Misses Emma Buchele and Rosa Beede came in from the Buchele homestead yesterday. The young ladies looked the typical "cow girls" when they arrived on horseback.

The Clay Clemens sawmill is now at its new location and is prepared to fill any order with rough or dressed lumber, also fir lumber; buck teeth and any special order given prompt attention. 32.

J. J. Patterson is in receipt of a letter from J. C. Turney in which he states money is rather tight, but he hopes to be in Burns between the first and tenth of next month to prepare for active work again at the oil well.

No Trespassing—All persons are forbidden trespassing upon my premises known as the Miller Springs place west of Burns. No turning in or driving of stock through the place without permission. Trespassers will be prosecuted. W. E. Huston.

D. A. Brakeman, the Waverly merchant, was in the city Thursday. He has been doing a lot of farming and has his entire homestead broken up and in crop besides some more land. Mr. Brakeman is a candidate for commissioner on the democratic ticket but his name will not appear on the ballot as he was misinformed as to the date of filing his petitions. He had understood he had until the last of this month to get them in to the county clerk but the time expired on the 15th.

Mrs. Millar has received some new millinery and more is now en route. See her at the Schwartz store.

D. R. Thorn and I. Foster were in from Silver Creek during the week, the former on business and the latter to consult his physician, his health being quite poor.

Andy L. Hunter has an ad in this issue. He is compelled to dispose of his furniture business in Bend on account of his health and is offering his entire stock at cost. His many Harney county friends may find some real bargains in that line if they need anything of that character. Read his ad.

Married—Wednesday in this city, Albert D. Cawfield and Mrs. Nellie Shafer, Justice Patterson officiating. Both are well known here and have many friends. The young people will keep house for the present in the C. A. Bedell residence. The Times-Herald joins in extending best wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

Austin Goodman is ready to grind grain and has a building in which it may be stored by farmers at any time. He will grind one day each week and farmers may store their grain any day and get it when convenient. He is prepared to take grain as pay for grinding at the market price. Special prices on large quantities. 44tf.

Died—This morning, at her home near Buchanan post office, Mrs. Raymond, aged about 38 years. Dr. Carl was called to see her the first of the week and found her suffering from tuberculosis, complicated with a near attack of pneumonia. We have no particular information but understand she is survived by her husband and three children. We also learned it is the intention to ship the body east for burial.

Felix Syr and wife and little daughter and Robert Thompson are late arrivals from Missoula, Montana and are very favorably impressed with this big country, so much so that they contemplate buying a team and making a thorough tour of the section to see if they can find lands that suit them. They want to make their homes in Harney county and we feel confident will be taking this means of really seeing the big country.

The many friends of Miss Helen FitzGerald in this section are anxious to see her win for queen of the Rose Carnival and are sending in their votes each day as they are clipped from the Portland papers. The young lady was born here and is a niece of Ed Waters. She has been making her home with her aunt in Portland, her mother, formerly Eva Waters, having died several years ago. Miss FitzGerald leads in the contest at this time by a good margin.

Mrs. G. A. Rembold, the popular and accomplished musician, has returned from Portland where she had been for the past three months and is ready to resume her work with her many piano pupils. Mrs. Rembold studied while in Portland and returns much enthused and anticipates accomplishing great things with her pupils. She being a home product, is loved by many people and her accomplishments are appreciated. She is a Boston Conservatory graduate and has always kept abreast of the times with her music, never neglecting an opportunity to improve. She is an artist in her line, in fact, and the young people who have had the privilege of her excellent instruction have been fortunate. She spent the winter in company with her friend, Miss Maude Ragon, who is also well known by the people of this city. They thoroughly enjoyed the Grand Opera season in Portland and Miss Ragon may spend the summer vacation period here with Mrs. Rembold where she is sure to receive a warm welcome.
