Cheerfulness in Advertising

There is no denying the value of cheerfulness in business. The proprietor of a business always enjoys a better trade if he has a sunny disposition.

What would we think of a salesman who is dull and sullen around the store? Greeting customers with pleasant words, good jokes or stories always has its righteous reward.

A salesman with a real and natural sense of humor can approach his prospect with a naturalness and preparedness that is not only captivating and convincing, but result producing as well.

this controversy but the West should be given more voice in the matter and the states having natural resources really be considered.

These college bred hens they are making such a racket over the number of eggs laid and accounted for have an advantage over the common barn yard fowl for the reason that no one is getting a salary to count their lay.

Natural Alkali Lake Soda

F. L. Young, superintendent of the Alkali Lake soda mine was a business visitor in Lakeview the fore part of the week.

Herd of 91 Holsteins

North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 25.—A record for the United States was established at Granger yesterday when Davis & Marks at public auction sold 91 registered Holsteins for $37,000.

Tonight, if you feel dull and stupid, or bilious and constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you will feel all right tomorrow.

resulted in but a slight gain as the All-Stars put up a stiff defense. The Sophs were also desperate and sent Foley over the goal line for a touch down.

The teams now played desperately in an endeavor to break the tie. The All-Stars received the kick off but failing to make yardage, punted. N. Hotchkiss received the punt and started a return with C. Bennett running interference.

The teams were evenly matched in strength but the All-Stars slightly out weighed their opponents. The difference in size was especially noticeable in the back field, where the Soph averaged about 115 lbs. per man and the All-Stars 150 lbs.

Newspaper dispatches would indicate that Huerta is starving out in Mexico and will soon have to quit. His soldiers are wanting back pay and the rebels have been victorious in several battles, therefore the Mexican situation is rather encouraging for a speedy settlement.

P. J. Gallagher, the Juntura lawyer and newspaper man, was here this week looking after some legal business. Mr. Gallagher was boosting for his town and says he wants the Burns people to come out his way when going to outside points, promising them good treatment.

Lester Goff, a prominent stock man of northern Grant county, was found guilty of cattle stealing in the circuit court at Canyon City this week. It was a case that attracted much attention owing to the prominence of the men involved. We understand there are other such prosecutions to follow.

Harry Smith came in the first of the week with the State Veterinary and his deputy who have made an extended trip through the interior inspecting several large bands of sheep for scab. It has been reported that scab has been showing up in quite a few of the bands and the inspectors found several well defined cases. It is thought that the disease was brought in from Idaho by people selling bucks to the ranchmen. An investigation will be made.—Juntura Times.

The Thanksgiving ball given by the Mothers' Club at Tonawama last night was a decided social and financial success. There was a large crowd present and the music was exceptionally good. Several who partook of the luncheon served became sick and it is thought it was from ptomaine poisoning. The ladies do not know how to account for it unless it was the Devil's Ham in some of the sandwiches. Later—it has been definitely found that some doughnuts are responsible for the sick people.

Married—Wednesday evening Nov. 26, in this city by Justice of the Peace Patterson, Hiram C. Curry and Miss Alice Ada Clayton. The contracting parties are residents of the Andrews section of this county where they will make their home. The Times-Herald joins in extending best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.
