Advertise to Hold Business

A year or so ago National Biscuit company spent $60,000 in one year in advertising in New York City...

The object of advertising is not only to get business but to hold business.

It is folly for a merchant to have the idea that because his business is running smoothly today it will continue so without proper effort back of the business.

Nothing is so important to his business as advertising, because it supplies the information the public wants.

The merchant who is backward about telling of those things that will give the individual greater comfort will find his business going to the more successful merchant who is not backward in giving the people the information they crave.

It is likewise folly for a merchant to be peevish over competition. A merchant should get ahead and stay ahead of competition by carrying such a stock of goods, adopting such advertising methods, etc., that will place his store in the lead.

The illustration on the cover of the Pacific Northwest, Phil Bates' paper, is a picture of Farmer Smith and the Harney county exhibit of products sent to President Farrell of the O. W. R. & N. We are getting much publicity from the products sent out and it will result in much advertising of this country...

Panama Exposition in San Francisco. Products of the soil is what will bring the people we desire to us and the Fair Association should have the support of every citizen in the county to get a most creditable display.

Lake and Crook counties are already busy with the rabbit drives for the season and have had successful meetings and are organizing systematically, every school neighborhood being the headquarters for a club. At Madras the other day the newspapers report 12,000 rabbits having been exterminated in one drive. Harney county should also get into the game early as we have our share, even though rabbits are reported dying.

If your team will haul 2500 pounds in July when the roads are at their best and only 1000 pounds when the roads are muddy, how much tax are you paying for bad roads? You are paying 1500 pounds for each trip. Why is it the freight rates advance in the winter? If you live in Canyon City and have freight hauled in the summer it will cost 20 cents a hundred but if you wait until the roads get bad you may pay as high as 50 cents a hundred. This is a tax for bad roads. Would it not be better to pay a tax for good roads rather than pay for bad roads. Bad roads cost more than good roads. You object to interest on bonds with which to build good roads and yet are content to pay a higher rate of interest on bad roads. The decreased load over bad roads is the interest on the $25,000 which is spent annually to maintain the bad road. You get "double shot" with a bad road because you have to pay more to haul over it and pay more in taxes to maintain it.—Blue Mt. Eagle.

Greatest Country Out Doors

Melvin E. Ballard and Charles E. Reeves have been looking over this big Valley during the past week in company with Frank Johnson of the Oregon & Western Colonization Co., and as a result it is quite likely several townships of this fertile section will be taken over by a colony of people. These gentlemen represent a large number of Mormon families and as they are familiar with the Salt Lake Valley see wonderful possibilities here. Both are most favorably impressed with the country and will certainly make a favorable report.

They have secured data respecting the irrigation possibilities and Mr. Ballard is a very practical soil man. He is entirely satisfied with conditions and Mr. Reeves, who is an attorney connected with the work of Mr. Ballard in securing locations for families, says in his extensive travels over the West he knows of no other place where such a magnificent body of undeveloped land may be had at reasonable prices.

Always ready for job printing.

Investigating Water Rights.

L. D. Howland, representative of Water Commissioner Cochran, has returned to La Grande, having given the water users of this section the allotted period to inspect the claims filed for water on Silvies River. During the time he was here the Water Users Association had a committee consisting of Sam Mothershead, H. C. Levens, R. R. Sitz, Dan Varien and J. C. Foley to go over the claims and they are to make report at a meeting of the Association today. It is given out that some conflicting rights were found among the water users but none of a serious character that would likely lead to litigation among them.

The problem will be the claims of the large holders of land along the river and it is the opinion of many that the smaller users will have to stand together to secure an equitable distribution of the water for irrigation purposes. At best this will be a long drawn out contest and the spirit of give and take should prevail as present conditions are not satisfactory and the sooner the rights are definitely settled the sooner the development of the country and the lands served placed in a state where they will yield the best returns.

E. H. LOFFTUS.

Lots of fun at the pictures tonight and tomorrow night at Tonawama. Some fine comedies and dramas, an Indian picture and another "Days of '49," a thrilling scene of the plains where Indians attack an emigrant train.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Tonawama tomorrow night. It's a good plan to get that wood pile under cover.

O. O. Jetley and his son were in the city this week. Well, if it snows we'll have some rabbit drives and sleighing.

You'll miss some fun if you fail to see those comedy pictures at Tonawama tonight.

Skating parties are now in order, the ice being fine on the mill pond above town.

Mrs. Millar is selling her millinery at reduced prices until it is sold out. See her at once.

The local Sunday schools are making preparations to celebrate Christmas in the usual manner.

T. C. Albritton of the Albritton Townsite Co., has leased offices in The Times-Herald building.

An orchestra of four pieces will furnish the music for the big Christmas dance at Tonawama.

Those who attended the meeting of the Agricultural Club last Tuesday evening report a very enjoyable and profitable evening.

Mrs. J. L. Gault entertained a large company of lady friends at a tea Wednesday afternoon at 5. Cards were played for a period after the tea.

A. H. Kennedy, editor of the Prineville Review, died on Tuesday of last week. He was married in 1908 to Mina Wilmarth, formerly of this place, who survives him.

James Lampshire, the garage man, made a trip to Boise last week and brought in a new Stud-eaker five-passenger car as a demonstrator, he having taken the agency for that car.

R. J. McKinnon & Son have established a daily stage between Drewsey and Juntura. Connections made with the trains at Juntura and passengers given every comfort. Fare to Burns $6.

Several Glenlock people are in the city today, among them being Chas. Needham, Ross Ringer, Henry Pease, H. A. Pearce and Ray Duval. Mr. Pearce states his neighborhood is in prosperous condition and all will do considerable farming next season.

Julius Kerns, who has been confined at the Cummins hospital for some time, was agreeably surprised this week to have his daughter, who is a trained nurse, arrived from Glenwood, Wash. The young lady will remain here and nurse her father.

After all there is compensation (some times) in being lean and hundry looking. The domestic science class of the high school, having noticed the hungry and lonesome look of the manager of this great religious weekly, and also knowing that the partner of his joys and sorrows, (mostly sorrows) had been absent from home for over six months, invited him to luncheon yesterday at noon. He is glad he went and is open for another invitation at any time. The young ladies served their guests nicely and provided well for the hungry people who sat down to the table. The writer would like to give an account in detail but not being familiar with the dishes served will not attempt it. The guests were: Dr. Hibbard, Judge Miller, County Clerk Hughet and his deputy, Grover Jameson, J. M. Dalton and The Times-Herald man.

HARD WHEAT HIGHER.

It is the intention of the Burns Flour Milling Co. to pay 1 1/2 cents per lb. for good, hard milling wheat next year. It must be good and stand a test of 60 lbs. to the bushel, free from other grain seed and smut. Hard wheat will bring 15 cents per 100 more than soft wheat. The company recommends Turkey Red for fall sowing and Blue Stem, Minnesota Red and Australia White Chaff for spring sowing. SEED WHEAT FOR SALE AT MILL.
