Advertising And News

News is any recent or fresh intelligence or information concerning any matter or event, and advertising is giving news relating to a business. The ordinary doings and happenings are not news.

That advertising may be effective, productive, and stimulating to business it must be done in the way of conveying information. To say that Smith is still making good goods honestly, and that the people ought to eat his product, conveys neither specific nor interesting information.

When the merchant puts the same arguments and intelligence into his ads that a good salesman puts into his talks to sell a commodity, then will newspaper advertising become immensely profitable.

A CHANGE IN THINGS.

An instance in the changed order of things between the railroads and the people is shown in a recent issue of the Bend Bulletin. It has not been many years since it was almost impossible to approach a railroad man on any matter of importance to the public, the railroad people holding themselves entirely away from anything that indicates a favorable consideration of things in general.

hogs in a locality near Bend, and asking the railroad people to send their agricultural man there to investigate. The telegram met with immediate and cheerful response. This shows the difference in attitude of both the railroads and the banks. The Bulletin ends its editorial thus:

Do you recall the shocking tales we used to read and hear, not so long ago, about cold-blooded corporations such as bloodsucking banks and heartless railroads beating the poor unprotected farmer to a financial pulp? Why, half of the real lurid "mellerdrammers" of a decade ago had some such affair sor their plot! Remember the railroads, nine of whose commandments were "The public be damned" and the tenth "Get their money?"

And right here in our little story of plain facts we stumble upon a beautiful example of The New Order. It is a delightful instance of the way such things have changed. A bank goes far out of its way to lend aid to farmers and a railroad joins in the good constructive work. That is the kind of banking and the kind of railroading that builds countries and communities. Incidentally, it pays dividends—to the farmers, too.

Holstein Cattle Here.

I. S. Geer arrived here with the 77 head of Holstein cattle recently purchased in the east Thursday evening. The drive from Prairie City in was made at easy stages as the roads and rainy weather made the trip rather disagreeable, besides the fine stock, which had never experienced any hardships, were given every advantage after their long journey on the train. Some of the animals were driven into town yesterday afternoon and greatly admired by a large crowd.

The Times-Herald has not learned what prices have been placed on the stock by the Harney County National Bank, but there seems little doubt but they will be readily sold. They are mostly young stock, the oldest animal being four-years-old. Three bulls are included in the lot and the balance of them are young cows and heifers soon to freshen. The enterprise is one that will bring good results and is commended by the people of this section. The stock are in pasture north of town.

The Clay Clemens sawmill is now at its new location and is prepared to fill any order with rough or dressed lumber, also fir lumber; buck teeth and any special order given prompt attention.

I have at my place on Rock Creek a four year old red cow branded either H connected or 71, think it the brand of Frank Heinz. Wish to establish ownership to animal. Parties interested will confer with me at once. G. A. Stoneman, Harney.

PLEASANT WEATHER ADDS TO CELEBRATION

party had experienced all the night before reaching Burns.

The committee was wise and our people most fortunate in the selection of Hon. C. C. McCulloch as the orator of the day. Mr. McCulloch took as the key note of his patriotic remarks the thought that the Revolution and the birth of our Republic were inevitable, that there was no exact or definite time or no one particular cause, but that they were a natural, irresistible growth and evolution from many combined forces and events; and that this same spirit and force should and does rule today in working out the governmental problems which arise under the continually changing conditions and growth of our nation.

The closing remarks were made by the Hon. Frank Davey who congratulated the business men upon their generosity which made the celebration possible and assured its success. On behalf of the committee of arrangements he extended sincere thanks to and complimented the orator of the day, and expressed the appreciation of the people who had enjoyed the program for the time and personal effort devoted in preparing for and presenting the excellent music which was rendered by the band boys, the well trained chorus and Mrs. Dodge's fine orchestra of children who are the pride of many Burns homes.

Immediately after the noon hour the band played on the street and the people then went to the base ball park where a game was scheduled between pickup teams. It did not prove very interesting and after a few innings the crowd was invited to the fair grounds where several good races were pulled off. One harness event between three pacers, half mile heats, proved a nice race. The little mare belonging to A. E. Murphy and driven by Phil Smith took both heats with Doc Jones, driven by Harry Smith second, John G. driven by Johnson third. The first heat was made in 1:15, the next 1:15. These horses are capable of better speed and there are some in the stables that are very fleet and will be seen on the course tomorrow afternoon when there will be at least one free for all harness event and three or four running races. The second race yesterday was a three-eighths dash in which "Seventy" and "Teddy" were competitors. The latter won with ease in 38 seconds. This was a slow race for these horses also. A saddle horse race in which a field of nine horses started was really the most interesting card of the afternoon, as it was fought hard from start to finish. Neil Culver's brown won but some of the others were bunched in close at the finish, with the little Arabian pony of Ellen Geer as second.

In the evening juvenile sports were held on the streets in which all the boys and girls took part and for which nice purses were given. The fireworks at the base ball park were witnessed by a large crowd and the evening, or night rather, was spent by the young people dancing at Tonawama. The house was very crowded but all seemed to enjoy the dance and no doubt many of them will dance again tonight.

This morning it has turned rather warm and will be an ideal day for the ball game and races. Sumpter and Burns cross bats on the local diamond this afternoon and it is confidently predicted it will be one of the finest ball games ever witnessed in Burns. The same teams play tomorrow afternoon and there will also be races at the fair grounds. The racing cards are to be particularly attractive with some fleet horses taking part.

Tomorrow morning the gun club shoots at the traps for prizes. An outline of the program for this may be seen elsewhere in this issue.

"DISRAELI"

The production of the interesting four-act drama "Disraeli" by local players Thursday night under the direction of Miss Drusa Dodson was a very pleasant surprise to the home people and its rendition was a credit to the young lady who directed it especially when it is taken under consideration that she had only amateurs with whom to work and it being the first appearance of some of those who took part. Miss Dodson worked most faithfully with her "recruits" even sacrificing her own part in the play to devote her time to others. However, her rendition of "Clarissa" was most satisfactory and she has shown her ability along the line she has chosen to work and should she direct further plays with those with whom she has been associated in "Disraeli" she will find the players more tractable and therefore bringing out the characters with less worry and care.

The writer having taken part in the play, does not feel it proper to give the bill any special mention other than that, it was of high character and an entirely new departure for the local players. It was a very hard play, yet so far as can be learned by those taking part, it was much appreciated by all who witnessed it. The players are gratified by the compliments received from their friends and are determined that should they put on another play in the near future to surpass the production of Thursday night so far as their respective parts are concerned.

The stage settings and costumes of the ladies were the most elaborate ever seen in Burns and brought admiring praise from all who witnessed the production.

Burns Wins First Game.

As The Times-Herald was late going to press today, owing to the shortage of help and the celebration, the first game of ball between Burns and Sumpter was played before we run the paper off. It resulted in a decided victory for the home team with a score of 10 to 4. The game started out rather brisk and the visitors seemed to have the best of it but finally the local team got down to business and walked away from them. This means one of the hardest fought ball games ever witnessed in Burns tomorrow as the visiting team will sure play their best.

The game was witnessed by a very large crowd this afternoon and the prediction of a large one tomorrow is sure to be realized.

Pat Donegan umpired the game this afternoon and the Sumpter team tried three pitchers, McNaught, Foster and Speed, with Johnson catching. Reed and Musick formed the battery for Burns.
