LATEST DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE NOTES

Word has already been sent out from headquarters of the Oregon Development League urging that all sections of the state start early to arrange for exhibits at the Eastern land shows next Fall. It is pointed out it is not too soon to start the work of judicious planting of crops, with exhibits in mind, so that the best products may be sent away in small quantities for this purpose.

A recent example of the effectiveness of this work has just come to light. Having become interested in the Clackamas County exhibit at the Minneapolis Land Show, six families of Minneaplis sent a man to Clackamas County to pick out suitable locations where they might settle. Actual demonstration of crops grown on Western lands is the best possible argument for immigration.

The harness race program for the State Fair, Sept. 29-Oct. 6, has been completed by the state printer and will be distributed at once. The big features of the fall racing will be the $5,000 Oregon Futurity, October 1, and the $5,000 Lewis and Clark purse the following day.

May 15 will be Home Coming Day at the Oregon Agricultural College, the first annual event of its kind ever held by this institution. Former students and friends of the college from all parts of state will visit the school at that time. A big excursion is being arranged from Portland.

Condon wants to secure the Tri-County Fair permanently. It is expected this event will again be held in Condon next fall and there is a disposition among Condon people to make it an annual attraction for the Gilliam County capital. This fair has become a prominent feature of agricultural life in Sherman, Morrow and Gilliam.

Support for the University of Oregon in the coming referendum fight is coming from all quarters of the state. An organization has been formed to urge support for the State University and it is expected by those enlisted in the movement that the appropriation for the institution by the Legislature will be approved when the matter is put to vote.

Fruit districts of the state might take a tip from Hood River bee keepers, who have asked that orchardists do not spray their trees during the time the blossoms are fully open. This results in killing large numbers of bees, which are the most valuable helpers the orchardists have. Their aid is invaluable in spreading pollen from tree to tree.

Molalla has formed a Commercial Club and is determined to get on the development map. The way to accomplish big things is to get ready for them.

Enterprise has formed an automobile club, which is evidence of the prosperity of that district.

Most Prompt and Effectual Cure for Bad Colds.

When you have a bad cold you want a remedy that will not only give relief, but effect a prompt and permanent cure, a remedy that is pleasant to take, a remedy that contains nothing injurious. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all these requirements. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and restores the system to a healthy condition. This remedy has a world wide sale and use, and can always be depended upon. Sold by all dealers.

Proposed Exhibition of Road Models.

Arrangements are to be made by the United States Department of Agriculture, through Logan Waller Page, Director of the Office of Public Roads, to place on exhibition at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915 the greatest collection of road models ever displayed in any part of the world. The models will furnish exact duplicates of the old Roman roads, French roads, and all of the various types of modern roads, together with miniature models of road machinery operated by electricity.

The Office of Public Roads made an exhibit of road models for the first time at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. The aim was to put on view such striking examples in miniature of road models that visitors would not only appreciate the beneficent effects of improved highways, but would, at the same time, be able to understand the methods of their construction.

Since the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition closed, the exhibit has been displayed at Omaha, Nebr., during the National Corn Exposition; at Knoxville, Tenn., during the Southern Appalachian Exposition; at Chicago, Ill., during the National Land and Irrigation Exposition; at New York City, during the Travel and Vacation Exposition and the Domestic Science Exposition; at Atlantic City, N. J., during the American Road Congress; at Lethbridge, Alberta, during the International Dryland Congress; at Buenos Aires, Argentina, during the International Agricultural Exposition; at Turin, Italy, during the International Exposition; and at various other expositions and fairs. Since that time the collection has been greatly augmented, until every single type of road is now represented, and every known device used in the making of roads has been reproduced in miniature.

The models have also been displayed on road trains at all important places along the route of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the State of Pennsylvania, the entire system of the Southern Railway, the Frisco Lines, the Atlantic Coast Line, and the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway.

As a result of the instruction furnished by these road models, many farmers have joined forces to improve their own highways, and the road building movement has had a great impetus. When application for expert advice concerning any special road problem is made to the Department, the Office of Public Roads furnishes it without exacting any fees.

Country Butter.

A now ruling to be issned shortly by the Food and Dairy Commission, is that requiring all country butter to be labeled. In the past there has been no means of identifying the butter that was short weight or bad quality, except through the merchant. Hereafter each roll will have to state weight, either "full 16 ounces" or "full 32 ounces" and it must be wrapped and bear the name of the manufacturer. This will be no hardship to the producer of a good grade of butter, but on the contrary will serve as an advertisement for his wares, and in case of the market of poor butter and one who is given to short weight, it will brand him and require him to keep to the standard.—Blue Mt. Eagle.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Directors of School District No. 1, Harney County, Oregon, for 75 cords of 4ft., pine wood of first quality to be cut during the month of June. The same to be delivered and corded at the school house in Burns not later than September 1, 1913. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. No bids received after 2 o'clock p. m. of May 15th.—W. L. BLOTT, Clerk.

PRACTICAL BAKING LESSONS

MUFFINS

When properly made, there is nothing more appetizing for breakfast or tea than muffins, or gems, as they are sometimes called. With honey, preserves or marmalade, they readily make the chief feature of the meal, and there are so many ways to vary them, that one can have a different kind about as often as she likes. Below I give a few choice and successful recipes.

Nevada Brigg

A great many housewives have had trouble in making rich, light, moist muffins without their falling, and to overcome this, they have resorted to making the batter so stiff that when baked, the muffins are very dry. A muffin can be made almost as light and just as palatable as a pop-over, but to make a light, moist muffin which is not soggy in the center, a double-raise baking powder such as K C must be used. K C Baking Powder has two separate and distinct raises: one when moisture is added, and the other when heat is applied, so that the raising is sustained until the muffin is baked through, and all danger of falling and becoming soggy is past.

Like biscuits, the softer the dough goes into the oven, the lighter the muffins that come out of it.

One-Egg Muffins

2 cups flour — 1 teaspoonful salt
2 slightly rounded teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder — ¼ cup sugar
¼ cup melted lard or butter
1 egg — 1 cup water or milk

Sift dry ingredients together three times. Add to this the unbeaten egg, melted shortening and water or milk. Then beat all together until perfectly smooth. Oil muffin or gem pans and have oven slow until the muffins come to the top of the pan, then increase the heat to bake and brown the muffins. This recipe makes 12 large muffins. Raisins or currants may be added if desired.

Graham Muffins

1 cup graham flour — 1 cup pastry flour
2 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder
1 to 2 level tablespoonfuls sugar
¼ teaspoonful salt — 1 egg
1¼ cups milk or water
2 to 3 tablespoonfuls melted butter

Mix and bake as One-Egg Muffins.
Graham batter should always be quite soft to insure lightness and a moist muffin.

Corn Meal Muffins

¼ cup butter — ½ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten — 1 cup milk or water
1½ cups corn meal — 1½ cups flour
¼ teaspoonful salt
[illegible] level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder

Cream the butter; add the sugar and eggs. Sift together, three times, the meal, flour, salt and baking powder. Add this to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Bake about twenty-five minutes, baking a little slowly to start, then increase heat to bake brown.

Bacon Muffins

2 cups flour — 1 teaspoonful salt
3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder
¼ cup sugar (if desired)
¼ cup melted lard or butter
4 or 5 slices of bacon fried crisp and broken into small bits — 1 cup milk or water

Mix and bake as One-Egg Muffins above.

Date Muffins

¼ cup butter — ¼ cup sugar
¾ cup milk or water — 1 egg
2 cups pastry flour — ¼ teaspoonful salt
3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder
Scant ¼ pound dates

Cream the butter, add the sugar and the egg, beaten light. Sift together three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; add these to the first mixture, alternately with the milk; beat thoroughly and add the dates, stoned and cut in pieces. Bake rather slowly to start, increasing heat to brown.

Some Helpful Suggestions

Muffins would be served on many more breakfast tables if this meal were not prepared so hurriedly that there is not time enough to stir up muffins and bake them. With K C double-raise baking powder, the batter may be stirred up the night before and if set in a cool place, it will remain in a partially leavened condition all night, and the raising will be completed when put in the oven in the morning. No difference will be noticed between muffins mixed the night before and those mixed immediately before baking. This should not be attempted however, with any of the old fashioned single-acting baking powders.

The old fashioned way was to bake muffins in a hot oven, but this makes a thick heavy crust and a soggy center, which is unpalatable and hard to digest. The proper and healthful way to bake muffins is to start the oven at a low temperature, just as for baking cakes. When the muffins come up to the top of the pan, the heat should be raised, and they should be baked until a crisp crust is formed. This crust will be thin, and the centers will be found light and fluffy, but thoroughly baked.

Always sift the flour and baking powder together at least three times, no matter what kind of pastry is to be made. This will insure its rising evenly and the flour is lightened by having air sifted into it.

Either water or milk may be used for muffins. Milk will make the richer muffin and brown better, but water will answer the purpose very nicely when milk is not to be had.

A most excellent "spread" for muffins, hot biscuits and hot cakes is made by creaming together about equal parts of butter and honey either strained or in the comb. If the butter is solid it will work up to about the consistency of hard sauce and it is simply delicious.

Selling Victor Safes and fire-proof boxes to merchants, doctors, lawyers, dentists and well-to-do farmers, all of whom realize the need of a safe, but do not know how easy it is to own one. Salesmen declare our proposition one of the best, clean-cut money-making opportunities ever received. Without previous experience YOU can duplicate the success of others. Our handsomely illustrated 200-page catalog will enable you to present the subject to customers in as interesting a manner as though you were piloting them through our factory. Men appointed as salesmen receive advice and instructions for selling safes, giving convincing talking points which it is impossible for a prospective customer to deny. Why don't YOU be the first to apply from your vicinity before someone else gets the territory? We can favor only one salesman out of each locality.

Our New Home. Capacity 20,000 Safes Annually.

The 25th anniversary of our company was celebrated by erecting the most modern safe factory in the world. Wide-awake men who received our special selling inducement, rendered it necessary to double our output. We are spending many thousands of dollars enlarging our sales organization, but to learn all particulars, it will cost you only the price of a postal card.
