The Beaten Track

The definite purpose of advertising is to bring the buyer and seller together with a view to the consummation of a deal whereby each party with something—the one with money or its equivalent and the other with some commodity. The aim is to sell. Advertising may sell the goods outright or it may interest and lead to personal inquiry which in turn may result in a sale. If the advertising leads to personal inquiry good salesmanship will perhaps close the deal. Too much must not be expected from advertising alone. What good would advertising do a business with poor goods and dummy salesmen? That is poor merchandising. But good merchandising and good advertising combined is a sure winner, and is more valuable than bank stock. The merchant, who handles a good quality of goods, has a good selling force, and through judicious advertising in his local paper proclaims the merits of his goods, seldom meets with disappointment in his business. He conducts his business a little bit better than his neighbor. And Emerson referred to the merchant as well as anyone else when he said, "If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten track to his door." The beaten track will follow in the wake of good advertising and good merchandising. It always has as any merchant prince will certify.

IS IT PRACTICAL?

The suggestion of Mr. Hanley made in a speech at the Hill party reception to have the democrats of Burns go to Washington to ask for Oregon's share of government funds "listened" good, but will our Uncle Sam want to take up the Silvies project? He had a chance several years ago when there was more or less vacant land under the project, but now there isn't a claim to speak of. The reclamation service has avoided projects in the past where there was no vacant lands, also shuns places where there are conflicting interests. On the Silvies there are many conflicting interests and it would be a fight from beginning. In the first place the application of Mr. McConnell and his associates claim certain rights to overflow water after it reaches the head of Harney Valley and the P. L. S. Co. has been decreed at intervals during the past several years perhaps more water than comes down the river. Will the government go in and fight these people or is it better for a private concern to undertake the project?

A representative of the First National Bank of St. Paul was with the Hill party. This bank is controlled by the Hill people as well as a big bonding house, both of which institutions have signified their willingness to put their money into Central Oregon to help develop it. These men know it is a safe investment to take the bonds of both the Silvies and Silver Creek irrigation projects. Why not take it up? Of course if the government will take hold of the projects under the existing circumstances and can reconcile the various interests without delay, the people will do their best toward assisting and there are a number of democrats, including Bill Hanley, who says "he hitched in with them," that will go to Washington and help secure the money. They'll make two trips to Washington if necessary.

COULDN'T HELP BUT LIKE IT.

Mr. Hill and his party have come and gone again and Harney county has made a deeper impression than ever before. The jaunt out in the country Monday afternoon when the experiment station was visited as well as surrounding territory viewed was certainly one that would make visitors "sit up and take notice." Mr. Young, president of the Hill lines in Oregon, viewed this section for the first time and he expressed his admiration and stated in his talk at the reception in the evening that we should have had a railroad many years ago and that we needed two railroads instead of one. Mr. Young found a good many in his hearing that were of the same opinion.

ORGANIZATION

The interests of Burns and the entire country will be better safeguarded by loyal support to an organization that is composed of the business men and public-spirited citizens who have the advancement of the country at heart. Such an organization is the life of the country and it should be first in the consideration of the members. It should be representative, however, and not dominated by any faction. Men should speak out freely on such occasions as are of vital interest and be perfectly frank respecting the aims to attain. This country is too big for any one man to handle and a really representative organization will do wonders if it has the local support of all interested.

A Birthday Celebration.

Last Monday afternoon and evening was a happy time for a large number of little girls in Burns who were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. H. Leonard by Louis W. Hill in celebration of the birthday of his little daughter. Although the little lady, who attained her 11th birthday was not present the cake and the candles were there and some 21 little girls of Burns celebrated with Mr. Hill. They had a lovely time with lots of fruit, ice cream, cakes, candy, nuts, etc. Each little guest was presented with a souvenir of the occasion and Mr. Hill will find a warm welcome from his little friends on his next visit.

Theatrical People Married.

Tonawama theatre had its first wedding on the stage at the close of the performance Thursday evening. John P. Morgan and Miss Dolly Mae Earle of the "Gayety Girls" company were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. Babbidge of the First Presbyterian, the ceremony being witnessed by all in the house. Two of the young ladies of the company acted as flower girls and Mr. LeMoine and Miss Lillian Leo acted as best man and bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by their orchestra and Mr. Neivaug sang an appropriate song just before the service was begun by Dr. Babbidge.

This was the first stage wedding ever witnessed in Burns and it proved quite interesting to the large crowd who had attended the performance. The ring service was used and the service very pretty. The happy couple left with the company the following morning with the best wishes of local people. Among the presents was a set of knives and forks with "Tonawama" engraved on them as a souvenir of the occasion. The management of Tonawama has promised other members of the "Gayety Girls" as suitable a present at any time they will get married on the stage.

P. O. Busby, a young man who has been working for W. W. Brown, was in this week for medical treatment for a bad finger caused by running a barbed wire into it. He feared blood poisoning but it was not seriously affected.
