Got Him But Didn't Keep Him

Sheriff Elkins of Crook County was over last week looking for a man wanted for taking a team and wagon, as well as other property that he thought might be handy. He went on over into Malheur County, accompanied by Duke Young of this place and found his man at Westfall, secured the stolen property and came back here where he allowed the man to get away. The Crook county officers do not seem very successful in keeping their prisoners, at least those caught over in this section, as they had a similar experience not long ago, allowing their man to escape even a second time after getting hold of him.

Features At Tonawama.

An interesting feature of the picture show tonight at Tonawama will be the orchestra work of Mrs. Dodge's entire violin class. These little tots will furnish music between reels tonight and also play for a period before the show begins, the concert to begin at 7:15. Come early and enjoy the music. There will be over 20 in this orchestra, including the piano and a cornet.

Three splendid new picture reels will be on the program tonight, one a Western play by popular actors, another a comedy. All good. Usual prices will be charged.

Tomorrow night the three-reel feature, "The Two Orphans," will be presented with an additional reel of Comedy Drama at the usual Sunday night Charges. This feature is one of the best ever seen in the house and worth more than the price charged, but was sent by error and the management will show it at the regular prices for the evening.

Both these programs are exceptionally good and the management is pleased to be able to present two in succession that are sure to be most pleasing to patrons. Bring the children tonight to hear the big orchestra—and come early.

His Services Appreciated.

Early this week The Times-Herald received a letter from Senator Chamberlain enclosing a letter from the Post Office Department giving details of the trouble of getting a temporary service for mail between this place and Canyon. A letter from this office had reached the Senator giving him an account of the service and this was used by him to get relief from the Department. Since that time we have been receiving our mail regularly and the people of this section certainly appreciate the efforts of Senator Chamberlain in our behalf.

Passed to the Beyond.

A telephone message was received here last Sunday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Anna W. Sayer, which occurred at Portland the afternoon before. She had been suffering from heart disease for years and her death was due to this trouble. Mrs. Sayer and little daughter Dorothy went to Portland last June and she improved in health quite materially and later they returned home but the altitude soon had a bad effect on her and she returned to Portland in the fall accompanied by both her daughters Dorothy and Miss Agnes. For a time the change seemed beneficial but she again had serious trouble and last month her husband joined them. He was with her until her death. They arrived home by way of Bend Thursday evening, the body having been embalmed and the funeral will take place this afternoon from the Masonic lodge room, deceased being a member of the local Chapter of the Eastern Star which organization will conduct the service.

Mrs. Sayer was 45 years old and had resided in this place since 1884. She was formerly Anna Powers and immediately after her marriage at Canyon City she removed to Burns. Her husband and four children survive her, John W. Jr., Miss Agnes, Helen and Dorothy. She is also survived by one brother, Dan Powers who resides at Canyon City, her mother and one sister, Mrs. Fountain, were with her in Portland when she died. Another sister, Mrs. J. J. Tupker, resides in this place.

Mrs. Sayer was a highly respected pioneer lady who had a wide acquaintanceship and enjoyed the friendship of many. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of this community.

I wish to thank the people of Burns for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy tendered me during the trying time through which I have just passed. Mrs. Sutton's mother and sisters desire that I extend to you their deepest appreciation for the floral offerings that spoke so much for your admiration for the departed, and your respect for the living.

W. M. Sutton, Burns, Ore.

Miss Blanch Wilson, who has a homestead in the Powell Butte country, has a rooster that sets on eggs and hatcher chickens. Last year she raised a brood of chicks from him and two days ago she set him again. The rooster apparently likes his job as a mother. This is very rare in poultry raising, but by no means an impossibility. Besides being a first-class mother he takes excellent care of the chicks, and weans them at the proper time like a hen.—Prineville Review.

Court Stenographer Walker and District Attorney Brooke left for their home at Ontario directly after the adjournment of court.
