Advertiser Sells Cheaper.

The far sighted merchant is not so much concerned in getting big profits on individual sales as in getting a big volume of business at reasonable net profit. He realizes that if he is to reach out and get and hold business he must get the volume of business so he can sell on a smaller margin.

The larger the volume of business the more the selling cost is reduced, because every concern could do far more business than they do with the same selling force. Salesmen's salaries and other expenses do not materially increase as the sales increase. It is really astonishing to know how the selling cost diminishes as the sales increase. One business man who had watched the effect of his advertising upon his business for a number of years said his advertising increased the sales to such an extent his selling cost was reduced to one-fourth of what it was before, and after adding the cost of advertising his selling cost was still less than one-half the previous selling cost. This is the experience of every merchant who has advertised his business as it should be advertised.

The merchant who increases his sales and the volume of his business buys more goods and in bigger quantities than the smaller merchant and thus gets a bigger discount. The producer can manufacture cheaper if he manufactures in bigger quantities. He is thus enabling the manufacturer to manufacture in bigger quantities.

Now doesn't it stand to reason that the man who through judicious advertising sells more goods, buys his goods at a bigger discount, and reduces his selling cost one-half could sell cheaper than the man who never advertises. He can and he does.

Circuit Court.

An adjourned term of circuit court has been in session during the week with Judge Dalton Biggs on the bench. Dist. Atty. Brooke has been attending the grand jury sessions during the week and that body will make its final report to the court today. But one new indictment had been turned in or made of record up to this morning by the present grand jury, that of the state vs. William George, charging him with larceny. He entered a plea of not guilty and his trial was set to follow state vs. Bynard case already set for trial.

John Hoss, who was indicted before on a charge of assault and battery, plead guilty and was fined $75 and costs.

Very few cases have been disposed of finally during the week, although several have been up for consideration. The following have been settled:

LAW.

Frank Clark vs. Frank Matney—Recovery of personal property. Settled and dismissed. This is a dispute over the ownership of a horse that has been in the courts for the past three years.

Tilson Harrison vs. J. C. Clemens—Recovery of personal property. Settled and dismissed.

A. O. Faulkner vs. Emory Cole, et al—Attachment. Settled and dismissed.

C. H. Leonard vs. Geo. Marshall and C. H. Leonard vs. Carl Cox et al—Attachments. Both settled and dismissed.

J. C. Welcome Jr., vs. Tillson Harrison—Attachment. Settled and dismissed.

EQUITY.

Jay Jenkins vs. S. F. Jenkins—Injunction. Judgment and decree on supreme court mandate.

Oliver Cobb vs. Lena J. Cobb—Divorce. Decree for plaintiff.

I. L. Sleeper vs. A. F. Jackson. Dismissed on stipulation.

Nellie Shafer vs. E. A. Shafer—Divorce. Default of defendant and referred to official stenographer to take testimony.

Teachers' Institute Oct. 9.

Supt. Hamilton has announced the annual institute of the teachers of Harney county will be held in this city on Oct. 9 and 10. He has secured the services of State Supt. Churchill, Prof. Pittman of the state normal, and Miss Ruby Shearer of Portland as instructors.

The programs will be most interesting and both day and night sessions will be held. The music for the institute is being arranged by Mrs. J. L. Gault.

A general invitation is extended to the public to attend the institute.

Elliott Wedded on Stage

The Klamath Herald reports the marriage of Miss Vesta Hunsaker of that city and Edson Elliott on the stage at the Etna Mills opera house on Saturday of last week. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunsaker of Klamath Falls and has resided there nearly all her life. Mr. Elliott is a part owner of the Foster-Elliott Stock Company which was recently in Lakeview, and is well known here, having visited the town upon numerous occasions while with the Margaret Iles Dramatic Co. It is stated that the theater was crowded to its capacity on the evening of the wedding.—Lakeview Examiner.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

Unsurpassed Exhibits At The Fair Grounds

each afternoon, in which the Indians have taken a prominent part, has amused the crowd. Fortunately the weather has been fine and those who attended have not been annoyed by blustery winds or cold weather. Had there been any effort made by the business men of Burns to provide a big program of sports in time to advertise it there would have been a big crowd present. We have the material and opportunity of having just as good or better fairs in Harney county as any other section of Eastern Oregon and it could be accomplished with the proper energy and public spirit shown by the people. Next year we must prepare for the Panama-Pacific Fair at San Francisco and Harney county must be represented in a manner that will attract attention. To do this properly it will require the cooperation of every public spirited citizen in the county. Steps must be taken early to gather an exhibit from every section and at a time that the products are right for gathering. We should show every resource we have and thus it will be seen that all must work energetically.

The award of exhibits were made yesterday afternoon but we haven't space to give the awards in full in this issue. Dan Varien captured the Hill cup, making three of them he has won at county fairs for the best general exhibit; I. S. Geer was awarded second place in this respect. Mr. Geer also received the fanning mill given by the O. W. R. & N. Co. for the best exhibit of wheat. The harrow given by the same company for the best alfalfa was won by Ralph Hibbard and the plow by Dan Varien.

The amusement program of yesterday afternoon was one of the most interesting of the week, although others have been good. The Indian war dance was postponed until yesterday for the benefit of the school children, and while there were but three warriors who took part in costume, it was a real war dance; the doll buggy parade was a very attractive feature and would have had more competitors had the weather permitted. Six little girls were out with their dolls and the prizes were given Kathrine Farre, Mildred Dalton and Doris Saffle.

The relay race between high school boys and Indians was won by the high school team. This was an exciting contest at first as the Indians started off in the lead but on the back stretch of the track the school boys gained a lead that the red men could not overcome.

This afternoon does not promise good from the weather standpoint but a good program has been arranged with a horse race, a wild horse race for which they have nine wild horses and mules; three bulls to ride and a foot race or two.

This weather reminds one that winter is approaching. Mrs. C. A. Harlan and little son are in from the homestead. Al Welcome and wife expect to go over to Juntura this afternoon. Mrs. Geo. Cobb and daughter, Miss Hazel, were up from their home yesterday.

G. W. Clevenger and W. Y. King are in the mountains deer hunting this week. The Blue Mt. Eagle says the country newspaper is the greatest of all trusts. It trusts everybody.

One of those popular Indian pictures on the program at Tonawama tonight. Usual program tomorrow night. F. R. Brisley, representing the Acme paints, enamels, stains and varnishes, was here this week. He arranged with the Burns Hardware Company to handle his line.

The family of the late Harry Thompson desire to extend their sincere thanks to the many kind friends who showed their high regard and esteem of their deceased by their acts and sympathy.

See Hisner—before you place your winter order. Get prices on Groceries, Furniture, Rugs, Beds, Bedding, Linolium, Roofing Paper, etc. He buys for you at wholesale prices, adding a small charge for his commission.—Hisner Purchasing Co., Burns, Oregon.

Harry E. Thompson Passed Away Thursday

Harry E. Thompson, who had been suffering from cancer, and had undergone two operations in the hope of saving his life, died at the family home in this city early Thursday morning. His condition has been serious for several weeks and his family and friends realized the end was only a matter of a little time.

Mr. Thompson has long been identified with the business interests of Burns for many years and up to a few years ago was one of the most prominent and successful business men in this portion of the country. He was progressive and public spirited, always lending his energies and business judgment to any enterprise that would benefit the city or community. Of late years he had not engaged actively in business, having disposed of his mercantile interests, and was employed in the N. Brown & Sons store until his health failed to such extent that he was incapacitated.

Henry Edward Thompson was born at Thompson's Landing in Linn county, Oregon, Oct. 26, 1858. In his early life he came east of the Cascade mountains and engaged in business at Mitchell removing to Prineville about 1874, later coming to Drewsey where he conducted a very successful mercantile business, being associated with the late Abner Robbins. He removed to Burns in 1890 where the same firm established a general merchandise store which was later sold to J. Durkheimer. Mr. Thompson then associated himself with I. S. Geer in the hardware business, selling his interest later to C. Cummins. He then put in a line of furnishings and finally went into business with R. A. Miller that firm closing out its business after a few years.

Deceased was married to Miss Eunice E. Robertson at Drewsey on Sept. 16, 1889 and two children were born, Joseph and Leona, both of whom, with the widow, survive him and reside in this city. He is also survived by one brother, J. W. Thompson, who also resides here.

Mr. Thompson affiliated with the Masonic, Odd Fellows and Knight of Pythias fraternities and the funeral was conducted yesterday by the Masonic body from the residence, interment being made in the Masonic cemetery, the funeral being attended by a large number of friends of the family.

Although not an old man in years, Harry Thompson had been quite a useful and enterprising citizen who had the confidence of the people to such an extent that he was accorded universal respect and his business judgment was sought by many young men. The influence of his business career will be felt for many years in this community. Hundreds of our citizens extend deep sympathy to the bereaved family.
