama tonight and tomorrow night. There has been some change in the affairs as Tonawama now has another operator, another piano player and general change. This will no doubt meet with approval of its patrons as they like a change from time to time. Neil Smith is now "boss" at the pictures and has developed into a good operator. Mrs. Murray now presides at the piano and her repertoire of music is new to the patrons and thus it will add to the enjoyment of the programs.

Tonight there will be three fine reels shown, all good and interesting. "Slippery Tom" is a comedy that is advertised as a scream. On the same reel will be shown a "Glimpse of Belgium" "Rope Making Kent, England" "The Puppet's Hour" and "An Outcast Among Outcasts," are both fine pictures that are sure to please.

Tomorrow night there are the usual good comedies, two of them, "Margaret's Awakening" and an "Eventful Elopment." "A Reconstructed Rebel" and "On Her Wedding Morn." are two good dramas of particular merit.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Too much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is a favorite with the mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by all dealers.
