Sufficient funds have been provided for a most interesting and entertaining program at the fair grounds each afternoon for the entire week of fair beginning on Tuesday afternoon and continuing until Saturday evening. There will be saddle horse racing and Indian pony races, foot races for the school boys, athletics, etc. The girls will also be provided for. Wednesday afternoon will be given over largely to the farmers as Prof. Shaw of the Hill railroad lines, Prof. French of the agricultural extension department and others will address the people at the grounds at 2:30. There will be racing and sports also during this afternoon. The fair association has decided to make the admission price popular, making it 25 cents at the gate with no additional charges any place on the grounds, the grand stand free as in the past. Every child showing proper evidence of attending school in the county will be admitted free to the grounds at any time. The Association has arranged for saddle horse races each day and at least two races for ponies for the boys, also Indian pony races, foot races for the school children and other sports. One of the very interesting cards will be a relay race between Indian boys and the high school boys. There will be eight in each team and the distance will be half mile. This has been arranged for Friday afternoon. There will also be a tug of war between Indians and white men. Thursday will be largely an Indian day as it is arranged for the Indians to have their barbecue on that afternoon and also a war dance. This is a feature that will be worth seeing and should be remembered by fair visitors. Other Indian "stunts" that afternoon will be foot races for both the Indian boys and squaws. One of the pretty features for Friday afternoon will be a doll buggy parade participated in by little girls under the age of 10 years. Three cash prizes will be given for the best decorated doll buggies. This afternoon will be a particular day for the school children and they will have other sports in which to participate. The public school board has kindly consented to dismiss school any afternoon that the Association may designate and it is likely the children will have at least two entire afternoons at the fair. The Times-Herald has not space to give the entire program as outlined but each afternoon's program will be announced by distributing small doggers. The merry-go-round will be running each afternoon for the children and refreshment stands on the grounds.

Mace met with a very serious and painful accident last Wednesday afternoon at her home near Burns when her team ran away, throwing her and her two daughters out. Mrs. Mace was crushed badly, four ribs broken, her lungs bruised and one arm broken. Dr. Griffith was called at once and gave what relief possible, but the lady is in a serious condition. Her oldest daughter sustained a sprained wrist but the younger daughter escaped unharmed. They were driving in the gate from the lane at the Mace farm when the horses started to run. Mrs. Mace is one of the highly respected pioneer women of this section and her many friends regret her unfortunate accident and hope for her speedy recovery. An Estimable Woman Dead Many friends in this city expressed deep sorrow upon receipt of a telephone message announcing the death of Mrs. Geo. Love at the P. L. S. Co. ranch in Agency Valley where she and her husband had been making their home for the past three years. The lady had been in poor health for some time but it was not thought she was in immediate danger but Dr. Harrison was called from here Tuesday morning and was accompanied over by Mrs. I. H. Holland and she passed away the following morning. The Times-Herald had no information respecting the early life of Mrs. Love who formerly lived in Jackson county. She and her husband came here several years ago and were employed for a time on the Barley Farm of Wm. Hanley, later going to take charge of the Agency Ranch of the P. L. S. Co. where they had since resided. During her residence in this community Mrs. Love endeared herself to many and her death leaves many to mourn her. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Agnes Love, who we understand is a teacher in Portland at this time. Her mother also lives in Portland and her brother is chief of the fire department of that city. James Lampshire took a casket out from here and on Thursday conveyed the body to Juntura in an auto where it was taken on the train for shipment to Portland. Mrs. Love was an honored member of clubs in this city and they remembered her by beautiful tributes of flowers which were supplied by friends in Portland on telegraphic request of the organizations in Burns.
